Vol. XLIX. WEDNESDAY MORNING, MARCH 19, 1930. C DAILY, FIVE CENTS

CENSORSHIP IS APPROVED

Curb Restored on Literature

Change Adopted, However, Permitting Appeal to Federal Courts

"Intolerance" Charge Hurled at Smoot as Debate Grows Fiery

WASHINGTON, March 18. (AP)—Provisions for censorship of imports of foreign literature were restored to the tariff bill tonight by the Senate.

The action, on which no record vote was taken, ended two days of debate fraught with vigorous and sometimes attacks upon the principle and the application of censorship.

It came on adoption of a modified amendment sponsored by Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, who was the author of a day-long debate and cries of "intolerance" and calls for protection against influences corrupting." This amendment restores that section of the bill eliminated by an amendment by Senator Cutting, Republican, of New Mexico, but with modifications suggested by Smoot in course of the debate.

TERMS OF AMENDMENT

As it now stands, the section would provide for seizure of literature held to be "obscene, immoral or otherwise." Destruction would be ordered by a jury in a Federal District Court and until appeals from that decision had been taken to the Supreme Court.

The amendment, which would provide for seizure of questionable books by customs officials, would permit the Secretary of the Treasury, in his discretion, to admit the "usual classes or books of recognized and established literary or scientific merit," but only when imported for noncommercial purposes. Under the modifications, Smoot had rejected suggestions for elimination of a proposed heavy penalty for importers of "immoral" books and a provision banning entry of books urging treason against the United States. Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa, had the treasury action restored, however, by a tie vote.

SMOOT ASSAILED

The Senate action was a victory for leaders who advocated repeated that "immoral" literature go to the courts for determination instead of being stopped at the ports. Thus the plea of Senator Cutting that he launched today a campaign of opposition of censorship.

Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, he attacked Senator Smoot for intolerance, urging that a proposal would have sent men's forefathers to prison and burned at law when the Roman Church was new.

Hoover Answers Senators' Charge of Trading in Federal Jobs

Declares Evils Eradicated, But Directs Further Investigation

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 18. (Exclusive)—Under the leadership of the President, the Republican party has "cleaned house" in those sections of the South where the barter and sale of Federal patronage formerly constituted a scandal. Charges by the Senate committee on southern patronage that the activities of certain leaders as patronage brokers were grossly reprehensible were answered today by Mr. Hoover with the statement that the conditions complained of have been eradicated.

Not content, however, the White House has directed the Department of Justice to look into several cases and to give careful consideration to the Senate committee's report as a whole. Criminal court action will be taken in any direction warranted.

This investigation, it is understood, takes in that portion of the committee's report which declares that Perry Howard, colored former Republican national committeeman in Mississippi, was guilty of "reprehensible practices" notwithstanding he was acquitted by the Mississippi courts of selling public offices.

CHARGES INVESTIGATED

The Department of Justice will also investigate charges that D. Hartman, former United States Attorney at San Antonio, and Roy Campbell, collector of customs of San Antonio, are guilty of "reprehensible practices." These charges, it is understood, have no connection with patronage but involve the prohibition laws.

Furthermore the department will take cognizance of the committee's charge that in South Carolina practically all Federal offices were for a term of years traded in by National Committeeman J. W. Talbert or his representatives. The official conduct of J. D. E. Mayer, former United States Attorney at Charleston, S. C., also will be investigated.

There will also be investigation in Georgia of charges of misuse of patronage while John W. Martin, former treasurer of the Georgia Republican Committee, was the active head of the party machine in that State. Under the present party leadership in Georgia, Republican affairs are understood to be entirely satisfactory to Washington.

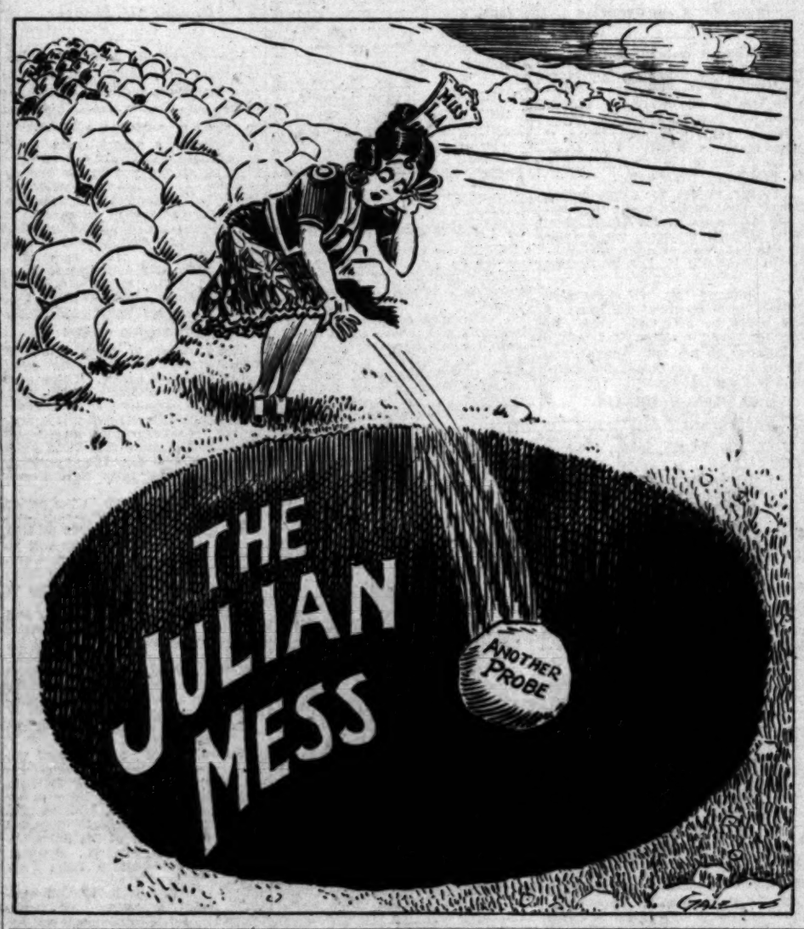
The Bottomless Pit!



MRS. HOUDINI SAYS SPIRIT TALK FUTILE

Magician's Widow States Clew Agreed on Before His Death Never Received

MIAMI (Fla.) March 18. (AP)—Mrs. Harry Houdini, widow of the internationally known magician, today said she had abandoned hope of communicating with her husband in the spirit world. She said that for three years she had sought to penetrate beyond the grave and communicate with her husband, but now had renounced faith in such a possibility.

"I hoped and prayed and worked to get a message from Houdini," she said, "and several of the great spiritualistic advocates declare I have succeeded. But it is not true. The silence is impenetrable. There is only a void.

"If I had succeeded in communicating with Houdini I would shout it from the housetops and would carry a message of hope to all burdened souls, but I have none. There is nothing there."

When Houdini died Mrs. Houdini announced that she and her husband had formed a pact by which he was to communicate with her, if possible, from the spirit world. Numerous attempts to convince Mrs. Houdini that her husband was communicating through a medium were made, she said, but she steadfastly denied that any of the mediums presented the clew by which she was to recognize a legitimate message.

PLAGIARIZED PLAY RULING OVERTURNED

Morosco and Tully Win "Bird of Paradise" Action in Appeals Court

ALBANY (N. Y.) March 18. (AP)—The Court of Appeals today decided the "Bird of Paradise" case in favor of Oliver Morosco, producer, and Richard Walton Tully, author, reversing the lower court.

The complaint of Mrs. Grace Fendler, who charged the play was a plagiarism of her work "In Hawaii," was dismissed.

The decision follows years of litigation. Mrs. Fendler two years ago was awarded $781,880 on her charge of plagiarism against Morosco and Tully in a Supreme Court decision which today was reversed.

The suit was accompanied by several other legal actions.

Last August when Tully was threatened with jail for contempt of court in failing to turn over to Mrs. Fendler all his contracts for royalties from the play, he said he had copyrighted his play in 1910 and that Mrs. Fendler did not copyright hers until 1916.

Local Company Gets Tax Rebate

WASHINGTON, March 18. (AP)—The Treasury Department today announced the refund of $30,390 to the George E. Platt Company, Los Angeles, for overassessment of income taxes for the years 1925-1927.

Drive Launched to Raise Large Education Fund

CHICAGO, March 18. (Exclusive) Representatives of nearly 300 liberal arts colleges of the country will meet tomorrow at the Stevens Hotel to discuss ways and means of raising $500,000,000 additional endowment for 500 colleges of the country. The proposed campaign was set in motion tonight at a banquet at which President Albert Norman Ward of Western Maryland College told of the needs of the smaller colleges and outlined a suggested plan for the financial drive.

Two other educators of national prominence addressed the representatives. They were Secretary of the Interior Wilbur, president of Leland Stanford University, now on leave of absence, and Lr. John H. Finley, associate editor of the New York Times and former president of Knox College.

Texas Oil Man Held in Mexico by Bandit Gang

SAN ANGELO (Tex.) March 18. (AP)—J. E. Bristow, 60 years of age, San Angelo oil operator, is being held by bandits in Mexico for $3000 ransom, according to word received here today by his family, who are trying to get in touch with the American consul at Juarez, in an effort to effect his release.

Bristow was reported held below Tepic, Nayarit, on the West Coast of Mexico.

Veterans' Ruling Sets Precedent

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 18. (Exclusive)—A World War veteran who has received a Presidential pardon from a penitentiary sentence imposed by a military court-martial is eligible for reinstatement by the Veterans' Bureau for disability compensation, under an opinion handed down today by Atty.-Gen. Mitchell in the case of Leroy Damron of Wilmar, Cal.

The opinion sets a precedent and has been closely watched by the American Legion and other veterans' organizations.

Miners Move to Oust Insurgents

INDIANAPOLIS, March 18. (AP)—Twenty-one leaders in the recent insurgent convention of miners at Springfield, Ill., were summoned to appear before the international executive board of the United Mine Workers of America next Tuesday, to show cause why they should not be expelled from the union, in letters sent tonight by Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of the union, following action of the mine workers' convention today.

Gandhi Still on Jalalpur March

BORSAD (Bombay, India) March 19. (AP)—Mahatma Gandhi and his seventy-eight devotees left here at dawn for Raas, continuing their march to Jalalpur, where the campaign of civil disobedience to the British government will be officially begun with production of salt in violation of the British monopoly.

BANDITS IN CHINA KILL THOUSANDS

Massacre Reported from Kiangsi Province With Other Outrages Forecast

SHANGHAI, March 18. (AP)—Organized bandits have massacred 2000 persons in Fuan, Kiangsi Province, said reports received here today, and other robbers are said to be planning to renew attacks upon American and other foreign shipping in the middle section of the Yangtse River.

The massacre in Kiangsi Province was reported in Chinese press dispatches to have taken place early this month. The magistrate at Kianfu, said the messages, appealed to the Nationalist government officials at Nanking to send troops against the bandits who were overrunning Kiangsi, robbing and slaying thousands.

Bandit hordes were reported also 1000 miles up the Yangtse and its tributaries threatening another attack upon foreign shipping similar to that of Friday when five American and two Chinese steamers were fired upon above Ichang while struggling in the dangerous Hsintang rapids. American, British and Japanese gunboats are patrolling this section of the river to safeguard their national shipping.

Outlaw soldiers numbering about 1500 were said to have descended upon the Hosueh Trading Post on the Yangtse above Ichang, killing many police, looting shops and kidnaping wealthy residents for ransom. Shayeng, on the Han River, was also reported to have suffered from bandit soldiers who burned the town after robbing stores and abducting merchants.

Queen Marie Abandons Trip to Holy Land

BUCHAREST (Rumania) March 18. (AP)—A telegram received today from Palestine states that Queen Marie of Rumania has abandoned her projected tour of the Holy Land on learning that the British government considers the present disturbed situation there unfavorable to such a visit.

The press department of the Foreign Ministry informed the Jewish Telegraphic Agency that the Queen still is in Cairo and that the Ministry is unaware of any intervention on the part of the Palestine authorities.

From private sources the Jewish Telegraphic Agency learned that the British Minister to Rumania has intervened, asking that the Palestine visit be given up because it might lead to demonstrations.

Mittelstaedt.

GOLD GIANT "WELDED"

Largest Bank on Earth Created

New York Institutions Form $2,800,000,000 Concern by Pair of Mergers

London Goliath of Finance Eclipsed by America's New Chase National

NEW YORK, March 18. (AP)—Creation of the world's largest bank with resources approximating $2,800,000,000, to be known as the Chase National Bank of the City of New York, was announced today.

The institution is to be formed, subject to routine approval of stockholders, through the merger of the Chase National Bank, now the third largest bank in the country, with the Equitable Trust Company, which in turn is absorbing the Interstate Trust Company.

Directors of the Chase and trustees of the Equitable approved the consolidation at meetings today and stockholders will vote on ratification at special sessions April 24.

OFFICERS CHOSEN

Albert H. Wiggin, chairman of the Chase National, will be the senior executive officer of the new bank, which gives the United States the largest financial institution in the world for the first time in history. Mr. Wiggin will be chairman of a newly created governing board, with Winthrop W. Aldrich, president of Equitable and a brother-in-law of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., as the president of the bank.

The new Chase National will be capitalized at $148,000,000 with an equal amount in surplus and a reserve of $72,000,000. Its capital assets will be increased to a total of $463,000,000 through associated securities companies. Combined deposits will total $2,073,644,656 and resources, $2,814,535,635.

This will make the new bank larger than the National City Bank of New York, which has been the nation's greatest for thirty-three years, and the Midland Bank of London, for many years regarded as the largest in the world. The Chase has been the sixth largest in the world and the third largest in the United States, and the Equitable was ranked twelfth in the world. The combined bank will have fifty-two offices in Greater New York and seven foreign offices.

STOCK INCREASE

Under the proposed plan of consolidation the capital stock of Chase will be increased from $105,000,000 to $148,000,000. The 5,250,000 shares outstanding will continue in the hands of the present shareholders. An additional 2,000,000 shares are to be allotted pro rata to the shareholders of the Equitable on the basis of four shares of Chase for five of Equitable. A total of 115,019 shares is to be prorated to stockholders of Interstate on the basis of 32-100ths of a share of Chase for each share of Interstate.

In addition to those of Mr. Wiggin and Mr. Aldrich, other important executive positions will be held by John McHugh, Charles S. McCain and Robert L. Clarkson. Mr. McCain, president of Chase, will succeed Mr. Wiggin as chairman of the board of directors. Mr. McHugh, chairman of the Chase executive committee, and Mr. Clarkson, vice-chairman of the Chase board, will continue in their respective capacities.

Dixie Drinkers Have Paralysis

RICHMOND (Ky.) March 18. (AP) Partial paralysis, believed to be of the type prevalent at a number of points in the country and to be caused by consumption of poisonous alcohol, has made its appearance at Paint Lick, this county.

Five men there are partly paralyzed as a result of drinking jamaica ginger, Dr. J. B. Floyd, city health officer, reported today, and he said he had reports of other cases. Three of the men are said to be in a serious condition.

Tests revealed wood alcohol in the men's systems, Dr. Floyd said.

Oil Trust Suit Defense Begun

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18. (Exclusive)—The Standard Oil Company of California, in an answer filed today to the government's civil suit charging nineteen western oil companies with conspiracy to violate the Antitrust Act, indicated the general defense of the group will be that they were merely trying to comply with the Federal Oil Conservation Board's suggestion that oil companies get together to curtail production and stabilize marketing.

Lord Balfour Grows Worse

WOKING (Surrey, Eng.) March 18. (AP)—A change for the worse in the condition of Lord Balfour, veteran British statesman who has been ill several weeks, was reported today.

A bulletin issued today by his physicians said: "Lord Balfour is not so well and his condition is causing anxiety."

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, March 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] America's favorite "prodigal son," "Scarface Al" Capone, has returned to us, and in his honor we killed two fatted gangsters and met him with more publicity than we did with the release of Mr. Coolidge after six years of solitary incarceration.

Capone goes free to take up his useful life's work, and on the same front page Doheny, who developed a great industry and has given high wages to thousands for years, is called a "menace to society." We who lived near neighbors to him know that if he is convicted of "staking" all old mining days friends he will serve 2000 years.

I joke about our prominent men, but at heart I believe in 'em. I do think there are times when traces of "dumbness" crop up in official life, but not crookedness.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

President Ortiz Rubio Says Lower California Will Not be Exempted

Mexican Executive in First Press Conference Since Inauguration

MEXICO CITY, March 18. (Exclusive)—President Ortiz Rubio's campaign against gambling will affect Lower California the same as it will all other parts of Mexico.

This was made known here this afternoon when Mexico's new President held his first press conference since his inauguration and subsequent injury at the hands of an assailant. The President appeared at the conference with his face heavily bandaged, but, contrary to reports, there is not the slightest impediment in his speech as the result of the assailant's bullet.

Splendid progress is being made in his crusade against all forms of gambling, President Ortiz Rubio declared. However, he admitted that the elimination, or even curtailment, of gambling in Mexico is a huge undertaking. One of the largest problems of the crusade, he said, is to find some method to successfully combat the gamblers who, forced to close their establishments in one location, quickly move to another district and reopen gaming houses.

OTHER PROBLEMS

Other questions of vital importance to Mexico were briefly discussed by President Ortiz Rubio, the principal ones including the country's international obligations, the labor law, the unemployment situation, President Hoover's proposed visit here, Mexico's desire for investments and activities of Communists.

Asked whether he supported the labor law proposed by Portes Gil which is the subject of much concern among employers and which Congress tabled at its last session, the President said he is without authority to interfere with the

LONDON FOG THICKENS

Anglo-American Discord Heard

Paper Reports Disagreement Between MacDonald and Stimson

Parity Deadlock Continues With Early End of Parley Forecast

LONDON, March 19. (AP)—(Wednesday)—The Daily Express prominently displayed on its front page this morning a story to the effect that the harmony of the five-power naval conference had been suddenly disturbed by a difference of opinion between Prime Minister MacDonald and Secretary of State Stimson over the handling of the American-Japanse negotiations recently.

The express says Mr. MacDonald had complained to Mr. Stimson that a misleading impression had been spread that Japan was ready to accept American proposals on the controversial question of Japan's demand for a 70 per cent ratio in cruisers and auxiliaries. The newspaper asserted that Mr. MacDonald also objected to Mr. Stimson's asserted implication that if the Franco-Italian parity problem were not adjusted, the United States, Great Britain and Japan might sign a three-power agreement.

Mr. MacDonald was represented as questioning Japan's readiness to accept the American proposals and as declaring that Japan's acceptance was contingent on the obtaining of a five-power agreement.

PARLEY END SEEN

Meanwhile as the endurance deadlock between France and Italy over naval parity wore on, the opinion grew in naval conference circles that neither side was prepared to yield. If the present situation lasts through Sunday, when Premier Tardieu of France will return for another conference with Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain, authoritative quarters see the end of the negotiations within two weeks.

A limited five-power treaty may be the result in that case, and within its scope will be complete agreement between the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

LEAGUE WILL CARRY ON

That this treaty would be what Mr. MacDonald has called a "good" agreement, fulfilling the expectations of those who have fully realized the difficulties of the five-power negotiations since their inception two months ago, is the belief of the responsible sources from which this information is derived.

The limited five-power treaty would include a five-year battleship holiday for all powers represented here, the humanization of submarine warfare, and agreement on important and far-reaching technical problems. The three-power concord would cover all classes of American, British and Japanese warships.

The Franco-Italian problem would be referred to the preparatory disarmament commission of the League of Nations, and as the next meeting of that body will be held early in the summer, efforts toward its solution would continue almost without interruption upon adjournment at London.

AMERICA TO WAIT

This opinion was not confirmed by the American delegation nor was it apparently shared by Secretary Stimson and his colleagues, who continued trying to find a crevice wherein an entering wedge could be inserted to break the Italian-Franco stranglehold.

The American delegation indicated that it was ready to await with patience for a compromise, and that as long as neither power breaks off negotiations abruptly there is still a chance of greater success being achieved.

The American delegates hold this view, despite an hour's conference between Secretary Stimson and Dino Grandi, chief Italian dele-

GAS SERVICE TO EXPAND

Distribution in Liquefied Form to Any Locality on Coast Possible Under New Process

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18. (Exclusive)—Through a new system of distribution of natural gas in liquefied form every community of the Pacific Coast not otherwise served with manufactured or natural gas will be offered gas service for domestic and industrial purposes. This will be done by the Natural Gas Corporation of California, Natural Gas Corporation of Oregon and Natural Gas Corporation of Washington, all three of which are subsidiaries of the Pacific Public Service Company, in turn a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company of California.

The program involves the use of a new principle in the distribution of natural gas and permits service to be given to large or small communities without the construction of costly transmission pipe lines from the oil fields, it is said. Under the new plan natural gas will be liquefied at the source and shipped in tank cars or tank trucks to the various communities. There it will be subjected to a carburetion process and delivered through an ordinary gas-distribution system in the same manner as artificial or natural gas is delivered in the larger cities at the present time.

FROM KETTLEMAN HILLS

The distribution of gas under the new plan furnishes an additional outlet for natural gas from the reservoirs of the Kettleman Hills, from which supplies of natural gas now are being drawn for the San Francisco Bay area and communities of Central California.

As a chain of local units is built up it is anticipated sufficient business may be developed to warrant, in some localities, linking them together and serving them with natural gas through pipe lines from the oil and gas fields.

PERMIT ASKED

The plan is contingent at the moment on the granting of a certificate of public convenience and necessity by the Railroad Commission to Natural Gas Corporation of California. Hearing on this application is scheduled for tomorrow.

The three companies recently were acquired by Pacific Public Service from Thebo, Starr and Anderson, engineering concern, which organized them and which will be in charge of the engineering and construction work of all of the companies. The engineering firm will retain a minority interest in all companies.

SCHOOL MUST ESTABLISH SPIRIT OF WORLD PEACE

Narrow Nationalism, Obstacle to Federation of States, Blamed on History by H. G. Wells

[This is the last of four articles presenting a plan to end all war.]

BY H. G. WELLS

(Copyright, 1930, by The North American Newspaper Alliance in the United States and Canada. Copyright by Daily Herald in Great Britain. Quotations forbidden.)

In the three preceding articles it has been maintained that the only way to secure permanent world peace is through the concentration of power in a progressive federation of the states of the world.

There is really no obstacle in the way to such a federation except nationalism, patriotism, the insistence upon national sovereignty, in all its world-wide diversities.

So the problem of getting to permanent world peace is the problem of getting past, over, through or rid of that obsession with independent nationalities. Is that a possible thing?

PATRIOTISM NOT INNATE

Is patriotism to that obstructive extent something interwoven in human nature? Is it innate? Quite obviously not. Imagine a baby born in Milan of patriotic Italian parents; suppose it is changed at birth unobtrusively, when the parents are not looking, for another baby born of equally patriotic English parents in Kent, and what will ensue? The Italian baby will grow up a passionate English patriot, the English one, a conscious and determined Italian.

This national feeling is obviously an "acquired characteristic," a matter of suggestion and tradition. It depends entirely upon the educational influence brought to bear upon the child.

The outlook of the growing human being upon the world depends upon what it is told about the world. Its political conduct and disposition will be shaped by what it is taught and what it can find out for itself about history. For history in education is essentially the explanation to us of what we are, how we came to be what we are and what is expected of us in view of these things.

TAUGHT IN SCHOOLS

Patriotism is made a little by home and social atmosphere, to some extent by books, more perhaps by newspapers, but mainly by the teaching of history in our schools. That obsession with the sovereign independence of states, which is the only real obstacle to world federation and world peace, rests upon the teaching of purely nationalist or imperialist history in schools. Until that teaching is changed the attainment of a permanent world peace is impossible.

This present teaching of the militant separation of peoples has to be replaced by the teaching of history as the common adventure of mankind. Until that begins to be done all this peace-making of which we hear so much will remain the futile balderdash it is at present.

YOUTHS' MIND POISONED

The politicians cannot go on to the reality of federation because the mass of people in the world are unprepared for it. Their minds have been poisoned in youth by patriotic history.

World federation and the teaching of world history are two correlated and inseparable things.

World history is a far more natural, attractive and interesting subject for young people than the litigious particulars of national history.

The savage and hunting stages of human evolution, the development of cultivation and nomadism, the world movements of peoples, the onset of science and invention, the discoveries and changes of the modern world, the abolition of distance and the increasing co-operation of man with man, make a subject infinitely more exciting, attractive and teachable than a rehearsal of the devastations of William the Bastard, the claims of Edward I to the crown of France, the names of the six wives of Henry VIII, a lying version of the wars of the French and English, and the dynastic consequences of the sexual life of the Stuart family. (Or, in the case of America, a list of atrocities committed by the redcoats during the War of Independence.)

STRESEMANN PRAISED

There is no real reason for the failure of the schools of the world to respond to the needs of our new age—except the patriotic insistence of the adult generation already poisoned to see the same dear, mind-crippling poison handed out to the young. The same traditionalism that makes our politicians silent about world federation keeps them from attempting this fundamentally important and urgent change in the matter of education.

The only statesman of these times who seems to have realized that a new Europe and a new world demanded new education was Stresemann. His untimely death was a stupendous loss to mankind. He was on the eve of a Kultur-Kampf in the German universities to rescue the German mind from traditional educational methods.

When the present Labor government came in I had great hopes of C. P. Trevelyan as Minister of Education. I supposed him alive to the essentials of the peace problem. The time was apt for some clear declaration of the attitude of the Labor party in this matter. The production of a memorandum and of a syllabus of instruction in human as distinguished from nationalist history would have gone round the world.

SCHOOL AGE RAISED

But in this, as in so many things, the Labor party has still to discover its attitude. Mr. Trevelyn is not the man to outrun his colleagues or startle the slumbering voter. I went to him as a matter of course to discuss what was to be done to carry on the first initiatives in this direction made by his much broader-minded predecessor, H. A. L. Fisher.

Mr. Trevelyn made it clear to me that nothing was to be done. He treated the possibility of a reorientation of teaching toward cosmopolitanism as if it were an amiable fad of mine for which he had no time.

He had, I gathered, real work to do. He was confronted by a problem of the most exacting sort. The school-leaving age which ought long ago to have been raised to 16 had been in real political fashion raised to 15. A year had been added, which was neither one thing nor the other; it was not long enough for a secondary phase and it was too much as a prolongation of the elementary phase.

But that was not worrying him at all. What was worrying him was how to find seats for the increased numbers this retention of elder children would require. All his very considerable administrative powers were concentrated on that. He was so preoccupied with seating accommodation that he seemed to have forgotten a human being has any educational needs whatever at the other end.

OLD STORY AGAIN

The little dears will sit for another year, listening to our island story, getting up all the more favorable aspects of empire history, and learning in the words of the master peacemaker of Great Britain that "the navy is us."

In France they learn that the army is us.

The Education Outlook for January contained an admirable article by Miss Helen Corke, showing how completely the excellent initiative of H. A. L. Fisher has died away. Our schools are turning out nice, combative little patriots and imperialists, who will deal in the proper spirit with all this peace talk when the time comes.

Progressive federation and a new teaching of history are the two aspects, the political and the cultural aspect, of the task before mankind if the peace of the world is to be assured. And nobody of any prominence or authority in any part of the world is doing anything whatever about it.

So praise and cheer our distinguished peacemakers as much as you like, take a hopeful view of life and curse all pessimists and alarmists, but find out the most trustworthy sort of gas mask and get some for your family before the rush begins.

HOOVER CLEANS HOUSE IN SOUTH

the long-existing practice in the South of using Federal offices as a means of personal gain. He then announced that certain patronage brokers, principally in South Carolina, Georgia and Mississippi, will no longer be recognized in the distribution of offices and he called upon the Republicans of those States to assist him in cleaning out the unscrupulous.

In order to put an end to jobbing in Federal offices, the President called upon the Southern States to set up advisory committees to co-operate with a committee appointed by him consisting of Postmaster-General Brown, Walter H. Newton, one of the President's secretaries, and James Francis Burke, counsel of the Republican National Committee.

The President's committee found it no easy task, but now Mr. Hoover feels that conditions in the South are vastly improved. In other words, while the Senate committee was developing facts of conditions in the South the President was active in eradicating these same abuses. Mr. Hoover made this clear in the following statement to the press at his usual press conference today:

HOOVER STATEMENT

"I have asked the Department of Justice to consider the report of the Senate committee on Federal patronage in the South. As a matter of fact, the report refers to incidents, men and conditions, which have already been cleaned up by the action I took on March 26, last. Under instructions to the various departments of the government, a system has been established by which these reprehensible practices have been absolutely stopped and the system of purchase and sale of appointments, so far as it existed, has ended. Officials known to have engaged in such practices have either resigned or been removed.

"The committee makes charges against two present Federal officials, but not over patronage questions. Those matters have already been under investigation for some time by the department.

"Lately charges have been brought that one member of the new advisory committee in South Carolina has accepted contributions from a person recommended for appointment. The charges were made by the old organization which was displaced. They are vigorously denied by the members of the new advisory committee. This matter has been for some weeks under investigation by the Department of Justice and the Postoffice Department and the facts will be determined and published."

NEW ATTACKS MADE

Almost coincident with the Chief Executive's comment, Senator Blease of South Carolina and Senator McKellar of Tennessee, both Democrats, again attacked appointments in the South.

Senator Pess, Republican, Ohio, replied that the President "does not approve, but condemns any sale of patronage."

Senator Blease declared in the Senate that the Republican party in South Carolina "stands for graft and corruption and dishonest government and dishonorable disposition of patronage." He said the government was "a stench in the nostrils of every decent man in the State."

Calling attention to testimony before the patronage committee involving Dist.-Atty. Hartman and Roy Campbell, Collector of Internal Revenue, both of Texas; Senator McKellar, a committee member, said both should be dismissed and that he would oppose their confirmation if they were renominated.

measure because it is in the hands of Congress and that body will act on it as it sees fit. He said "I'll do nothing to injure the interests of the workers."

INVESTMENTS URGED

The President urged investments in the country, declaring capitalists should lend their best efforts toward the rehabilitation program, and also that employers should adopt a "humanizing" policy toward labor. The program adopted, he added, will undoubtedly call for readjustments by the companies, including discharge of many workers to whom, however, the government will endeavor to furnish new positions.

The President was especially interested in the international debt situation, declaring negotiations are now under way with the international bankers' committee with reference to holding a general conference either in New York or in Mexico City at which a study of the entire financial situation of Mexico as affecting foreign creditors will be made.

REDS QUELLED

With reference to Communistic activities in Mexico the President said, "Communist leaders seem now to have realized their activities are unpatriotic and they have informed me they intend to comply in the future with the laws."

Asked about any new developments in President Hoover's contemplated visit to Mexico, Ortiz Rubio said he had personally extended an invitation to Mr. Hoover to visit Mexico and that he accepted but did not name the date.

DEBATE FIERY ON CENSORSHIP

Senators Engage in Bitter Personal Attacks

Smoot, a high official in the Mormon Church, whether any of Brigham Young's essays would be barred under the present law.

Smoot replied heatedly that if these essays came within the scope of the intent of the law they should be prohibited from entry.

Chiding Smoot for distributing many seized foreign books for Senators to peruse during the debate, Senator Cutting offered the Utahan a copy of "Pornography and Obscenity," by D. H. Lawrence, and said:

"I commend this to the Senator from Utah. It might fill some of the house he previously used in reading 'Lady Chatterly's Lover.'"

Jumping to his feet, Smoot asserted he had not spent ten minutes reading this book.

EXCHANGE HEATED

"I would not think of reading anything the Senator suggested after hearing his speech today," Smoot added.

A copy of "Lady Chatterly's Lover" at this juncture reposed in the hands of Senator Copeland, Democrat, New York, who sat near Smoot reading extracts from it.

Pointing to the book the Utahan shouted:

"No man would write a book like that unless his soul was so black it would be a shining light in hell."

Smoot told Cutting if he would read the "Bible altogether" he would not make the speech he was delivering.

"That's just the point," Cutting replied, adding that if one read it in its entirety they found nothing wrong, but if certain extracts were read some objection might be found.

Wheeler said there were certain essays of Brigham Young which might be banned as inciting to stir up rebellion, yet the country lived through them.

PLEA FOR YOUTH

"I'm not worried about the Senator from New Mexico, or the Senator from Montana reading these books," put in Smoot. "But what about the boys and girls?"

Cutting produced a number of popular magazines and asserted that he considered them "far more indecent in every way" than the books which Smoot had brought into the chamber.

Producing another book, he said it contained the "condensed indecency" of English authors and was in the Congressional Library.

"There is nothing indecent about this book except what may be indecent in the classics," he said.

Leaping to his feet, Senator Smoot asserted that "there can't be words put together more vile and rotten than are in these books."

SAVING OF SOULS

"There is no more comparison between these books and Shakespeare than there is between heaven and hell," Smoot declared.

Couzens interrupted to suggest that Smoot "explain the difference between heaven and hell."

Cutting quoted at length from an article by William Neilson, president of Smith College, which said the duty of a customs official was to "collect revenue and prevent smuggling, but not to pass on the value of Voltaire."

"The saving of a man's soul, which is presumed to be the object of a censorship," Dr. Neilson was quoted as saying, "is after all a man's own affair and is not to be achieved by external compulsion."

Cutting said that Neilson, being president of a young woman's college, naturally would be interested in guarding the morals of young womanhood.

Cutting said that censorship at ports of entry only served to increase the demand for books that have been barred.

Senator Smoot said after the vote that the amendment as adopted was "quite satisfactory" to him.

When the amendment was disposed of, not one of the more than a score of volumes brought into the chamber yesterday by Senator Smoot as exhibits of the books he termed "immoral" was to be seen on the desk where, throughout the day, they rested while not in use.

Until the end several Senators perused the books which Smoot said he had brought because he wanted the Senators to see how obscene they are.

Preceding the vote Senator Tydings of Maryland in opposing the proposal, asserted that a "race of ninnies and nincompoops" would be produced by attempting to "make men good by law."

"I don't want you to save me by legislation," he said. "If I want to read an immoral book I'll read it and I'm not afraid I'll go to hell and damnation after I have read it.

"We come to Congress now where we used to go to God," Tydings shouted. "I want to get to heaven in my own way, and I am glad to say I don't need to ask the Senate of the United States to point the way."

Tydings ridiculed the prohibition law as another method of attempting to "make men good by legislation."

"And what a mess we have made of it," he added. The practice of placing poison in alcohol he described as "governmental murder in the name of righteousness."

Senator Trammell, Democrat, Florida, championed exclusion of "seditious literature." He expressed surprise "at the suggestion that this country should become the dumping ground of the literature of Communists and others."

BLEASE BACKS SMOOT

Senator Blease made an impassioned plea for stringency. Taking from his desk one of the volumes Smoot had brought in yesterday, he said:

"I wish that every man in this chamber could read page 52 of this book. I would not want any woman to read it even if she were the lowest type this side of hades."

Senator Wheeler read a list of opinions opposing censorship, quoting from editors and educators. He turned to Senator Blease as he pointed out that one from the University of South Carolina had declared that it was the sentiment of the majority of the faculty that censorship such as proposed by Smoot was "un-American and dangerous."

"I never heard of him," Blease retorted, "but I promise that if he is a professor in the university and made any such public statement, he won't be there more than thirty days."

"You'll put him out?" inquired Wheeler.

"I sure will!" Blease explained. "I won't have him drawing South Carolina money."

gate, and a later talk between Grandi and Ambassador Morrow, neither of which was productive of any advance toward the Franco-Italian compromise.

Mussolini's young Foreign Minister has voiced only one formula throughout the whole talk—"parity with France," and when Stimson passed him on to Morrow's deft hands, Signor Grandi's black beard still bristled with confidence as he repeated the Italian position.

Likewise, France, maintains rigid opposition to granting naval equality to Italy, either theoretical or actual.

The French delegation considered the situation too delicate to discuss in the press. At the same time, Paris reports state that the French position remains at it was, with France unable to accept even apparent parity with Italy.

Thus, the situation remains in a stalemate, with as much secrecy surrounding it as had covered all conference proceedings the last few days.

Revenue Bureau Inquiry Sought

WASHINGTON, March 18. (AP)—Investigation of the Internal Revenue Bureau and its handling of income and corporation tax funds was demanded in a resolution introduced today by Representative Garner, of Texas, the Democratic leader.

The recent refund of $33,000,000 to the United States Steel Corporation had been alternately defended and assailed on the floor of the House.

Garner said later he will ask the Rules Committee to grant an immediate hearing on his measure in order to get House consideration as quickly as possible.

Chicago Waits Capone in Vain

CHICAGO, March 18. (AP)—Chicago watched apparently in vain today for the home-coming of "Scarface" Al Capone, freed after ten months in a Pennsylvania prison on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Three asserted Capone henchmen, Joe Montana, Ralph Camardo and Spino Amallo, were arrested by detectives for questioning as they left the home of the gang chief today.

DRY ENFORCING GAIN DISCLOSED

More Convictions and Pleas of Guilty Recorded

Jail Sentences and Fines Also on Increase

Justice Department Report Covers Six Months

WASHINGTON, March 18. (AP)—On the eve of the reappearance before the House Judiciary Committee of dry witnesses to oppose measures to repeal or modify the Eighteenth Amendment, a report came today from the Department of Justice showing an increase in the last six months of convictions, pleas of guilty, jail sentences and fines imposed for prohibition violations.

The department announced that between March and October of 1929, 44,769 individual cases were instituted, with 2872 convictions, 32,070 pleas of guilty, 15,337 prison and jail sentences, aggregating 8920 years, and fines totaling $5,000,803.

908 MORE CASES

The number of cases instituted was 908 more than for the same period the year before. There were 396 more convictions, nearly 7000 more pleas of guilty and an increase of about 2500 in jail and prison sentences. The aggregate length of sentence was more than 4000 years above the total for the preceding period and the fines were nearly $600,000 higher.

Another gain shown in the period was in permanent padlock injunctions, which rose from 3236 to 4762.

Four prominent witnesses will go before the House Judiciary Committee tomorrow as it resumes hearings on the measures to repeal or modify the dry laws.

With two and one-half days still allotted in which to take issue with the wets who argued for repeal for seven days, the drys made known that they have some surprise witnesses whose identity will not be made known until they take the witness stand.

However, those who will head the list tomorrow are:

Horace B. Taft, president of the Taft School for Boys at Watertown, Ct.; Josephus Daniels of Raleigh, N. C., Secretary of the Navy under President Wilson; Col. Jenkins, personal representative of Evangeline Booth, commander of the Salvation Army; and William S. Bennett, former Representative from New York.

The hearings probably will continue until the middle of April. Plans of committee members call for two days to be allowed the wets and drys for rebuttal testimony.

While plans went ahead for resumption of these hearings, Representative Dyer, Republican, Missouri, said that the remarks of Chairman W. Wickersham of the Law Enforcement Commission yesterday relative to his proposal for 2.75 per cent beer were "facetious."

Carlsbad Cavern Bill Introduced

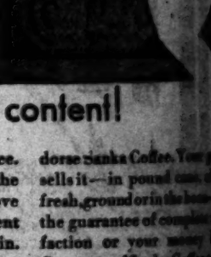
Bride Tells Her Secret



Beauty, Charm, Clear Skin—How Can They Be Won?

"FOR a young bride of twenty-one to lose her vitality and pep is disastrous, almost a sacrilege," says Mrs. George E. Pillow, of Franklin, Va. "That, however," she continues, "is just what I did."

"I had only been married a few months to an athletic husband, who went everywhere and did everything. I tried to keep up with his pace, and simply collapsed under the strain. I never was really ill; just sallow-skinned, depressed, and lifeless. Swimming, dancing, golf, I just couldn't face them. When I began to lose my clear complexion, I was desperate.

"Then one day a girl friend came to pay me a visit. In the bottom of her little bag of clothes lay a crystal-clear bottle—Nujol! A short woman-to-woman talk—a telephone call to a neighboring drug store—and my future happiness was settled.

"That was a year ago. Now I too am never without Nujol, which has brightened and cleansed my body like a cake of pure soap. I eat, sleep, swim, and hike with the enthusiasm of a child. My complexion is all it used to be—and best of all—I am my husband's little pal again."

The wonderful thing about crystal-clear Nujol is that it is not a medicine; it contains no drugs—it cannot hurt even a baby. It is simply the normal internal lubrication which your body needs. Let Nujol do the poisons out of your body that have them), and flood the system of happiness into your life.

It sounds like a fairy tale, but millions of people have proved it can you. Get Nujol at any drug—sold only in sealed packages the Nujol trademark. It costs few cents and is well worth like a million dollars!

DOHENY FIRM IN DENIAL OF HAVING BRIBED FALL

Oil Magnate Weeps Giving Testimony But Shows Spirit During Quiz; Government Scores Point

WASHINGTON, March 18. (AP)—Through two hours of sharp cross-examination Edward L. Doheny maintained today that the $100,000 he advanced Albert B. Fall in 1921 was a loan and not a bribe to the Cabinet officer to induce him to award Doheny's company a lease to the Elks Hills naval oil reserve.

The 72-year-old oil man opened the way, however, for the government to get before the jury the statement that civil courts returned the leases to the government on the ground of fraud and that he himself refused to testify in those suits on the ground that to do so might incriminate him. This is the first time the government has succeeded in getting this evidence introduced in any criminal trial growing out of the oil leases.

WEEPS OVER SON

Doheny wept when he testified concerning his son, who was killed by his secretary a year ago. He showed spirit, however, during the cross-examination.

He evaded the question of his refusal to testify in the civil trial which resulted in the Elk Hills lease being returned to the government until Justice Hitz instructed him to answer.

Finally Owen J. Roberts, special government prosecutor, read to the jury a statement that Doheny had read to the court in the civil trial, which wound up with the assertion that he declined to testify on the ground that anything he might say might tend to incriminate him in the subsequent criminal trial.

Roberts endeavored to show that Doheny and Fall had conspired prior to November 30, 1921, to get possession of the naval oil reserve. During this questioning Doheny told of Fall sending him security for the $100,000 Doheny had advanced him.

RECEIVED IN 1924

He received this security in 1924, he said, at a time when the first criminal indictments against him and Fall had been quashed. He said Fall could do this at that time without being charged with trying to cover up something because nothing concerning the cases was pending in court.

"You knew the civil suits were pending, didn't you?" Roberts asked.

"Yes," replied Doheny.

"And you knew the leases were returned to the government?" asked the prosecutor, to which Doheny replied he knew the court's decision.

The prosecutor then asked him if he did not know that the court had returned the leases to the government, holding that the leases were tainted with "fraud and corruption."

Counsel for the defense objected to the question and court recessed. After lunch, the court sustained the objection and Roberts withdrew the question.

At the finish of Doheny's direct examination, he told his familiar story that he had his company bid on the contract to construct naval oil tanks at Pearl Harbor only after Rear-Admiral J. K. Robison had painted a distressing picture of the danger confronting the Pacific Coast from a foreign navy.

It was during this testimony that Doheny wept when asked about his son. He was permitted to step out of the courtroom for a few minutes and had regained his composure when he returned.

During the day a number of prominent Californians again testified Doheny has a reputation for high honor and integrity in his home State.

BLEDSOE PRAISES HIM

Benjamin F. Bledsoe of Los Angeles, former Federal judge for the Southern District of California, said "no man in California has a finer reputation" than Doheny and he said the oil man's patriotism is a "source of inspiration to his community."

Thomas A. Donnell of Los Angeles, a former president of the California Petroleum Company, a competitor of Doheny's Pan American company, also said that the oil man is known for his integrity, honesty and outstanding patriotism.

W. W. Orcutt, Los Angeles, vice-president of the Union Oil Company of California, another Pan American competitor, said Doheny's reputation for honor, honesty and integrity "is very good" and also that his reputation for patriotism "is very good."

John R. Quinn, Los Angeles, former national commander of the American Legion, testified that Doheny's reputation for honor and integrity is high and an "outstanding example" of what he considers a "true westerner."

CHILDREN OF DUNEDIN CHEER ADMIRAL BYRD

(Copyright, 1930, by The Los Angeles Times, New York Times Company and St. Louis Post Dispatch. All rights for publication reserved throughout the world.)

DUNEDIN (N. Z.) March 18. (Exclusive)—An impressive scene was presented in the City Hall of Dunedin today when 7000 school children gave a magnificent welcome to Rear-Admiral Richard E. Byrd. The gathering was arranged by Mayor Black.

Thunderous applause and vociferous cheering greeted the admiral when he appeared on the platform with his dog, Igloo, who greatly amused the children as with complete self-possession he surveyed the great audience and barked his acknowledgement of the children's cheers.

Admiral Byrd spoke for half an hour, describing the airplanes used in his polar exploration, contrasting the outstanding characteristics of the Arctic and Antarctic regions and briefly outlining his exploration work.

The admiral voiced the greetings of the United States and stressed the good will existing there toward the dominion. When Mayor Black asked Admiral Byrd to convey the New Zealand children's cordial greetings to the children in American schools the audience signified their approval by tumultuous applause and cheering.

Complete broadcasting plans enabled about 400,000 school children throughout the country to listen to the admiral's talk.

PEIPING SEIZED BY YEN'S GROUP

Former Capital of China in Hands of Northerners

Nanking Offices Taken Over by Local Officials

Breach Widened by "Model Governor's" Action

PEIPING (China) March 18. (AP)—All Nanking government offices and administrative bureaus in Peiping, former capital of China, were taken over today by the local authorities who said they were acting under orders of Yen Hsi-Shan, so-called "model Governor" of Shansi Province. The action implied a definite widening of the breach between the administration of President Chiang Kai-Shek at Nanking, in Central and South China, and the Shansi Kuominchun generals, headed by Yen. The northern group is now in complete control of the situation here.

The capture of Peiping—then called Peking—in June, 1928, marked one of the high spots in the Nationalist movement which had its origin in Canton, and in a few years had swept from one end of China to the other.

CHANG KILLED

Chiang Kai-Shek, now head of the Nationalist government, at that time had the co-operation of Feng Yu-Hsiang and Yen Hsi-Shan and it was really the army of these two latter leaders that captured Peiping and took control of it. Chang Tso-Lin, one-time northern dictator who had his capital there, fled to Manchuria and met his death as he was entering Mukden. His train was blown up by a bomb, and he was fatally injured.

The Nationalists changed the name of Peking to Peiping, meaning northern peace, and immediately moved the capital to Nanking. The foreign countries, however, still retained their legations and embassies here where they still are.

AIDES WITHDRAW

Factional quarrels within the ranks of the Nationalists soon developed and Feng Yu-Hsiang and Yen Hsi-Shan both gave up Nationalist government posts and retired to their own strongholds after denouncing Chiang Kai-Shek.

Only yesterday Chiang Kai-Shek said that Yen and Feng are preparing to launch a joint drive against the government along the Peiping-Hankow and Tien-tsin-Pukow railways.

DR. WILBUR RECIPIENT OF DEGREE

LL.D. Honor Conferred on Secretary of Interior By University of Chicago

CHICAGO, March 18. (AP)—Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior and president of Stanford University, today was awarded the honorary doctor of laws degree by the University of Chicago.

In conferring the degree on Dr Wilbur, President Robert M. Hutchins said it was "in recognition of a record of distinguished accomplishment, first as a skillful physician and organizer of medical education, then as the efficient and progressive executive of a great university, and finally as a disinterested and courageous servant of the national government."

Former Mexican Envoy Arrested as Gun Smuggler

NEW YORK, March 18. (AP)—Ignacio Moran, former Mexican Ambassador to Germany, for some time a political refugee from his native land, was arrested here today and held in $2500 bail by a United States commissioner for a hearing in removal proceedings to Arizona, where he is wanted for conspiracy to export arms and ammunition to Mexican rebels under Gen. Jose Escobar.

Moran's asserted attempt to get an airplane loaded with guns and ammunition across the border from Phoenix, Ariz., was described as a violation of the Presidential edict of 1924 prohibiting the furnishing of implements of warfare to contending factions of the Mexican republic. Asserted fellow-conspirators named in the indictment against Moran in Phoenix were Gen. Escobar, Phillip M. Mohun, Gen. Marcelo Caraveo and Capt. R. H. Polk.

MEXICAN QUOTA BILL ATTACKED

Two Minority Reports Filed Against Measure

Free and Vincent Cite Peril of Insulting Neighbor

Strict Enforcing of Existing Laws Advocated

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 18. (Exclusive)—Two minority reports from the House Immigration Committee were filed today on the Johnson bill providing for imposition of immigration quotas on Mexico and the other countries of the Western Hemisphere. One was signed by Representative Free of California and Vincent of Michigan, Republicans. The other was submitted by Representative Dickstein of New York, a Democrat.

Both reports point out that the proposed restriction legislation is aimed almost solely at Mexico, that it carries the danger of insulting that sensitive nation and destroying the commercial and diplomatic good will which the United States has been so carefully cultivating the last few years, and that the State Department has amply proven it can hold Mexican entries down to any desired degree by inoffensive administrative action tightening up on existing visa requirements.

UP TO RULES COMMITTEE

The majority report on the Johnson bill, sponsored by the chairman of the Immigration Committee, Representative Johnson of Washington, was filed several days ago and is now before the House Rules Committee with a request that the proposed legislation be given right of way on the floor. Indications are the rules group will take no action.

The report by Free and Vincent attacks the Johnson bill on many counts. "The quotas set forth," it says, "are entirely arbitrary and without any scientific background whatever. It should be considered whether it is worth while to incur the commercial and diplomatic disfavor of all of the countries of the Western Hemisphere by the passage of this bill."

Free and Vincent then go on to show by government figures that immigration from Canada, Central and South America and the Philippines constitutes no problem at all and say "we must, therefore, conclude that the only immigration problem in the Western Hemisphere, if there is one, is with Mexico."

INQUIRY PROPOSED

The report calls attention to the fact that the Southwest, if deprived of essential Mexican labor, would have to turn to the Philippines, and that immigration from the islands already has become a serious problem. It urges that a commission be appointed to study the entire problem and points out that a bill already has been introduced at the instance of the Federal Farm Board calling for such an investigation.

"We believe we have no pressing immigration problem in the Western Hemisphere," the report continues, "and that the strict enforcement of present laws will take care of the situation without passing any legislation which will interfere with our diplomatic and commercial relations with countries which are, at the present time, friendly to us.

"The mere passage of a law will never control immigration. Laws must be enforced. What the Congress should do is to provide funds properly to enforce the laws which we have in force today. Our border patrol should be strengthened to the extent that surreptitious entry into the United States is impossible and sufficient to enforce thoroughly all our present laws. If this is done, we feel there is no occasion at this time for passage of the proposed bill."

DICKSTEIN'S STAND SIMILAR

Representative Dickstein took much the same attitude with regard to Mexico, stating that in his opinion the reason Mexican immigration has been large in past years is because inspectors on the southern border failed to give rigid force to the illiteracy provisions of the Immigration Act of 1927.

Citing the testimony of a number of witnesses that the agricultural interests of California and the Southwest are dependent upon Mexicans for the work in the desert which Americans will not perform Representative Dickstein continues:

"We do not believe it would be the right policy to do anything to destroy an important American industry simply because it becomes necessary for it to employ Mexican labor.

"All these considerations," Dickstein declares, "move us to oppose this attempt at the creation of quotas of Mexican immigration. If the literacy test is enforced the number of Mexicans entering this country will be almost as small as the committee has proposed under quotas. If we establish no Mexican quota we have the good will of Mexico, while if we insist on placing Mexican quotas we will have added Mexico to the number of those countries which resent our attitude in connection with this quota law."

BUILDING TRADES FAVOR RESTRICTION

SACRAMENTO, March 18. (Exclusive)—Resolutions memorializing State and Federal officials to take steps to restrict Mexican immigration into the United States and into California particularly, and urging the deportation of alien criminals who are ineligible to citizenship, were adopted unanimously at today's session of the State Building Trades Council in convention here.

The resolutions declare an investigation of the records of the State prison shows that a large proportion of the prisoners are alien Mexicans, ineligible to citizenship. The executive officers of the council were instructed to confer with State and Federal officials "for the purpose of trying to bring about an arrangement whereby a more rigid immigration border patrol will be maintained."

Too Much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

UNEMPLOYMENT HEARING BEGINS

Senate Committee Considers Wagner Bill Proposal

Measure Would Create Huge Construction Fund

Conditions in Chicago and New York Described

WASHINGTON, March 18. (AP)—Unemployment conditions were pictured to the Senate Commerce Committee today as it began hearings on labor legislation.

Senator Wagner, Democrat, of New York, author of the employment measures, opened the hearings by describing conditions in New York and throughout the country as most serious "in spite of what you may hear to the contrary."

Dr. B. M. Squires, director of Illinois State unemployment agencies and a professor at the University of Chicago, asserted conditions in Chicago during the last two months had been the "most acute in ten years."

Organizers of an "unemployment conference" here, led by J. Eads Howe, so-called millionaire hobo, and a committee of nine, appeared at the committee room at the start of the hearing to demand an opportunity to testify. The Senate committee decided to keep to its regular program of witnesses and suggested that the men present their story in writing.

PURPOSE OF HEARING

A group of unemployed negroes waited outside the Capitol Building as the committee of nine circulated in the building and appeared at the committee room. The representative of the "unemployment conference" later interviewed individual Senators, seeking a special hearing on Thursday, but the committee adjourned until Friday, when it will hear other witnesses previously summoned.

Chairman Johnson of the Senate Commerce Committee later said its chief interest is to determine whether the Wagner bills could afford measurable relief.

"These bills deal with a long-time program for employment, mainly," he continued. "Incidental to that discussion is the evidence of the unemployment they are designed to alleviate.

"We do not propose a lengthy investigation on that subject and certainly not one which will duplicate the work done by the Cousens committee two years ago and concerning which a very excellent report was sent by that committee."

FUND PROPOSED

The bills of Senator Wagner would establish a Federal employment stabilization board with a $150,000,000 fund to expand public construction in periods of depression and would set up Federal employment agencies in co-operation with the States.

There was much discussion before the committee today in regard to the business conferences sponsored by President Hoover last fall after the stock-market crash. Squires said the administration's program resulting from those conferences had the "weakness of being in the nature of a longer-time program than industries could put into effect immediately."

"Much distress and unemployment in the past three months would have been avoided," he said, "if there had been available immediately a fund for construction."

Senator Wagner agreed that the business conferences had served to prevent "mass hysteria," but he argued that the time is at hand to talk and act with "absolute frankness."

On Friday, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and some New York State authorities will be heard.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC STARTS DRIVE ON UNEMPLOYMENT

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18. (Exclusive)—With a view of providing permanent employment for the greatest number of its temporary employees, the Southern Pacific Company today announced the inauguration of an employment clearinghouse through which all departments of the company will co-operate in a campaign against unemployment.

Under the plan, President Shoup said, employees temporarily laid off in one occupation will have a greater opportunity of getting employment in another department. Where travel is necessary to continue an employee on the pay roll, the railroad company will provide free transportation.

Attack on Auto Speed Record Delayed by Don

DAYTONA BEACH (Fla.) March 18. (AP)—A broken gasoline line today caused Kaye Don, British contender for the world's automobile speed record, to postpone his test trials until tomorrow, after he had made two runs over the ocean speedway course at an average speed of 168 miles an hour.

Don said repairs on his Silver Bullet racer will be made tonight and he will resume test trials at low tide late tomorrow, beach and weather conditions permitting.

Between Don's two runs today, C. L. Cummins of Columbus, Ind., established the first world's speed record for an automobile powered with a Diesel engine. He made three runs over the course, his two fastest trips averaging 79.902 miles an hour.

Ruth Taylor, Actress, Weds

NEW YORK, March 18. (Exclusive) Ruth Taylor, motion-picture actress, and Paul S. Zuckerman, stock broker of this city, were carried Monday evening, it was learned today. Mayor Walker performed the ceremony, which took place at the home of Billy Seeman and his wife, the former Phyllis Haver, screen star. Miss Taylor, who began her career as a Mark Sennett bathing girl, rose to stardom last year when she was picked from among hundreds of applicants to play the role of Lorelei Lee in "Gentlemen Prefer Blonds."

Simmon's Metal Bed, Nationally Advertised at $37.50

Now—Simmons Beautyrest Mattress and Ace Box Spring at Barker Bros.

Two great names join forces in one department—Simmons and Barkerest. Names synonymous with quality in sleeping equipment are both featured at Barker Bros. now! For many years past both Barker Bros. and Simmons have been making the best in sleeping units—have been following the most advanced scientific trends. Through superiority their products have won national recognition.

Believing the addition of Simmons' products to their already famous Barkerest division would result in a selection of the finest sleeping equipment available, they take pleasurable pride in announcing Beautyrest mattresses and Ace box springs at Barker Bros. Now—an exceptional opportunity for selection that we believe cannot be rivaled by any store in the United States.

Simmons Beautyrest Mattress and Ace Box Spring

Beautyrest innerspring mattress and Ace Box spring is a combination designed to give luxurious comfort, and built to give unfaltering service. The mattress is made of hundreds of tiny coils assembled by hand—specially blended felt cushioning top and bottom—and is covered in a superior quality of damask ticking. The "Ace" box spring is hand-tied and hand-assembled.

Innerspring mattress...$39.50
Ace Box Spring.....$42.50

Barkerest Double Deck Box Spring

The double deck box spring originated by Barker Bros. brings a new idea to the Sleeping Equipment field—the idea of combining the hand-made box spring and innerspring mattress under one cover.

This principle retains the acknowledged superiority features of both and allows the addition of a very fine mattress for luxurious softness and comfort. In buying this mattress (as in all Barkerest products) an unusual service is available! Whether your weight is 100 or 200 pounds it will be custom-tailored to suit your individual need and weight without additional cost to you.

Barker Bros.' middling cotton puff for use with this double deck box spring is guaranteed never to become hard or lumpy and is priced at $24.50 to $35.

Points to Consider in Box Springs and Mattresses

Raw Materials Assembling Exterior of Product

In adding Simmons' products to their Sleeping Equipment Division Barker Bros. checked the above points carefully—for instance: in assembling the innerspring mattress.

As the automatic coiling machine turns out the coils and cuts them off to the proper length, the springs are compressed to remove any possibility of settling and becoming uneven. The springs are then encased in long strips of muslin automatically closed on the open edge and pocketed by seams between each spring. This process pulls the springs from a 7-inch height to one of 4 inches, putting each under tension and giving it additional snap and life.

This long strip of springs is then cut in lengths of approximately 6 feet and assembled horizontally on a vertical rack placing one strip on the other until the proper width is reached. The strips are then anchored by hand-tying each row together at every third spring for twin or full-size mattresses. The unit is now ready for the mattress and in placing same in the cover it is fastened both top and bottom to the outside boxing, thus making it an integral part of the finished mattress and preventing the edges from crushing down.

ALAMEDA GRAFT BOLT HITS AGAIN

Public Health Commissioner Resigns from Office

Justifies Act of Taking Fees from Contractors

Grand Jury Reported Ready to Vote Charges

OAKLAND, March 18. (Exclusive) Alameda county's graft investigation brought the resignation of another public official today. C. C. Young, commissioner of public health and safety, named in testimony to the grand jury as being in league with the so-called paving trust, submitted his resignation, to take effect immediately. It was accepted as quickly as tendered.

Young's withdrawal from office followed by twenty-four hours the resignation of E. K. Sturgis as Commissioner of Revenue and Finance.

In each case it was reliably reported the resignations anticipated voting of accusations by the grand jury similar to that which resulted in the ousting of Sheriff Becker.

Young, in a statement, argued he did no wrong in taking fees from street-paving contractors. His resignation, he said, was prompted by lack of funds to fight the case through the courts.

FLAGSTAFF MAN DIES

FLAGSTAFF (Ariz.) March 18. (AP)—M. H. Sorrell, 60 years of age, of Williams, died at the County Hospital here today.

PAY FIGHT SETTLED BY GOV. TAPIA

Mexican Unions Consent to Wage Scale for Workers in Cotton Region

MEXICALI, March 18. (Exclusive)—As the result of negotiations which have been going on for several weeks, it was announced from the office of Gov. Tapia today that the controversy involving the wage scale for workers in the cotton fields of Mexican Imperial Valley has been ended and that the planting, of a large acreage during the coming season is assured. Gov. Tapia acted as mediator in the wage controversy and it was largely through his efforts that the demands of local labor unions were reduced to the point where they were acceptable to ranchers in the district.

The general scale to prevail during the season is 3.20 pesos a day for field labor. Specialized work will take a higher wage. Ranch owners declined to begin this season's planting until the rate of pay had been definitely settled.

Total ginnings for the Lower California district during the past season amounted to 73,618 bales. As a result of the low market price of cotton some of the less-productive land will not be cultivated this season, according to ranchers.

ARIZONA WOMAN DIES

DUNCAN (Ariz.) March 18. (AP) Mrs. Jane M. Watters, 71 years of age, wife of J. L. T. Watters, postmaster of Duncan, died today at a Lordsburg (N. M.) hospital, a victim of pneumonia.

BRITISH AERIAL POLICIES TOLD

Budget Below Other Powers, Official Declares

Increased Figure Called Essential to Safety

Sky Armament Competition Will be Avoided

LONDON, March 18. (AP)—F. Montague, Parliamentary Undersecretary of State for the Air Ministry, introducing the air estimates in the House of Commons declared today the nature of the British air policy is entirely unprovocative.

He asserted that if consideration is given to the air strength and air expenditure of France, Italy and the United States, the fact will emerge that the British air force is substantially exceeded in terms of first line strength by the other powers.

The air increase of $890,000 over last year, he said, is essential for safety, efficiency, the growing needs of civil aviation and an additional outlay for scientific research.

The estimates showed an actual reduction in gross figures compared with those of five years ago, he added, and are in striking contrast with the air expenditures of other powers for the same period—and this despite the fact that British overseas requirements for garrison purposes in the Middle East are much greater than those of other countries.

He declared the British government did not propose to deviate from its policy not to be drawn into air armament competition.

DEAD DICTATOR ON NATIVE SOIL

Primo De Rivera Returns to Spain as Corpse

Crowds Gather at Stations as Train Goes By

Priests in Car Say Prayers for Soul's Repose

MADRID, March 18. (AP) — From the town of Irun on the Franco-Spanish frontier to the capital of Spain crowds gathered today at railroad stations along the route taken by the funeral train bearing home the body of Gen. Miguel Primo de Rivera. A state funeral will be conducted in the city where he ruled as a dictator for more than six years.

In the little station at Irun the body was transferred from the special funeral car attached to the French "sud-express" to a wide-gauge coach on the Spanish connecting train.

At some of the larger stations along the route it stopped for brief formalities and the rendering of homage to the former Spanish dictator. At others prayers were offered up by priests as it slowed down and rumbled through the crowds, only to pick up speed again without stopping.

The funeral car was converted into a chapel lighted by flickering candles about the flag-draped coffin. Members of the dead statesman's Cabinet took turns in keeping watch, while priests continually murmured prayers for the repose of his soul.

HINDENBURG ASKS HELP FOR FARMER

German President Urges Industry to Aid After Signing Polish Pact

BERLIN, March 18. (AP)—President Von Hindenburg again departed from his traditional reserve in matters of politics by signing the hotly contested German-Polish liquidation agreement.

Realizing that Germany's eastern provinces are fighting for their very lives and that they stand or fall by agricultural relief, he proposed in a message to Chancellor Mueller, accompanying his signature, that industry should turn over part of its reserve for farm relief, thereby establishing a certain equilibrium between industry and agriculture.

After emphasizing that the primary purpose of the Polish liquidation agreement is to safeguard the Germans across the eastern border (who are Polish subjects,) he said that it is equally essential that their suffering compatriots in Eastern Germany likewise be guaranteed their existence.

Hence, in return for his signature, which he said he affixed despite serious misgivings, he demanded of the government concrete aid for Germany's eastern provinces.

PUBLISHER'S RITES TODAY

TURLOCK, March 18. (AP)—Funeral services will be conducted here tomorrow for Horace Lewis Miller, 38 years of age, publisher of the Hilmar Enterprise, who died yesterday.

NEW DEFENSE LAW ADOPTED

Reichstag Votes Republic Protection Act

Ex-Kaiser Not Barred Under Substitute Measure

Victory of Bill Brings Boos from Communists

BERLIN, March 18. (AP)—The Reichstag today adopted the new law for the protection of the republic by a vote of 265 to 150.

The law supersedes the old defense law which went out of operation on July 22, 1929.

Under the old law the former Kaiser was specifically forbidden to re-enter Germany. The new law does not contain this provision and while under it the Kaiser theoretically would be free to return, nobody, not even the Monarchists, considers even the possibility of his return.

OFFENSES LISTED

Among the offenses which the law would make punishable by imprisonment and in certain cases exile and loss of civil rights, are:

First, adherence to groups which purpose assassination of political enemies; second, commission of attack upon a person because of political activities; third, rewarding or favoring the executioner of such attacks; fourth membership in or support of any secret organization inimical to the state or whose purpose is undermining of the republic; fifth, slandering or defaming of the President, members of the Reichstag and state governments; sixth, inciting to acts of terror against political personages or tolerating or praising of such acts.

BOOED BY REDS

Organizations which run counter to this law are subject to dissolution and confiscation of funds. Newspapers violating its provisions would be subject to suppression for from four weeks to six months on the authority of the Chief Executive of the state.

The government parties voted solidly for the measure, the passage of which was greeted with boos from the Communists.

The Nationalists and Communists in a last effort to obstruct the bill introduced a motion to postpone its promulgation, but this was voted down, 255 to 120.

Morrow's Aide in Conference on Border Water

MEXICO CITY, March 18 (Exclusive)—J. Ruben Clerk, personal counsel of Ambassador Morrow and unofficial adviser of the United States Embassy, returned from a two weeks' trip to El Paso, where he went in an official capacity in connection with the work of the international boundary and water commission, which is endeavoring to find a solution of both the division of the waters of the Colorado and an equitable allocation to the United States and Mexico of what are known as "bancos," or strips of land that the frequent changes in the course of the Rio Grande have left in doubt as to whether they belong to Mexico or the United States.

Clark declined to comment on his trip, limiting himself to the statement that he had enjoyed the journey.

Two Killed as Boiler Explodes Wrecking Train

SPRINGFIELD (Tenn.) March 18. (AP)—Two trainmen were killed and another was injured probably fatally today in the wreck near here of a freight train of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, bound from Nashville to Evansville, Ind.

H. L. Russell, fireman, and Aaron Moss, brakeman, both of Evansville, were killed, and Joe Crandall, engineer, also of Evansville, was probably fatally burned.

R. H. Dowden, ticket agent at Springfield, said the boiler of the locomotive exploded and the men were "blown 100 feet in the air." Eighteen cars were derailed.

Naval Pilot Rule Changes Asked

WASHINGTON, March 18. (AP)—Asserting the requirement that at least 30 per cent of naval air pilots should be enlisted men is too large, Acting Secretary Jahncke of the Navy today asked Congress to pass legislation to do away with the provision.

Jahncke wrote the requirement was based on limited experience and said present conditions indicate the number of enlisted pilots as compared to officers who are pilots should be approximately 21 per cent.

He advocated flexibility to allow the proportion to be fixed as conditions warrant.

Taxi Driver's Slayer Taken

TUCSON (Ariz.) March 18. (AP)—Police announced today that Herbert Young, 28 years of age, a chauffeur of Miami, Ariz., has confessed he stabbed John E. Dye, 22, Tucson taxicab driver, to death last night.

When arrested this morning Young had Dye's pocketbook, containing $73.50, in his possession, and his clothes were stained with blood, police said.

Dye, who leaves his widow and 8-months-old son, was found lying in a road on the outskirts of Tucson. Before he died he named Young as his assailant.

YOUNG TO ADDRESS CLUBS

SACRAMENTO, March 18. (AP)—Gov. Young is to speak on "State Finances" as the guest of honor at a luncheon held by the United Service Clubs in San Jose tomorrow. He announced today he will go to San Jose tomorrow morning, returning to the capital late in the afternoon.

Gentlemen:
Previous to the purchasing of a Marquette car, I drove a Buick for a little over five years and when I was in the market for a new car this Spring, I heard of the new Buick product and waited to inspect same on the first day they were on display. Immediately the car took my eye and I knew that anything that the Buick people put out would have to stand up.
I have driven it about six thousand miles since June. I made several trips to Atlantic City and can readily say that I am getting splendid mileage and I believe it is one of the easiest-riding cars that I have ever driven.
For the money that is put into it, I do not believe that a person can purchase a better-looking job than this car. Its performance on a hill is wonderful and the getaway in traffic surpasses anything that I have seen yet.
I can recommend this car to anyone.
Very truly yours,
Benj. F. Ware*

ARMY OFFICER PLACED IN JAIL

Maj. Shepard Questioned on Death of Wife

Texas Stenographer Tells of His Proposal

Victim in Poison Inquiry Married Him Here

DENVER, March 18. (AP)—Stripped of his army uniform, Maj. Charles A. Shepard, 39 years of age, of Fitzsimons General Hospital, Den- ver, was held incommunicado today in the County Jail while govern- ment authorities conducted a wide- spread investigation of the death last June of his 37-year-old wife at Fort Riley, Kan.

Maj. Shepard, formerly head of a California sanatorium and a World War veteran, is accused of killing his wife by administering poison, government officials said. Miss Grace Brandon, stenographer at Brooks Field, Texas, was said by local authorities to have divulged that Maj. Shepard proposed mar- riage to her prior to the death of his wife. She was questioned today at approximately the same time Maj. Shepard was quizzed here.

UNWILLING RECIPIENT

United States Marshal Callen said Miss Brandon will not be ar- rested in connection with the case as authorities are satisfied she had nothing to do with the death of Mrs. Shepard. She was described by local authorities as the unwilling recipient of the medical officer's at- tentions. She is said to have told authorities that Maj. Shepard at- tempted to get a promise from her that she would marry him if he obtained a divorce.

Miss Brandon met Maj. Shepard when he went to Brooks Field in 1928 to take a course in aviation surgery. He stayed there four months and during this time Mrs. Shepard remained at Fort Riley, where her husband was assigned.

In May, 1929, following his return from San Antonio, Maj. Shepard's wife became ill. Her husband is said to have given her medical treatment.

When death occurred in June an autopsy was performed and the vital organs sent to the Army Medical School in Washington.

Results of the examination, re- ports show, were "suspicious" but inconclusive. The government, through the Department of Justice, started an investigation. It con- tinued for nine months, during which time Department of Justice investigators interviewed army of- ficers in Nicaragua, the Philippines and various parts of the United States, who had served with Maj. Shepard at Fort Riley but who were transferred.

CHARGES DENIED

Maj. Shepard emphatically denied the government's charges here. He was held in jail after he failed to raise $25,000 bond set at the request of U. S. Dist.-Atty. Brew- ster of Topeka, Kan.

Fellow-officers at Fitzsimmons General Hospital, where Maj. Shep- ard was transferred following his wife's death, described him as a studious, dignified man, and the an- nouncement of his arrest caused considerable surprise. They said they will aid him in his attempt to raise his bond.

Mrs. Shepard's maiden name was Zenana McCosky. They were mar- ried in Los Angeles in 1917. Both had been married before. Maj. Shepard's first wife died. Mrs. Shepard was divorced from her first husband in 1918.

Elephant Films Shot by Wales

A week of drying weather has been of benefit to all highways in South Dakota, the State Highway Commission reported in its weekly road survey. Practically all gravel roads now are in good condition.

TOMATO TARIFF PROTESTED

Stands in Way of Mexico-United States Accord, Says Nogales Mayor

BY HARRY CARR
"Times" Staff Representative

NOGALES, March 18. (Exclusive)—The lowly tomato stands in the way of a complete accord between the United States and Mexico, ac- cording to Senor A. C. Villasenor, the Mayor of Mexican Nogales.

"The Mexican people were pleased and proud when President Hoover showed such marked distinction to our country's President, Ortiz Rubio. We were touched and moved beyond my power to tell you.

"We were much impressed and moved when this project came up to help us make a great highway along the west coast. It seemed to us that this was a forerunner to a new era of warm friendship.

TARIFF ON TOMATOES

"Then came this proposed tariff on tomatoes, which was like a slap in the face. To the average citizen of the United States it means less than nothing. He hasn't even heard about it. To us on the west coast of Mex- ico it means disaster and ruin. It is as though the Congress of the United States had opened an artery to let us bleed to death.

"The life of the west coast de- pends upon the early vegetable crop. Approximately 100,000 peons earn their living from these crops. The industrial awakening of this part of Mexico has come through the development of the markets.

"The proposed new tariff law will multiply the present tariff on to- matoes 600 per cent. The tariff on fresh peas is to be raised 100 per cent. It goes without saying that we cannot pay any such tax and live. It will starve our laborers, wreck our industrial life and with it our banks and stores. Incidentally, it will bring hardship to America as the border towns will feel the effect of our misfortune.

NOT COMPETITORS

"We of Mexico thoroughly realize that the dawn of a new day has come and that the future of the world lies in the hands of the coun- tries of the Western Hemisphere. We have the warmest feeling toward the United States, which we respect and admire.

"It hurts us not only in our pocketbooks, but also in our hearts that this blow should fall from the direction we expected it least.

"It seems the more unjust to us for the reason that in strangling our tomato industry the United States will not help its own people. We can well understand that the United States has industries that must be protected from competition, but this is not one of them.

"Our tomatoes and early vege- tables have grown, been picked, shipped and eaten before there are any other tomatoes on the market to sell. In other words, we are not selling at a time when any farmers in the United States have similar products to sell."

POPE WILL SAY MASS FOR REDS

Prayer for Persecutors of Religion Due Today

Priceless St. Peter's Relics Will be Displayed

Similar Services to be Held Throughout World

VATICAN CITY, March 18. (AP)—Pope Pius XI will descend tomor- row morning into St. Peter's Basi- lica and there at the altar just above the crypt of the first apostle will say a mass of "expiation, propi- tiation and reparation" for all of- fenses against religion committed by rulers of soviet Russia.

Similar masses will be said in most Catholic centers over the world.

The St. Peter's mass will pro- ceed as planned despite announce- ments that soviet officials have ordered their followers to show less zeal in antireligious activities. A semiofficial communique issued this afternoon hinted that little faith in soviet promises is held in Vatican City and that even if persecution is modified now what has occurred in the past is reason for tomorrow's ceremony.

To lend emphasis to the protest, the priceless relics of St. Peter's—a portion of the true Cross; St. Ve- onica's veil, reputed to be the one with which Christ wiped his face as he was on the way to Calvary, and the Centurion's Lance which pierced His side will be displayed.

Ordinarily these relics would not be shown before the evening of Holy Thursday, April 17, next.

Tomorrow is St. Joseph's Day. It is consecrated to the memory of Christ's foster father and is a pub- lic holiday.

The Diplomatic Corps accredited to the Holy See, comprising the representatives of thirty-three na- tions will attend in a body. All the cardinals of Curia—those re- siding permanently in Rome—will be present, the new Papal Secretary of State, Cardinal Eugenio Pacelli, having the post of honor. All oth- er activities of the church will be represented.

HOUSE MEMBER ATTACKS SNELL

"Gag Rule" Charge Made by Howard of Nebraska

WASHINGTON, March 18. (AP)—Relentless of the days when echoes of "Cannonism" filled the house chamber, the question of "gag rule" was raised today by Repre- sentative Howard, Democrat, Ne- braska.

The 70-year-old member directed his attack principally at Chairman Snell of the Rules Committee, which decides upon the priority for legislation in the House. The Ne- braskan said that tariff amend- ments, all legislation and numerous other legislative proposals had been "killed to death" by this commit- tee. Snell declined to comment.

DOOMED DOG CHEATS DEATH

Tim, Condemned for Killing Sheep, Escapes from Barred Cell in Santa Rosa Pound

SANTA ROSA, March 18. (AP)—Doomed to be shot today as a killer of sheep, Tim, 1-year-old Santa Rosa police dog, cheated death by a sensational escape from his barred cell in the city pound. Slipping away from the chain which held him in the death cell, Tim dashed through the pound, leaped a fence and vanished.

Tim was not alone in the escape. When the poundmaster arrived at the pound and found him missing his investigation disclosed two boards had been torn away to permit Tim to dash from the death cell.

Tim, owned by George Webber, was found guilty in Justice Court several weeks ago on a charge of killing several sheep on the Meacham ranch. The owner asserted the evidence was circumstantial and attempted to attack the State law requiring that sheep-killing dogs be executed after being proven guilty in a Justice Court.

The legal phase of the fight was unsuccessful, but friends of dogdom by the hundred rallied to the defense of Tim, suggesting that he be permitted to live in a locality far removed from sheep. Pleas failed, and today Tim was to be killed with a bullet.

PSYCHICS LOSE CONAN DOYLE

Author Flays Researchers in Letter Resigning

(Copyright, 1930, by the Chicago Tribune.)

LONDON, March 18. (Exclusive) Sir Arthur Conan Doyle today resigned from the Society of Psychical Research after thirty-six years' active membership, as a result of a sharp clash in the views of himself and his fellow-members.

Describing the society's works as "evil influence and antispiritualist," and declaring that it had not done "constructive work of any importance for more than a generation," Sir Arthur in a letter to Sir Lawrence Jones, chairman of the society's council, urged other members to follow his course.

FLYER LANDS FLAMING SHIP

Rockwell Field Pilot Shows Rare Skill in Crisis

Trouble Developed Too Low for Parachute Jump

Was in Squadron Escorting Army Air Corps Chief

SAN DIEGO, March 18. (AP)—Landing a flaming plane near Sorrento, Lieut. W. C. Morse, local Army pilot, narrowly escaped death, according to a report this afternoon at Rockwell Field.

Lieut. Morse, flying one of the new pursuit ships, was one of an escort of eighteen planes, which just left before noon to accompany Maj.-Gen. James E. Fechet into Rockwell Field from Santa Monica. When the escort landed there were only seventeen planes. As a search was being organized, a telephone message from Morse at Sorrento reported his safe landing.

The plane, according to Rockwell Field, developed motor trouble, and Morse left the formation, the plane catching fire at the same time. He was too low to make use of his parachute, and was faced with the dangerous alternative of remaining in the blazing plane. He stuck with the machine and handled it so skillfully that when he struck the ground he was able to leap out before the fire engulfed him.

The plane was a "complete washout," it was reported from the field.

FECHET WILL DISCUSS SACRAMENTO MANEUVERS

SAN DIEGO, March 18.—To inspect Rockwell Field and to confer with local army air officials concerning maneuvers to be held over the Sacramento Valley next month by 150 army planes, Maj.-Gen. James F. Fechet, chief of the Army Air Service, arrived at Rockwell Field today, according to report at the army air base headquarters here. Gen. Fechet came from Los Angeles in a plane piloted by Capt. Ira C. Eaker and was escorted to San Diego from Oceanside by a squadron of eighteen local pursuit planes.

Sheepherder to Face Murder Charge Today

VENTURA, March 18.—Milton W. Prentice, 18-year-old San Nicholas Island sheepherder, arrested February 26, last, in connection with the fatal shooting of Steve Semerenko on the fishing smack Taiyo, anchored off the island, is to appear before Judge M. Dimmick tomorrow for preliminary examination on a charge of first-degree murder.

The complaint against Prentice was signed by John Semerenko of Lancaster, brother of the murdered man. Semerenko was killed by shots fired from the island, according to testimony by Tom Lobospoff, captain of the vessel. John Heise of Lancaster, owner of the boat, who was wounded and is recovering at a hospital at Avalon, Catalina Island, corroborated Lobospoff's statements regarding the shooting.

When arrested by a party under Sheriff Robert E. Clark, Prentice admitted firing several shots at the boat on the day of the fatal wounding of Semerenko.

Steel Company Auditor Dies

PASADENA, March 18.—Funeral arrangements for James John Campbell, general auditor of the Carnegie Steel Company of Pittsburgh, who died here last night following a heart attack, are being held in abeyance pending arrival of a son and daughter from the East.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell had been staying at a Hotel Maryland bungalow, where the steel company official was recuperating from a serious illness. Announcement of services and place of burial will be made by the Reynolds & Eberle mortuary.

REDLANDS PHONE HEARING RESUMED

REDLANDS, March 18.—Hearing on the application of this city for reduced telephone rates was resumed before Thomas S. Louttit, president of the State Railroad Commission, today with Barry Dibble, consulting engineer for the city, being questioned. The hearing started this afternoon and most of the time was consumed in questioning Dibble regarding the figures he presented in the application for reduced rates.

MANY YEARS TOGETHER NOTED

Two Couples Wedded Sixty-five Years

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel H. Fleming
Alhambrans, whose birthdays and sixty-fifth wedding anniversary all fell within the current month.

ALHAMBRA, March 18.—This is an eventful month in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel H. Fleming of 619 West Commonwealth avenue. March includes the birthdays of both as well as their wedding anniversary. Yesterday was the ninetieth birthday of Mr. Fleming, a veteran of the Civil War. Saturday Mrs. Fleming celebrated her eighty-fifth birthday. On the 26th inst. the couple will observe their sixty-fifth wedding anniversary.

The double birthday occasion was celebrated this week-end by an open-house reception at the Fleming home on Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Saturday the rooms were decorated in the Easter motif in honor of Mrs. Fleming's birthday and on Monday her husband's birthday brought forth St. Patrick's Day decorations. Mrs. Fleming herself baked the cakes for the two birthdays.

Mrs. Fleming was born in Drakeville, Iowa, while Mr. Fleming's birthplace was Sullivan, Ill. He served in the Civil War three years as a lieutenant, and was promoted to captaincy just before being mustered out. They spent most of their married life in the Middle West, coming to California in 1919. They moved to this city from Fresno eight years ago.

They are the parents of twelve children, of whom six sons and four daughters are living. Both Mr. and Mrs. Fleming are in splendid health for persons of their advanced years.

LONG BEACH COUPLE ALSO AT SIXTY-FIFTH MILESTONE

LONG BEACH, March 18.—Celebrating their sixty-fifth marriage anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. High of 268 Miramar avenue, received the congratulations of friends today. They were married at Waterloo, Iowa, March 18, 1865. The husband is 88 years of age and the wife 80. They hope to live to celebrate their seventy-fifth anniversary.

Enjoying life to the utmost, the elderly couple have varied property interests and manage to motor to the Midwest every summer. Seven children, twenty-four grandchildren and twenty-four great-grandchildren sent congratulations today. Mr. High said he never smoked nor drank liquor.

SANTA FE'S PLANS TOLD BY STOREY

Bad Pasadena Condition Will be Corrected When City is Prepared

PASADENA, March 18.—Plans for local improvements, including the relocation of tracks and separations of several grades, probably will be announced within thirty days, according to W. B. Storey, president of the Santa Fe system, and J. K. Etter, general manager.

"We realize that there is a bad situation in Pasadena with eighty grade crossings and many hazards," Storey said. "We are anxious to clear this up and have made plans accordingly, but we cannot make any announcement until the city is ready, and I understand Pasadena is not in a position to discuss the matter at this time."

Both Storey and Etter asserted that the Santa Fe has been purchasing property for rights of way in this city, but that this does not mean the railroad is planning to relocate its line.

One improvement that will be carried out within the next eighteen months, declared the Santa Fe president, will be the double tracking of the line between San Bernardino and Rio Grande, on the Mohave Desert.

Storms Delay Subs' Arrival

SAN DIEGO, March 18.—Stormy weather at sea has delayed the arrival here of fourteen submarines and two surface craft from the Hawaiian Islands. The vessels, which were due today, are not expected until tomorrow afternoon or Thursday morning, according to report today at Eleventh Naval District headquarters. The visiting vessels include fourteen R-type submarines, the submarine tender Seagull and the submarine rescue ship Widgeon.

S-type submarines of Divisions Eleven and Nineteen, based here, which have been at Monterey for several days, engaged in operations, departed for this city yesterday, further reports stated. Accompanied by the submarine rescue vessel Ortolan, they are due here about 10 a.m. tomorrow.

New Takers of Census Chosen

SANTA PAULA, March 18.—Word was received here today from Lieut.-Col. B. C. Keene, director of census for San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara and Ventura counties, that appointments of census enumerators for Fillmore and Santa Paula have been made.

Mrs. Bertha Call, Miss Ada B. Cummings and Mrs. W. E. Harrison will handle the census taking for the Santa Paula city district. J. F. Shuck will have charge of Santa Paula township outside of Santa Paula limits. Rev. Paul Leavens will have from Santa Paula district to Ventura district.

At Fillmore Mrs. E. C. Lawton and Mrs. Florence Casner will have charge in the city, while Mrs. T. Campbell will have the township.

JOHNSON QUITS COUNCIL CONTEST

HUNTINGTON PARK, March 18. Roy B. Johnson, civil engineer, who was selected as a candidate by the Huntington Park Co-operative League to make the race for City Council, announced yesterday that he has withdrawn his name as his business will not permit him to devote any of his time as a city official. Howard Williams has been named to take his place on the ticket. The other two candidates sponsored by the league are Richard Schultz and U. S. Grant-Hinton.

VENTURA FIRES ALIEN WORKERS

Eleven Employees of City Summarily Discharged

Old State Law Invoked as Basis for Action

Some of Men Dropped Had Served for Years

VENTURA, March 18.—Eleven laborers employed in the city engineering department, nearly half the force, were summarily discharged yesterday because they are not United States citizens. Four of them have worked for the city twelve years or more and none less than two years. Practically all are married, support children, pay taxes and own real property here.

City Engineer Donald McMillan executed the dismissal order yesterday upon receipt of word from City Attorney Walter Fourt that it is against the State law to employ aliens on public works.

HAD NO OPTION

"I hate to discharge men that have served the city long and faithfully and whose only fault is that they are not citizens, but I have no alternative under the State law," McMillan said today. Citizens of Ventura were hired today to replace the discharged aliens.

Fourt brought the State edict before the City Council last night. His report was placed on file after a lengthy discussion in which Councilmen deplored the law.

Councilman Harold E. Albo expressed himself as "not being able to see how anyone could be so small" as to pass a law which worked such a hardship on old and faithful employees.

NO HELP APPARENT

Councilman Leonard R. Barr asserted that he would "be willing to take a chance to keep the men on."

Councilman L. A. Durfee declared that he could not see where it helped the employment situation here, as it fired one group of men to hire another.

When Fourt pointed out that the law had been on the statute books fifteen years, Durfee said that since it had been a "dead letter" so long he doubted the advisability of resurrecting it.

In event the law was violated, any citizen could secure a writ of mandate forcing compliance and could stop payment of wages by the City Treasurer, Fourt asserted.

Postmaster at Compton Quits

COMPTON, March 18.—C. E. (Ed) Wood, postmaster here three years, today announced that his resignation had been forwarded to Washington. He said it would take effect just as soon as accepted by department authorities. Wood is retiring to take over a private business in Rivera.

Anouncement of the resignation is expected to precipitate a scramble here for the vacant position. Wood won out over several competitors three years ago. Compton is in the district served by Congressman Evans of Glendale.

Named acting Postmaster in June, 1927, Wood received his permanent commission from President Coolidge on December 17, 1927. His term would not have expired until the same date in 1931.

Bandits Tie Drug Clerk

GLENDALE, March 18.—While two bandits robbed the cash registers in the E. H. Gramm Pharmacy at 1200 South Glendale avenue, last night, F. C. Armour, 320 North Central avenue, an employee of the store, was forced to lie bound and gagged on the floor of the back room until after the robbers had taken their departure with $100 in cash. One of the bandits drove Armour into the room behind the prescription screen at the point of a gun.

Driver Faces Double Charge

GLENDALE, March 18.—John Carson, 1715 West Glenoaks Boulevard, driver of the car in which his wife, Mrs. Dolly Carson, and V. M. Green, 915-B East Garfield street, were killed when the machine was wrecked on Canada Boulevard, on the 2nd inst., was today held for the Superior Court by Police Judge F. H. Lowe. Carson was charged with manslaughter and was held in $5000 bail in each case, a total of $10,000.

WITNESS CLARIFIES OLD MURDER

Placentia Man Says He Saw Stabbing in Brawl, Accuses Aged Mexican

ANAHEIM, March 18.—Harassed by an asserted mental picture of a knife being thrust into the abdomen of a man during a brawl at Yorba, six miles east of here, Ellworth R. (Pete) Fuller of Placentia last night told local police that he witnessed the fatal stabbing of Eduardo Ruiz, 38 years of age, more than a year and a half ago.

Fuller accused Enriquez McGee, 72-year-old Mexican, of stabbing Ruiz, who died three days later. He refused to give the police any details of the affair.

Following the stabbing, Fuller declared he hid the knife, later bringing it out to show a friend. The latter is said to have led the police to the cache.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Leo J. Friis, in charge of the investigation, today announced that he will file a murder charge against McGee.

Work on New Reservoir Will Begin April 1

MOORPARK, March 18.—Construction of a 250,000-gallon reservoir for the County Water Works District here will begin about April 1, it is announced by L. C. Elver, superintendent of this area. The site is on the mesa north of town, virtually straight up the hill from the corner of Everett and Magnolia streets, and is a gift from G. B. Graham. The matter of elevation was an important factor in choosing the site because it is forty-eight feet higher than the pre-reservoir in Walnut Canyon. Pressure in the town water mains will be increased twenty-five pounds. Money for the construction of the reservoir has been raised by a special tax.

According to plans, water will continue to go into the old reservoir and from there flow by gravity to the foot of the new site. Here a booster pump will hoist the water into the new reservoir at the higher level.

Three Want Council Post

SAN BERNARDINO, March 18.—Three candidates will make the race for the vacant seat on the City Council here caused by the death of S. L. Combs of the Fiftieth Ward, it was determined today, the last day on which to file nominating petitions.

Harry G. Lord, Clem R. Korte and B. C. Huntley, the latter a Santa Fe Railway employee, were the three to file petitions in the office of City Clerk John H. Osborn. There were six reported candidates in the field for the place, which pays $25 a month, but three dropped out. Combs died two weeks ago. The election will be held on April 4.

Wild Plunge Injures Couple

UPLAND, March 18.—Unable to halt his coupe at the intersection of Mountain avenue and Foothill Boulevard last night Foster M. Taylor, driver, was helpless when he saw the car head for a guard rail on the southwest side of the boulevard, into which it crashed, and sent him and Miss Betty Willoughby to San Antonio Community Hospital.

Miss Willoughby was the more seriously injured. Her left leg was broken, her head and body cut and bruised. The car crashed through the guard rail into an orange grove.

DRIFFILL SELECTED FOR JUSTICE'S SEAT

OXNARD, March 18.—E. Gerrie Drimill, member of the local City Council, was today appointed justice of the peace of Oxnard township by the Ventura County Supervisors to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge C. J. Elliott, who died several days ago after having filled the position nineteen years. The present appointment of Drimill will hold until the first Monday of January, 1931. The position is open for election in August, at which time Drimill may elect to run for election.

MISS PLATT APPOINTED

HUNTINGTON PARK, March 18. Miss Agnes R. Platt of this city has been appointed a deputy in the office of City Clerk William P. Mahood, succeeding Robert B. Williams, who resigned ten days ago to become campaign manager for the Citizens' League.

SINGER PLEADS FOR OFFSPRING

Mme. Schumann-Heink Asks Court for Leniency

Son Given Six-Months Term on Grand Theft Charge

Probation Sought So He May Take Lucrative Post

SAN DIEGO, March 18.—Superior Judge Charles C. Haines today sentenced Henry Schumann-Heink, 43 years of age, former head of a brokerage house which failed in 1927, to serve six months in the County Jail or at the county road camp in Borego Valley, as part of a two-year probationary period for grand theft of approximately $3000.

HENRY SCHUMANN-HEINK

Schumann-Heink was twice convicted of having misused funds of the brokerage house. After the first conviction at the hands of a jury in former Superior Judge Shelley J. Higgins's court, he gained a retrial order from the higher courts. Recently he was tried again before Judge Haines, and adjudged guilty. He at once moved for new trial and at the same time applied for probation. Whether the defendant must serve the jail term will be determined by Judge Haines tomorrow morning, according to announcement by the court at the time of sentence.

OFFERS TO PAY BACK

Schumann-Heink, addressing the court after sentence, pleaded that he would repay the amount and also losses of his firm's clients, estimated to aggregate $21,000, if he were allowed to accept employment that had been offered him.

"I'm not pleading because I am a coward, afraid of prison bars. If I go to the road camp, I shall strive to make good there. If I go to more profitable employment, I shall try to make good at that, not only because I want to make a living, but chiefly because I want to make good with people who entrusted their funds in my keeping," he declared to the court before breaking into tears as his wife grasped him and helped him to a seat.

Following several individuals who expressed faith in Schumann-Heink's ability to carry out his promise, his mother, Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink, the singer, asked that he be given an opportunity to accept gainful employment that he might recoup the losses his firm's failure had caused. She concluded her plea by raising her right hand and saying: "I vouch for my son."

HAS $15,000 OFFER

One of the witnesses called was a publisher's representative, who said a position as manager of the San Francisco office was available for Schumann-Heink at a salary of $15,000.

Schumann-Heink and his mother were not alone in pleading with Judge Haines for modification of the probationary terms. Thomas Wheland, appearing as a "friend of the court," said he represented an elderly woman who had invested $4500 in the defunct brokerage firm and that every minute Schumann-Heink delayed in getting gainful employment, the elderly client would suffer.

Curtis Hillyer, Schumann-Heink's attorney, suggested that the probationary term in jail be eliminated and that instead the full term of probation be extended to five years with provision that his client be required to repay all losses in that term.

Fitts to Make One-Day Tour of Orange County

SANTA ANA, March 18.—Buron Fitts, District-Attorney of Los Angeles county and candidate for Governor, will make an informal tour of Orange county Thursday, it was learned today. Fitts will be in this city at 10:30 a.m. At noon he will be a guest of the Rotary Club at Orange. He is scheduled to be in Anaheim at 2:30 p.m. and in Fullerton at 3:30 p.m. His tour will be concluded with a dinner at Ketner's Cafe, here, at 6:30 p.m.

FITTS DECLARES STATE HEADED FOR BANKRUPTCY

GLENDALE, March 18.—Predicting that the rising cost of government would send California close to the verge of bankruptcy in the next four years unless it is drastically checked, Buron Fitts, Los Angeles county District Attorney last night urged the reduction in the present number of offices as a means of effecting economy in the State administration. Fitts was speaking at the monthly banquet of the First Methodist Church Brotherhood and was introduced by State Senator Frank C. Weller.

As proof of his statement that savings could be effected in the operation of the State government, Fitts asserted that his own office returned to the county approximately $125,000 of last year's appropriation, although more work is being done in his office today than ever before.

COUNCILMAN PICKS OWN SUCCESSOR

SANTA ANA, March 18.—Two weeks delay by the City Council in finding a suitable man to fill the vacancy in its membership created by the resignation of Homer Chaney, assistant trust officer in the First National Bank, today came to an end with the selection by Chaney of Bert O. Sutton, laundry manager, to fill his place, and the confirmation by the Council of Chaney's choice for his successor.

NEW HOTEL TO RISE AT POINT LOMA

Modern Tourist Hostelry Project Expected to Cost Million and a Half

SAN DIEGO, March 18.—Plans for a tourist hotel to be erected at Sunset Cliffs, Point Loma, at a cost of $1,500,000 are being prepared in Los Angeles, according to announcement by William H. Kraemer, architect in charge. Construction will begin within thirty to forty days, according to Kraemer.

The building will be of Class A reinforced concrete, nine stories high, and will contain a basement and sub-basement to accommodate 300 automobiles. The ground plans call for a structure 260 by 200 feet, with 375 rooms. Specifications include reinforced concrete frame and concrete walls, plastered exterior, bath for each room, dining-room, dance hall, theater, bowling alley, billiard room, large lobby, concrete, tile and pine floors, carpets on all floors, steam heating system, electric refrigeration, ventilation system, ornamental iron fire escapes, incinerator, landscaping and other features.

Leon Reich, 434 North Coronado avenue, Los Angeles, is promoting the hotel. Hart Brothers Construction Company, 3923 West Sixth street, Los Angeles, are the contractors who are taking sub-bids.

Four in Race for Supervisor

NEWPORT BEACH, March 18.—Four candidates have tossed their hats into the ring for Supervisor from the Fifth District of Orange county. George Jeffrey of Irvine, incumbent, is out for re-election, and three others, who have definitely announced their candidacies are Eugene Fenelon, building inspector of this city; Stuart H. Lucas of Corona Del Mar, president of the Water Users' Association in the $16,500,000 water bond battle last summer, and J. W. Sauers of Tustin.

Others mentioned as candidates are Donald J. Dodge, Costa Mesa; D. C. G. Huston, Costa Mesa, and Lew H. Wallace, local banker.

ORANGE ASKS NEW SANTA FE DEPOT

ORANGE, March 18.—Directors of the local Chamber of Commerce have joined in the effort of the citizens of the community to obtain a new railroad station, replacing the forty-four-year-old one used here by the Santa Fe company. The directors took cognizance of the fact that local passenger traffic over the Santa Fe is negligible. Nevertheless, the income from freight shipments is said to be large. This income will be materially increased by the merger of the Red Fox Orchards and McPherson Packinghouse, now combined under the Consolidated Orange Growers. The directors requested President H. D. Nichols to set forth in a letter the need of a new station to the proper railroad authorities.

KERSEY WILL SPEAK AT OXNARD FRIDAY

OXNARD, March 18.—Vierling Kersey, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, will arrive here on Friday to attend a meeting of the Ventura County Chamber of Commerce, where he will be the speaker of the evening. A. L. Drown of Ojai, president of the county chamber, will preside. W. D. Bannister, principal of the local high school, is program chairman for the evening and in the absence of W. W. Bristol, secretary of the county chamber, who is now in Honolulu, Webster W. Bernhardt, postmaster of Ventura, will act as secretary. About 125 members are expected to attend.

ROSCOE ORGANIZES NEW KIWANIS CLUB

ROSCOE, March 18.—A new Kiwanis Club is being formed here with about thirty-five business men as charter members. One of the first acts of the club, it is stated, will be to celebrate the change of name of this town to Boeing, in honor of the Boeing Airport near by. The change of name takes effect on April 1.

SCOUT GIVEN BADGE

SANTA PAULA, March 18.—Bradford Tozier today was presented with the Eagle Scout badge by J. R. Ramsey, chairman of the Court of Honor, in recognition of the work done in this district. Tozier is one of the 3.4 per cent of the membership of the Boy Scout organization in the world that are Eagle Scouts.

Proposed Mountain Highway Disputed

Coachella Valley and Palm Springs Groups Clash

Pinyon Flats and Palm Canyon Routes Under Fire

RIVERSIDE, March 18.—[illegible] of a six months' survey of [illegible] possible routes for the [illegible] desert highway down the [illegible] of the San Jacinto Mountains were submitted to the Board of Supervisors today by County Surveyor Fulmer as contending factions [illegible] day filled with developments in the fight between Coachella Valley and Palm Springs interests in behalf of the Pinyon Flats and Palm Canyon routes, respectively.

A delegation of Coachella Valley residents, bearing [illegible] resolutions to add to the [illegible] which they swamped the [illegible] several months ago, appeared [illegible] ing to know if the board had "changed its attitude" and [illegible] aspersions at "Riverside newspapers" and "press agents" [illegible] ing public the news of the [illegible] "feeler" to Los Angeles [illegible] garding a joint highway [illegible] for building of a Palm Canyon [illegible] at a great saving to this [illegible]

BOARD REFUSES VOTE

Asked for a vote of the [illegible] fore the engineer's report [illegible] filed, the Supervisors [illegible] commit their standpoint on [illegible] information was before them. Supervisors said the matter [illegible] ably will come up for a [illegible] April 7, next, and [illegible] tify the Coachella Valley [illegible] if that were the case.

A motion by Supervisor [illegible] whose district embraces [illegible] chella Valley, to "build the [illegible] Flats route while we're [illegible] said from the State" drew [illegible] from the valley delegation [illegible] failed to gain the necessary [illegible] port from the board.

Chairman Jameson declared his personal opinion is that [illegible] county will be "further clear" [illegible] obtaining State aid under the [illegible] highway district with Los [illegible] for construction of the Pinyon route and to build a much [illegible] less expensive road down the [illegible] Indian Canyon route, as the [illegible] Flats way is known.

COST ESTIMATES GIVEN

HIGHWAY LINK BIDS DUE

State Proposes New Two-Mile Link in High-Gear Route Through Waterman Canyon

SAN BERNARDINO, March 18.—Bids for the construction of a two-mile link of a high-gear road through Waterman Canyon, extending from a point east of Camp Waterman to the lower extremity of the new State highway in the San Bernardino Mountain area, will be opened in Sacramento tomorrow, it was announced by E. Q. Sullivan, district engineer for the State Highway Department.

The road, a link in the high-gear road which will eventually extend from San Bernardino to Big Bear, will eliminate the lower section of the old switchbacks and the steeper grades in Upper Waterman Canyon. The entire project is scheduled to cost about $550,000 and is planned to be the State's model mountain highway. The new addition, according to Sullivan, will swing north and east away from the present roadway below Camp Waterman, doubling back to join the present completed part of the crest highway.

The new road will eliminate the hazardous and troublesome curves and grades on the present route between the pass and a point below known as the State watering trough. A wide circle on an easy grade will be directed east of the old route. Work on the new highway link will start about the middle of April, Sullivan believes.

At present the State is building a connecting link in the highway between Squirrel Inn and Running Spring Park at a cost of $189,000. A county project for construction of a connecting road from the State road to Crest Line is also under way in the mountains.

MONKEY FINDS GAY LIFE SOUR

After Night Out With Rowdy Boys He Welcomes Chance to Regain Cage Sanctuary and Now Tears Are Dried by Woman Who Let Him Go

SANTA BARBARA, March 18.—For a wild monkey, it's fine to be free and go swinging by the tail through the jungle, but to Jack, who was raised at the Feather Hill Ranch zoo and lately had been living in a cage in Mrs. F. Moraga's back yard at 318 Chapala street, freedom was rather appalling.

Jack had been getting naughtier and naughtier, according to Mrs. Moraga, so she gave him away last night to a couple of boys who were amused by him and sat down to cry at the loss of her pet. Jack apparently had other ideas. When she looked out of her back window early this morning there was Jack on a shed, shivering with fear at a group of white-aproned grocery men and their baskets.

Jack doesn't understand so much about English. He is still behind the boxes in his cage and infrequently as he peers upon the strange world his appealing eyes seem to explain that he is glad he is in his cage again, safe from the noise, confusion and white-aproned men and rowdy boys whom he never saw before and whom he does not understand.

DATE GROWERS WILL MEET

Seventh Annual Institute Will Attract Experts to Coachella Valley Early in April

COACHELLA, March 18.—The seventh annual date growers' [illegible] will be conducted Friday and Saturday, April 4 and 5, in the auditorium of the grammar school here, under auspices of the Coachella Valley center. ARMY ENGINEER REPAIR AT HARBOR

Surprise Visit Regarded as Significant Move

Breakwater Extension Given Complete Survey

Hope for Early Decision on Projects Stirred

BY WALDO DRAKE

Engineers of the United States Army Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors to secure authorization for the 12,500-foot breakwater extension by the present session of Congress was seen in the surprise visit here yesterday of Col. Edward H. Schuls and Col. W. T. Hannum, members of that body. The two officials made a complete survey yesterday of both Los Angeles and Long Beach harbors, accompanied by Maj. W. H. Lanagan, United States District Engineer; Colonel F. Nicholson, Los Angeles harbor engineer; D. E. Hughes, United States resident engineer, and Maj. R. G. McClone, harbor engineer of Long Beach.

Col. Schuls said he and Col. Hannum made the trip from Washington expressly to gain first-hand information on the needs of the local harbor area, not only of immediate construction and dredging problems, but also of future developments contingent on the breakwater extension. He declined to express officially any opinion as to whether the breakwater extension and the four major dredging proposals would be included in this spring's rivers and harbors authorizations, but declared that the assessment of the local port's future is felt to be of utmost importance among national projects. However, advocates of the breakwater and dredging projects interpret the unheralded visit of the two officers immediately preceding the hearing on these proposals at Washington on the 26th inst. as indicating an eagerness on part of the Engineer Board to arrive at an immediate decision. Col. Schuls is in command of the combatant engineer troops at Fort Humphries, while Col. Hannum is district engineer for the Baltimore district. Lieut. Nicholson and Maj. McClone, after meeting Los Angeles and Long Beach at the Washington hearing, accompany Cols. Schuls and Hannum to the national capital today.

STACK DIESEL FLEET FORECAST

Los Angeles Harbor may gain a fleet of modern Diesel-powered tugs, it was admitted yesterday by Thomas Crowley, general manager of the Shipowners' & Merchants' Towboat Company, Ltd., whose Red Stack tugs control the towing situation at all important coast ports with the exception of the local harbor. Although the Red Stack fleet has entered the towing business here, Crowley says, we now in sharp competition with the modern Diesel and Diesel-electric tug fleet of the Wrigley-Catalina and Wilmington Transportation company.

Crowley said he has no definite plans for replacing or augmenting the local Red Stack fleet immediately, but that he is here to make a survey of the situation relative to meeting the needs of ship traffic. He said that his company is considering replacement of certain of its steam tugs at various Pacific coast ports, but declined to discuss the relative merits of steam and Diesel-electrics.

The local Red Stack towing fleet consists of four steam tugs, ranging from twenty-three to forty-two years of age. The Wrigley and Diesel-electric fleet has been built during the last few years. The Diesel towboat has made a big rise in popularity at Los Angeles Harbor during the past three years, as this port developed into the world's chief gasoline export center. Many of Diesel tugs in handling tankers, which are loaded with gasoline before topping off with gasoline or gas-oil, reduces the fire hazard to a minimum, say oil company executives.

Southwest cotton shippers will meet in Los Angeles tomorrow with a committee representing the Pacific Coast-European Service relative to cotton rates for the 1930-31 season. The conference is regarded as of unusual interest in view of the dispute last fall over rates for the current season, which resulted in much cotton going out via Los Angeles Harbor in tramp steamers. At the same time will be held the regular quarterly meeting of the Pacific Coast European conference, at which the cotton situation will be the principal subject for discussion.

Crash has been made by the [illegible] conference on called fish [illegible] dried fruits from the coast to [illegible] via trans-shipment at [illegible] rates which are effective until April 30, are 95 cents per 100 pounds on canned fish, a reduction of 20 cents, and $1.05 on dried fruits, a cut of 30 cents. Pacific Westbound Conference has cut rates to the Orient to $5.50 per 2000 pounds, effective at once.

Shippers will have the opportunity to make trips to Mexico City on the third "good will" cruise of Dorothy Alexander down the coast of the southern republic. The Admiral liner will sail from Wilmington on May 3 on the [illegible] day, 2300-mile cruise. Plans are being completed for two personally conducted excursions among passengers on the Dorothy to enjoy the cruise at Mazatlan for journey to Mexico City, according to R. B. Schutten, assistant general passenger agent.

More than 3000 tons of Los Angeles products including case oil and [illegible] will go out for South China ports [illegible] on the O. & O. steamer [illegible] Peak of the American Hawaiian Company. A sister ship, the [illegible] Wall, is here loading 6000 tons for North China. Capt. E. J. [illegible] master of the latter, took out the

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18. (Special Dispatch)—Reports received on the east coast that the steamers El Salvador and Guatemala, now operating in the San Francisco to Ports of Panama Mail Steamship Line, are to be replaced by the Grace liners Santa Maria and Santa Clara, were denied today by C. G. Mallory, general manager of the Panama Mail. The Santa Clara, Mallory said, will sail from New York next month on her maiden voyage to South America, and will be kept in that trade. The Santa Maria also will remain in the east coast-South American service, Mallory asserted.

The round-the-world liner President Garfield arrived here today from New York. About forty passengers disembarked including Collector of Customs Hamilton, and George D. Rishard, collector of customs at Seattle. Both men had attended the conference of United States collectors of customs, held in New York February 11 to 19.

SEATTLE, March 19.—Russian money has started to flow into Seattle as a result of the activities of the Amtorg Trading Corporation of the soviet union, which has opened permanent offices here.

Plans and specifications for ten vessels for service in the salmon fisheries of the Siberian coast have been prepared by H. C. Hansen, Seattle naval architect, and today contracts for equipping the vessels were reported let to Allan Cunningham by the Amtorg Corporation. Cunningham was awarded the contract for auxiliary equipment for the ten vessels.

The Puget Sound Propeller Company, Seattle, was awarded the contract for the propellers and equipment, including shafting, for the vessels. All of the equipment for the vessels will be shipped from this port to Vladivostok where the fleet will be assembled.

Bids for ten additional ships of steel instead of wood, have been requested by the Amtorg corporation.

TACOMA, March 18.—Three intercoastal carriers were loading cargo here today, the Luckenbach steamer with 500 tons of wool for Boston, the Pacific Coast Line is taking 2,500,000 feet of lumber for Baltimore, and the Georgian is loading general and copper for New York.

The North German Lloyd liner Trave sailed from here this afternoon with general cargo for Europe. The Trave, oldest ship in the Dexter, is the latest addition to the company's fleet in the Pacific coast-European trade.

PORTLAND, March 18.—Delayed by head winds, the Matson liner Wilhelmina, crossed into the Columbia River late today and will arrive here after midnight. The steamer was scheduled to have docked here today.

In addition to a large number of passengers, the Matson vessel is bringing molasses, canned pineapple and general freight from Honolulu.

The British motorship Vinemoor, which arrived here Friday from Muroran under charter to Kerr, Gifford & Co., was drydocked today at the plant of the port of Portland commission for steel work on the hull. The vessel will load a cargo of wheat for the United Kingdom.

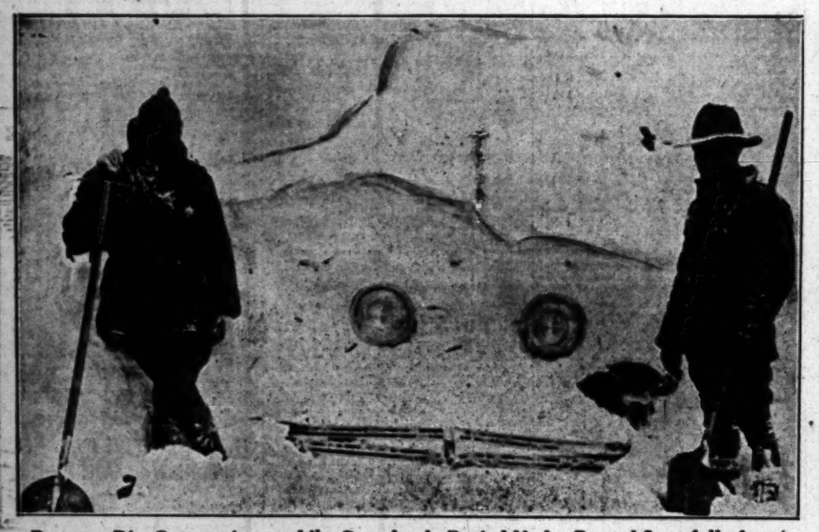
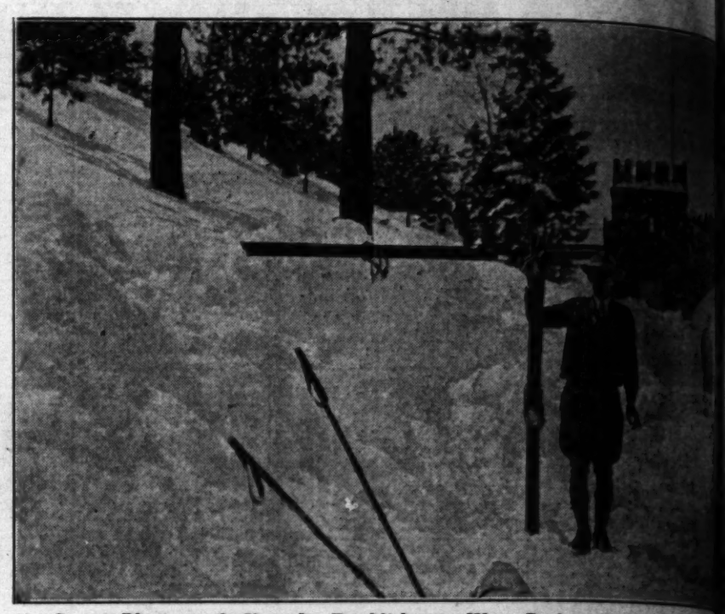
County's Big Pines Camp Is Blanketed Under Record 60-inch Snowfall



Rangers Dig Out an Automobile Completely Buried Under Record Snowfall of past few days at Big Pine Camp. Headlights and bumper show.



All Records for Continuous Snowfall at Big Pines Camp, the County Playground, Since Its Establishment Were Broken during the storm which swept over Southern California the past few days. For forty-four consecutive hours the fleecy flakes came down piling a sixty-inch blanket on the level and drifting in places to depths of from fifteen to twenty feet. Within a few hours after storm was over bus routes to the park had been cleared by the county's two ten-ton tractors. At left (above) is one of the cabins in its winter setting; at right, an idea of the depth of snow at entrance to park.

TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR — By Edgar Rice Burroughs

The Arabs carried Werper to their village where, in the chief's own tent, slaves gave him food and drink until he recovered. Then came Achmet to the prisoner. "I am Achmet Zek," he announced. "Who are you, and what are you doing in my country?" Werper's eyes went wide and his heart sank. He knew he was in the clutches of a cut-throat—ater of all Europeans.

Werper knew also that for years the military forces of Belgian Congo had waged a fruitless war upon this man and his followers. Yet in the fellow's very hatred of Belgians Werper saw a faint ray of hope for himself. He too was an outcast and an outlaw now. This they possessed in common and Werper decided to use that fact for all it was worth. They were brothers under the skin.

"I have heard of you," said Werper, "and was coming for you. My people have turned against me. They are following and would kill me. I hate them. I have you would protect me, for you, too, have them. I am a trained soldier. I can fight and my enemies are now my enemies." Achmet Zek smiled and Werper gave up hope. But Achmet Zek smiled when another man would smile.

This time he was thinking what use he could make of his prisoner. After a moment he said: "If you have lied to me, I will kill you at any time. What return, other than your life, do you expect for your services?" "Only my keep at first. Later, you will find I am worth more." So the agreement was reached and Werper was initiated into the outlaw band.

Wolves of the Western Plains "did their bit"

Thousands of emigrant wagon trains trekking westward in the early days were lubricated by the fat of wolves that hounded their trails. The howl of the wolf in the dead of night was frequently a welcome sound to the hardy pioneers—presaging easier going on the morrow.

Work-weary "NERVES"

At The End of The Day Do Your "NERVES" Give Out?

Nothing is more aggravating—nothing more distressing than that 4 o'clock tense, work-weary nervous feeling that comes so often toward the end of a busy day. Here is a pleasant Effervescent Drink that will help you overcome that work-weary nervous period. It quiets the "NERVES"—relaxes the tension and helps nature restore your normal nerve power, energy and vigor. Read about it. Try it. You will welcome the relief it brings.

Try This Delightful Way To Quiet The "NERVES"

Skilled physicians tell us that the tireless energy which most of us put into our work and play each day, has caused Nervousness and Nervous Troubles to increase many fold in recent years.

Every day busy men—energetic housewives and thousands of folks in all walks of life find a time when their keyed-up, work-weary "NERVES" refuse to relax. What is the result? Nervous Headache, Nervous Indigestion, Nervous Exhaustion, Nervous Irritability, Sleeplessness and similar Nervous Troubles, which, if not soon corrected, often break down vitality and undermine health.

When your "NERVES" are all fagged and frazzled—when you are tired, irritable and all up-set—drop one of Dr. Miles' Effervescent NERVINE Tablets into a glass of water and drink the sparkling, bubbling drink. You will be delighted with the way this pleasing Effervescent drink quiets your "NERVES"—relaxes the tension and helps nature bring back your normal vitality and energy. Chas. Jordan, says:

"Dr. Miles' Effervescent NERVINE Tablets and myself are close friends now. Hope they do for others what they did for me."

Dr. Miles' NERVINE (in liquid form) has brought grateful relief to thousands of nervous people. Now this same time-tested formula in handy Effervescent Tablet form is combined with bicarbonate of soda and citric acid which tends to correct acidosis—a frequent cause of nervousness.

Try Them at Our Expense

We invite you to try this delightful harmless way to quiet the "NERVES." Just get a package of Dr. Miles' Effervescent NERVINE Tablets at any Drug Store. Use them whenever you feel nervous. If you are not pleased with results—your druggist will refund your money. But don't wait. Get a package today. The cost is small for the big relief you'll enjoy. AT ALL DRUG STORES. (205)

HUSTON'S LOBBY RECORDS ASKED

Senate Committee Subpoenas Brokerage Files

Order Limited After Fight to One Account

G.O.P. Chairman Says Attack on Him Unwarranted

WASHINGTON, March 18. (AP)—Records of an account maintained by Claudius H. Huston, chairman of the Republican National Committee, with his personal broker in New York were subpoenaed today by the Senate lobby committee after a controversy of nearly an hour.

The committee first proposed to subpoena all the records of Huston's dealings with the brokerage firm of Blythe & Bonner. This brought protests from him and Senator Robinson, Republican, Indiana.

Then it was decided to obtain only the records of $36,100 contributed by the Union Carbide Company for the Tennessee River Improvement Association. Huston, a former president of this association, has testified he deposited the money with the brokers and that it all had been turned over to the organization which has been active in advocating the proposal of the American Cyanamid Company to lease Muscle Shoals.

TREATMENT RESENTED

The subpoena directs Charles A. Krickel of the brokerage firm to appear before the committee tomorrow with the records. Huston was excused until further notice but the committee indicated he will be recalled later.

During the heated dispute over the form the subpoena should take, Huston charged that his character had been "attacked in a totally unwarranted way" during his appearance before the lobby committee.

Senator Robinson threatened to carry the controversy to the Senate floor if all of Huston's records were subpoenaed.

"If the subpoena is limited to the question of the Tennessee River Improvement Association and anything this man did as president of that concern," Robinson shouted, "then I say there should be the fullest publicity, but a subpoena such as this appears to be would go into all the affairs of the Republican party."

PARTY INVOLVED

"That account is not the Republican party's account, is it?" inquired Senator Black, Democrat, Alabama.

"It may be," Robinson replied.

"I did not know that," Black said.

"There are a lot of things you do not know," Robinson retorted.

"I doubt if you know it," Black shot back.

"It is a subcommittee of the Judiciary Committee and it is presumably an impartial investigating committee investigating the lobby of Muscle Shoals, and, furthermore, I might say to the Senator from Alabama that he is not even a member of the Judiciary Committee."

"I know," Black replied, "but I am a member of the Senate and I was wondering whether you knew this was a Republican campaign fund."

HUSTON'S STATEMENT

The subject then was changed.

Opposing the proposal to subpoena all his records with the brokers, Huston asserted:

"I do not know what my legal rights are. I think I have some legal rights.

"I have been dealt with by this committee in a very unwarranted manner and I have tried to be a gentleman all the way through. My character has been attacked in a totally unwarranted way and I do not think that this committee wants to go through my personal records for the purpose of ascertaining facts when I am in a position to supply those facts independent of any examination they may make."

Later he said he is "sure it is not fair to me for this committee to drag my personal affairs into this investigation and I protest against it."

CONFIRMING OF THACHER GOES OVER

Overman Blocks Senate Action on Appointee at Behest of Woman Patriots

WASHINGTON, March 18. (AP)—Confirmation of Judge Thomas Day Thacher of New York as Solicitor-General was blocked today in the Senate by Senator Overman, Democrat, North Carolina, who gave no explanation for asking that consideration go over "temporarily."

The Judiciary Committee ordered a favorable report on Judge Thacher's nomination last week after he had reported to it he had sold his stock in four power companies.

No opposition had been expected and Senator Overman's objections came as a surprise. He explained off the floor he wanted to look into some matters concerning Thacher.

Senator Overman explained later that he had received a protest from Miss Mary G. Kilbreth, president of Woman Patriots, complaining that Judge Thacher had made it difficult by a decision on the New York bench to bring about deportation of Communist aliens.

Turning the light of Truth on false and misleading statements in recent cigarette advertising

WHAT ANOTHER MANUFACTURER of cigarettes chooses to say about his product is not our affair. Even when he sees fit to misrepresent his product and leave false impressions concerning it, that still is his business—not ours.

But—when, in his advertising, he goes beyond his own product and makes false statements or leaves misleading impressions about other cigarettes—then it is time that the truth be told.

Some time ago a manufacturer of cigarettes used the following statements in his advertising:

> "The extra secret heating process removes from (————) harmful irritants, corrosive acrids, which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way, and which cause throat irritation and coughing."
> "No matter how much or how little you pay for cigarettes you have a choice of only two general classes, and not more than two. In one class you have the billions of cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way and in the other class you have (————), the toasted cigarette, a product of modern science, a cigarette from which harmful irritants have been removed by that extra secret process described by the phrase 'It's Toasted'."

WHEN THESE STATEMENTS were first made, we assumed that they were a casual phase of that manufacturer's advertising and did not represent a deliberate and calculated policy. After making a few such statements, he abandoned this particular form of advertising. However, other statements used in his advertising came to the attention of the Federal Trade Commission on a question of their truthfulness.

As a result of the action of the Federal Trade Commission he was ordered to stop his admitted practice of using in his advertising false testimonials of non-smokers to the effect that they kept slender by smoking his brand of cigarettes, and was further ordered to stop using other fake testimonials and the specious argument that all can keep slender by smoking that brand of cigarettes. He then began to use again the form of statement quoted above or variations of it.

IF ANY MANUFACTURER chooses to say that the tobaccos he uses contain "harmful irritants, corrosive acrids, that are injurious to the throat," and then to claim that these things are removed by the heat-treating process, that is his own affair. But when he tries to create the impression that it is general practice to use in cigarettes such rank tobaccos as he describes, we object to the attempted reflection on the industry.

We have never used in our blend those rank tobaccos which can be properly described as containing "harmful irritants, corrosive acrids," nor do we believe that they are used by some of the other manufacturers.

If that manufacturer wishes to advertise heat treatment, calling it toasting or what-not, that is his right. But when, in so doing, he tries to create the impression that he is the only maker of cigarettes who treats tobaccos with heat, the truth again needs to be told.

The publication of a fake testimonial is no greater perversion of the truth than to imply that the heat treatment of tobaccos is an exclusive process with any single manufacturer.

THE FACT is that the use of heat treatment in the manufacture of tobacco is about the most commonplace and universally practiced method in the industry. It has long been standard practice.

We use heat treatment in its most modern and scientific application, both in the preparation and in the manufacture of those mild, fragrant, ripe tobaccos that carry their natural goodness into CAMELS.

The first CAMEL Cigarette we ever made was manufactured under the heat-treating process. Every one of the billions of CAMELS produced since has been manufactured under heat treatment. We rely upon heat to the limits of its possibilities to make our good tobaccos better. It cannot make inferior tobaccos good.

WHETHER OR NOT a manufacturer, to have something to talk to the public about, attaches a contrivance to his heat-treating machines to catch, condense and bottle the vapors that come from them can have no more effect toward improving the tobacco than your catching and bottling the vapors that come from your teapot would have toward improving the tea in the pot.

Our own brand, CAMEL, continues to grow, but we are, nevertheless, unwilling to let these far-reaching false statements or impressions regarding the cigarette industry go uncorrected.

Remington Rand Profits to Show Increase

President Makes Forecast on Visit in City

Net in 1929 $2.33 Higher Per Share Than for 1928

With sales for the past twelve months approximately 5 per cent ahead of the preceding year's volume, Remington Rand, Inc., for its fiscal year, which ends the 31st inst., will show earnings after all charges of approximately $3.50 a share on the common stock, against $1.17 a share on the same number of shares a year ago, W. F. Merrill, president, stated here yesterday. Mr. Merrill, who is making a tour of the western offices of his organization, left Los Angeles late yesterday after a twenty-four-hour visit.

The advantages brought about by the consolidation of the various equipment lines early in 1927 were more apparent during the past year and in part responsible for the increased earnings, he said. All organization and development expense in connection with the consolidation had been previously written off.

Another development augmenting the sales and earning power of the company was the concentration of the salesmen on one product against the former method of having the salesmen deal in all lines at the same time.

The equity behind the common stock was also increased during the year, he said, with the retirement of $5,000,000 of senior securities.

The Remington Rand organization was developed through the consolidation of various business equipment manufacturers rather than by merger of similar lines, Mr. Merrill explained, and today maintains 2000 salesmen in the United States, the company's products being distributed directly to the consumer. Approximately one-third of its business is in foreign countries. Its total sales for the preceding fiscal year approximated $60,000,000. Typewriters constitute about 20 per cent of its business.

Against anticipated earnings of about $3.50 a share for the year just closing dividends are being paid on the common stock at the annual rate of $1.80 a share, having been re-established last month with the declaration of a regular quarterly of 40 cents a share, after irregular payments formerly.

Regarding future prospects of the company, Mr. Merrill is of the opinion that beginning in April business activity will pick up, with the last nine months of the current calendar year corresponding favorably with the same period of 1928 rather than 1929, provided commodity prices sink no lower and Congress reaches an early settlement of the tariff problems.

Griffith Ends Visit in City

Walter T. Griffith, partner of Throckmorton & Co., distributors for Diversified Trustee Shares, who with Guy M. Rush, Pacific Coast associate of the investment house and vice-president of the American Trustee Share Corporation, has been calling on Pacific Coast banking houses for the last month, left Los Angeles last night for San Francisco on his way to New York.

Mr. Griffith stated the fifty different stocks held by Diversified Trustee Shares represent nearly 1000 industries, comprising a cross-section of the greatest American industrial endeavor. The average anual cash return from these companies over the last nine years amounted to 6.95 per cent and the annual stock appreciation to more than 20 per cent, he said.

Morgan & Co., at 97 and interest to yield 4.65 per cent, and $2,202,000 Houston, Tex., 4½ per cent bonds, due 1933 to 1955, inclusive, which were marketed by a syndicate headed by Lehman Brothers at prices to yield 4.30 per cent.

Knitting Mill Sales Point Up

Sales of the Jantzen Knitting Mills for the first six months of its fiscal year closed February 28, last, amounted to $3,191,900, an increase of $686,111, or 27.3 per cent, over the dollar volume for the same period a year ago and exceeding the full fiscal year ended August 31, 1928, by 3.77 per cent, according to a statement issued yesterday.

A consistent increase in sales has been reported each year by the company, the volume for the half-year just closed having surpassed the full year ended August 31, 1927, by 28.1 per cent and 1926 by 48 per cent. The average monthly sales for the last six months of $531,000 is double the volume for the full year 1923, the company reported.

Auto Equipment Earnings Lower

NEW YORK, March 18. (Exclusive)—Consolidated net income of the Spicer Manufacturing Company and subsidiaries for 1929, was announced here today at $2,119,886, after all charges, equal after preferred dividends, to $5.09 a share on 357,750 shares of common stock outstanding.

This compares with $2,609,534 earned in 1928, equal, after preferred dividends, to $6.46 a share on the same common-share basis, and represents a decrease of $489,647. The company manufactures automotive parts, such as transmissions, axles, etc.

Mineral Water Extra Declared

NEW YORK, March 18. (Exclusive)—Directors of White Rock Mineral Springs Company today declared a quarterly dividend of $1 and an extra of 50 cents a share on the common stock. In the previous quarter a regular quarterly of 75 cents and $1 extra was paid on the common.

TRUST ISSUES NEGLECTED

Senior Securities of Investing Companies May Offer Satisfactory Media for Funds

BY EARLE E. CROWE

In looking around for investment suggestions, bona-fide investors might do wel lto study opportunities offerded in the senior securities of the established investment trusts. Whatever notice has been given to investment trust securities, both from investors and speculators, has been concentrated on the common shares, leaving the senior issues apparently ignored in the background.

Study of recent financial statements of representative investment trusts will show satisfactory protection behind the bonds, debentures and preferred stocks. Equities behind these issues are sufficient, in most instances, to adequately satisfy investors in the event of liquidation; interest and dividend charges are covered by suitable margins and attractive yields are offered at current prices.

TESTS SATISFIED

Probably the unfortunate market experience of many common stocks of investing companies is responsible for the comparative neglect of the bonds, debentures and preferred stocks. Investors will find, however, that the senior obligations will pass the tests to which investment securities are usually subjected as to satisfactorily as the average run of bonds and preferred stocks.

Chiefly because of neglect the general apathy of investors to bonds and preferred stocks at this time, bonds and debentures of investment trusts are available in the open market at prices to yield close to 7 per cent to maturity. Current returns on preferred stocks range on the average around 7 1-2 per cent.

In the accompanying table of representative senior issues of investment trusts the yields to maturity on bonds and debentures range from 6.27 per cent for General American Investors 5's of 1952 to 7.40 per cent for Pacific Investing Corporation 5's of 1947. On the preferred stocks the returns range from 6.36 per cent for General American Investors 6 per cent preferred to 8 per cent for Sterling Securities $1.20 preference stock.

From the standpoint of protection to the investors, the foregoing table shows net liquidating value for each $100 bond of better than 2 1-2 to 1 on the average. The range is from $210 for International Securities 5's to $448 for General American Investors 5's. Interest charges are covered by margins varying from 4.44 times to 21.83 times.

Investors should satisfy themselves, however, of the security behind the issues by examination of the provisions in the indentures. Protection may be diluted in some instances by authority to issue more of the same security, or by the sale of a prior obligation. This is particularly true of the figures pertaining to the debentures.

Statistical data also are not conclusive as to management, particularly important in the investment rating of investing companies. The investor must assume the management will continue in control and will be at least as successful as the latest financial statements indicate.

Trans-Continent Air Transport in Operating Loss

NEW YORK, March 18. (Exclusive)—The annual report of the Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc., for the year ended December 31, 1929, including the operations of the Maddux Air Lines from August 1, to December 31, 1929, show a loss of $986,500. Of this loss, $746,519 was incurred by Transcontinental Air Transport, and $240,071 by Maddux Air Lines.

Commenting on the report, C. M. Keys, chairman of the board, said:

"While operating losses had, of course, been expected during the pioneer steps of this enterprise, these results were disappointing both in respect to gross volume of traffic and to cost of operations. Operating losses continued throughout the first quarter of 1930, though the rate reductions have greatly increased traffic, and consolidation and drastic revision have reduced costs."

Current assets at the end of 1929 totaled $3,408,337, and current liabilities, $387,966. The current assets included cash of $465,700, the United States Treasury certificates of $2,282,463. Fixed assets, less depreciation, amounted to $3,700,602, and total assets were $7,588,004.

The company's reserve for contingencies and paid-in surplus, which amounted to $2,885,568 on January 1, 1929, was reduced to $1,899,714 as a result of the operating deficit for 1929.

Total operating revenue for the period covered by the report was $479,479, compared with operating expenses of $1,771,158. The net operating loss was therefore, $1,291,679, but this was reduced through miscellaneous income, including interest of $303,609.

Peerless Motor Plans Financing

DETROIT, March 18. (Exclusive) Through the collaboration of Cleveland and eastern capital, a proposed stock offering of the Peerless Motor Car Company has been underwritten up to 125,000 shares, assuring the corporation of a substantial working capital, J. A. Bohannon, president, announced here today.

Stockholders have been called to a special meeting April 1 to vote on the program, at which time present stockholders are offered the right to subscribe for additional stock on a share-for-share basis, at the rate of $8 a share.

WARNER AIRCRAFT REPORTS LOSS

DETROIT, March 18. (Exclusive) Warner Aircraft Corporation reported today 1929 net loss of $39,965. Current assets on December 31, last, totaled $624,375 against current liabilities of $106,753 as compared with $331,056 and $35,371, respectively, as of November, 1928. Sale of engines, parts and service totaled $637,841 against $188,308 for the period from start of production, April 1928 to December 19, 1928.

PENN STATE WATER REPORTS EARNINGS

Pennsylvania State Water Corporation, subsidiary of Community Water Service Company, yesterday reported net operating earnings for the year closed January 31, last, of $650,413, more than two times interest requirements and comparing with $606,398 for the preceding year. Gross revenue aggregated $1,060,650 against $1,032,902.

Mail Contract Revenues Held Aviation's Need

Commercial aviation in the United States requires Federal co-operation in the form of air-mail contracts to attain a sound financial footing, Charles F. Wren, president of the Pickwick Airways, Inc., told stockholders Monday at the annual meeting. Directors and officers were re-elected with the exception of R. T. Morris, who was elected to the board to succeed M. H. Lewis.

The Pickwick company, Mr. Wren said, expects soon to obtain a foreign air-mail contract which will enable it to receive compensation for United States mails picked up in this country for delivery along the Pickwick Latin-American Airways line down the west coast of Mexico to Guatemala City.

At the present time, he said, the company's balance sheet shows a $145,000 deficit, with prospects good for early reduction of that figure.

"Our mail, express and passenger business is gaining steadily and we need only a United States foreign air-mail contract to place us in position to show an operating profit," Mr. Wren declared.

Security Loans in District Up

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18. (Exclusive)—Security loans of reporting member banks of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District as of the 12th inst. were announced here yesterday at $446,000,000 against $445,000,000 the previous week and $425,000,000 a year ago. Anderson Made Utility Chief Appointment of H. V. Anderson as general superintendent of the American States Water Service Company of California to succeed A. L. Kent, resigned, was announced yesterday by E. E. Towles, president of the company.

Mr. Anderson for a number of years was engaged in the management of the utility properties of the Huntington Beach Water Company until it was absorbed by the American States Public Service Company, which he joined in an executive capacity. He is a member of the Rotary Club of Los Angeles, the Fox Hills Country Club and a noble of Al Malaikah Temple of the Mystic Shrine.

New Cut Made on Bank Paper

NEW YORK, March 18. (AP)—The bid and asked prices of bankers' acceptances were reduced 1-8 of 1 per cent again today, making the sixth similar reduction announced in the last three weeks.

The new rates follow: Thirty to 120 days, 3 1-8 per cent bid, 3 per cent asked, and 150 to 180 days, 3 1-4 per cent bid, and 3 1-8 per cent asked.

Hammon Copper to Spend More Than $750,000 on Arizona Property

Construction work calling for an estimated expenditure of between $750,000 and $1,000,000, will be commenced immediately by the Hammon Copper Company, Ltd., on its property in Yavapai county, Arizona, W. P. Hammon, president, stated yesterday at the Biltmore before leaving for Prescott, Ariz., to approve the final plans for the building program.

Production of copper will be under way within six months, Mr. Hammon said. Engineers have estimated the maximum production cost for the first unit of 600-ton daily capacity at slightly over 10 1-2 cents a pound, which would show net profits of approximately $500,000 per year for the unit, figured on 13-cent copper. As soon as the second unit is added, the production cost will be lowered to a maximum of 9 1-2 cents, Mr. Hammon said.

Development work which began in 1926 has resulted in more than 2,000,000 tons of ore with a copper content of 1.75 per cent having been blocked out to date, according to Mr. Hammon, who said that over $1,000,000 has already been expended on the property.

Mr. Hammon is also president of the Yuba Associated Engineers, managing engineers of properties in all parts of the world; president of Hammon Engineering Company, managing engineers for the Yuba Consolidated Gold Fields, of which company he is vice-president and managing director; director of Sierra Pacific Electric Company, which he organized, and formerly director of the Columbia Steel Corporation, of which he was one of the founders.

Yuba Consolidated Gold Fields has been one of the world's outstanding mining enterprises, having shown a gross return of about $60,000,000 with net operating profits of about $36,000,000 from 1904 to date. Mr. Hammon also achieved success in the oil industry as the discoverer and developer of the Santa Clara Valley field in Ventura county. The Ventura Consolidated Oil Field Company, formed by him in 1915, paid out $6,500,000 in dividends before it was acquired by the California Petroleum Corporation through an exchange of stock in 1925.

Daily Average Output of Oil Higher in Week

NEW YORK, March 18. (AP)—The daily average gross crude oil production in the United States increased 47,850 barrels for the week ended the 15th inst., totaling 2,583,200 barrels, says the weekly summary of the American Petroleum Institute. The daily average production east of California was 1,931,600 barrels, an increase of 57,650.

Refineries representing 95.5 per cent of the estimated daily potential refining capacity, operating at 73.1 per cent of their capacity, reported daily average run of crude oil to stills as 2,554,000 barrels. Daily average the previous week was 2,532,700 barrels, for refineries representing 95.5 per cent of potential capacity, operating at 72.4 per cent of their capacity.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, March 18. (AP)—Cotton showed continued nervousness today with a renewal of covering by trade or speculative shorts in the near months sending the price of May contracts up to approximately the 15½-cent level. The buying was somewhat less active than yesterday and there were occasional setbacks under realising, but the market became quiet on the declines and held steady at net advances of about 10 to 24 points.

LEATHER TRADE LOOKING UP

Improvement Shown in 1929 With Exports Exceeding Imports for First Time in History

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, March 18.—The leather industry has been suffering for some time from excessive capacity. Last year, a good one in that industry, saw it operating at 50 to 70 per cent of its effective capacity.

For the first time in American history the year 1929 showed an excess of leather imports over exports. The total exported was approximately $45,000,000 and the imports slightly in excess.

Today liquidation of leather has proceeded to a point where the industry began the new year with about 3,300,000 units of sole leather on hand, as against 11,300,000 units at the beginning of 1921.

What kind of hides are imported? Roughly, 25 per cent of cattle skins, 45 per cent of calf skins, 65 per cent of sheep skins and 100 per cent of goat skins.

It is well known that in the meat-packing industry the cattle skin is a by-product, for it represents only 6 per cent of the packer's value of the whole animal, so to a large extent the leather industry plays second fiddle to the cattle food industry.

Shoe manufacturers and retailers had a fairly prosperous year in 1929, advancing sales about 6 per cent over the year preceding.

If the record of 1929 is equaled in 1930, shoe men will "call it a day" and go fishing to celebrate.

The United States is not the only country that is suffering from unemployment. While England is the worst sufferer (her number of unemployed is 135,000 more than a year ago,) the number of her unemployed is probably not larger than the total in the United States today. Russia, too, is having her unemployment troubles.

Germany is suffering severely from unemployment, more so now than in the last two years. Italy, too, finds her idle list growing. France seems to be the only country that has no unemployment problems to speak of at the present time.

When we turn to other parts of the world we find the situation in South America and the Orient is much more serious. The coffee-producing countries of South America have much idle labor. So have the rubber-growing regions of the Far East and the silver-using countries, like China and India.

We just happen to be in one of those eras where many different elements have to be correlated before we can say definitely that the turn for the better has come. Unemployment is a world-wide condition today.

In the meantime the prospects for increased business during the spring months seem to be as encouraging an element as anything else.

Plans for Huge Utility Merger Forging Ahead

NEW YORK, March 18. (Exclusive)—The business of getting United Gas Company merged with Electric Power and Light, a subsidiary of Electric Bond and Share, was advanced another step today when the terms of exchange were reached. Terms, according to these reports call for the exchange of two shares of United Gas stock for three shares of stock of the holding company and a warrant to buy one-half of one share at $33.

No hint has been given as to the name of the proposed holding company nor any of the details of its capitalization. Reports indicate that it will form the largest natural gas system in the United States with an annual output of approximately 175,000,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas and resources of about $300,000,000.

There were reports today that the merger will include the properties of the Lone Star Gas Company and that Henry L. Doherty & Co., had become interested in the deal. It is not generally expected that the natural properties of the Cities Service Company will be included.

DIVIDEND DECLARED

NEW YORK, March 18. (Exclusive)—Directors of the National Fireproofing Corporation yesterday declared a dividend of 75 cents a share on the common stock payable May 1 to stockholders of record the 31st inst. On January 6, a $2 common dividend was paid being the first distribution since 1903. Regular quarterly preferred dividends were also declared.

STOCK TRADING PACE QUICKENS

Easy Money and Reports of Unemployment Aid

Outside Call Rate Lowest in Last Five Years

Price Average Higher Since October Recovery

NEW YORK, March 18. Speculation for the rise was up to a high pitch of enthusiasm in the stock market today in the face of declines in money rates and the Department of Commerce's showing a turn for the better in employment conditions. Trading aggregated 4,347,980 shares, and the Times index of ninety leading stocks pushed up nearly 2 points to the highest level since the end of October, when it touched 191.8, after breaking to 183.

Except in a few of the high-priced speculative favorites, moderate, largely some point or two, and the was checked at times by profit taking. Wall Street, with rumors of powerful pools in various issues, has board room sentiment divided, some observers seeing movement as a distribution while others felt confident that cumulation was under way in anticipation of an eventual upturn in business activity.

TRADE NEWS

The days' industrial news was mixed. Steel operations this week sagged further, United Steel curtailing operations to 80 per cent of capacity, against 85 last week.

Reports of new automobile registrations indicate that March showed a sharp gain over February and came within 3 per cent of the previous February. Excluding two leading small cars, which accounted for 60 per cent of the new registrations, a drop of 7 per cent from the previous February was shown. Preliminary estimates of crude oil production last week were less promising, showing a substantial upturn, although much of it was due to opening new wells for testing.

A 7.37% Investment of Exceptional Merit

Since 1893
James R. Martin & Co. with its direct predecessors has served Southern California Investors

For the investor seeking a liberal income with a high degree of dependability, we suggest the Capital Stock of the Central Investment Corporation, which is listed on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange.

Corporation owns the Los Angeles Biltmore Hotel property, land and buildings, which are leased to the hotel company until 1953. Fixed rental is more than ample to meet all bond interest, retirement and dividend requirements on this stock. A schedule of bond amortization and appreciation has been carefully worked out and provides a book value of approximately $154 per share for the Capital Stock on the expiration of the lease in 1953.

In view of rising security prices and corresponding decline in interest rates, we believe this stock, which yields 7.37% at present market price, is worthy of your special consideration. Send name and address below for detailed analysis.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, March 18. (AP)—The bull market in bonds went forward with renewed vigor today. Issues listed on the stock exchange and the curb market, as well as the vast number of unlisted securities, turned over in bulk at smartly higher prices and the day's business crossed $18,000,000, principal amount.

Money, available in huge quantities, again went down and time loans were quoted 3½ to 3¾ per cent up to 60 days, with the longer maturities at 4 per cent flat, the easiest rates in years. Call funds were available outside at 2 per cent, although the official rate went to lower than 2.

Buying by banks, insurance companies, institutions and individuals was still concentrated on the better grade issues, but there was sufficient interest in the market, as a whole, to extend the inquiry into secondary obligations, many of which displayed important strength. Rails were very active and the utilities also traveled at a fast pace. The average for thirty bonds in the three major groups went to 100.2, which compares with a high of 102.4, for the same bonds in 1928 and with last year's low of 96.3.

Foreign obligations, with the Latin-Americans again in the lead, advanced impressively, although turnovers were slightly smaller. United States governments, which many observers felt had discounted current money trends, sold off uniformly, the declines ranging from 1 to 8-32.

Rails, making new highs for the year, included Boston and Maine 5s, Canadian National 4½s of 1968, Chesapeake and Ohio 4½s, Missouri Pacific general 4s, Pennsylvania 4½s and Union Pacific 4s. In the convertible rails Baltimore and Ohio 4½s soared 1¼.

International Telephone 5s, International Match 5s, Public Service Electric and Gas 4½s and Chile Copper 5s were miscellaneous points of strength. Amusement and oil company bonds advanced sharply.

The share feature issues were buoyant. American Telephone 4½s, American I. G. Chemical 5½s and Texas Corporation 5s traded actively, showing the best tone in some time.

Foreign bonds attained new highs. Poland 7s, New South Wales 5s, the Colombia Bank issues and many other South American issues went steadily upward.

A new foreign issue appearing on this market tomorrow is an offering of $8,000,000, city of Helsingfors, Finland, 30-year 6½ per cent external sinking fund gold bonds, by a syndicate headed by Brown Brothers. The bonds are offered at 95, to yield about 6.90 per cent.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low and both low and close when same as high.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18. (Special)—Bull forces extended their market domination today, boosting the average price of leading stocks to a top figure for 1930. Eight new highs were scored, some ordinarily gloomy and bearish quarters brightening up on advices that business slack showed prospect of being taken up.

Share volume was moderate, at 49,992, with market value of sales at $1,797,735. Bonds absorbed $3000.

Pacific Lighting netted 1½ points to lead the utilities. The preferred issue set a new high at 103¾, but lost part of the gain. Pacific Telephone finished a point higher, and most of the other utilities had fractional advances to their credit as the session closed. Pacific Gas was taken in good volume on a ½-point rise.

Oils provided new highs for Standard at 64½. Union Associates at 45¾ and Tide Water at 15½. The Suiro averagers for the group set a new high about ¼ of a point above the last top. Tide Water preferred was up a point at the close, but other gains were held to fractions.

Industrials were ambitious climbers. Jantzen jumped 2¼ points on reports of advance summer sales, setting a 1930 top at 66. Caterpillar boosting its peak to 72, up 3. Zellerbach rising 2 points. Jantzen receded ½ point at the close, but still was up 2¾. Lesser gains of industrials closed fractionally higher, though the radios were off.

Banks improved, especially Bank of California, which hopped 12 points higher. Its position as an interstate bank drew some attention, in view of prospective development of branch banking. West Coast Bancorporation scored a new high at 22½, up ½. Transamerica slipped ¼ lower, apparently on weakness.

Petroleum Shares Continue Advance to Brighten Local Stock Market Operations

Standard Oil of California, Union Oil and Union Associates touched new highs for the current movement on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday and led the way for a further demonstration of buoyancy in the petroleum list. The volume of transactions was substantially higher than that of the preceding session.

Union Oil and Union Associates to 24 1-8 to close later at 23 7-8, up 1-8. Signal Oil "A" jumped 2 points and scored a new high for the year at 33. Macmillan, recent feature, reacted a point to 25, and Shell eased 3-8 to 23 3-8.

Southern California Edison traded in a brisk manner and after advancing nearly a point to 62 1-4 closed at 62, up 5-8 net. Pacific Finance, under pressure, dropped to another new low at 36 3-4, off 3-4, and ended at 37 1-8, down 3-8 net. Security-First National regained its high point of the year at 118, up 3-4. Jantzen Knitting Mills, recently inactive, spurted 3 1-4 points to 48, a new top since the first of the year.

Sales totaled 36,987 shares, valued at $950,333; previous day, 20,491 shares valued at $532,906.

While the other oil stocks opened in a strong fashion, profit-taking brought a slight reaction toward the close, which, however, assumed no great proportion, the list closing generally firm. Richfield sold up to 27 3-8 and ended unchanged for the day at 27 and Rio Grande advanced

LOS ANGELES CURB

Hancock Oil continued the center of attraction on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday and completely overshadowed all other operations, with a turnover of 6300 shares and an advance of 2 1-8 points to a new high for the year at 17 1-8. The peak was reached on the final sale.

Pacific Associates was among the strong spots with an advance of 1 1-4 points to 28 3-4, a new high, and Security Company units also marked a new top for the year, up 1 3-4 points to 55. Universal Consolidated Oil, Cities Service, Cord, Detroit Aircraft, Pokker, Gladding, McBean and Intercoast improved fractionally.

Kinner Airplane and Motor, and Hammon Copper headed the activity of the penny stocks with a rapid turnover, both issues advancing fractionally to the year's high. United Vanadium Mining, which traded at 1.50 last Friday aroused speculative interest by soaring 2.50 to 4.00. The stock opened the session at 2.00.

Sales totaled 63,488 shares valued at $336,300; previous day, 92,880 shares, valued at $225,647.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

New York, March 18. (AP)—Natural gas issues of a kind advance in prices in today's market, the largest session of the year, contrasted with the previous one, when declines were in the majority. Trading was heavy, a total of 1,550,500 on March 5 being exceeded by 1,600,000 shares. Rumors and unusual amount of early improvement in general business provided the impetus for the advance. Profit taking, moderate recessions from high levels, but final gains of half a point or more were scored by a preponderance of net changes. Transactions totaled nearly 5 million shares in a few specialties in the entire issues, and from 5 to 15 points was not unusual. Gas stocks, which led Curb Exchange trading, were dominated by a new subsidiary of Electric Power and Light, was up more than 4 points to a new high at 42, and then eased to 42. The preferred, which also ran into new high ground at 13¾ this year. The latter issue was traded in around 204,300 shares. Natural Gas, Dixie Gas and Ohio Fuel Gas also moved into new high ground.

Public utilities made little progress due to trade restrictions, inspired in part by reports of the formation of another large industrial combine of automobile companies, which was followed by a sharp recession in the motor issues. Chain stocks, selling ex-dividend, were also in new top at 154¾ and then moved downward on the day. Oils, unshadowed on the day by the Gulf subsidiary, established a new peak at 42¾. Utilities of Maine, Interstate Hosiery and Cream Oil and Gas moved into new high ground on the day.

Bond and Share closed 5 points above the day's high price, although still 1¼ points below the best of the day's high price, although still 1¼ points below the best. American Light and Power, Commonwealth and American Gas and Electric, Nevada-California Electric and Cities Service advanced 4 points to a new peak of 204, but left a point of it.

Investment trust and trading corporations displayed a firm undertone. Gains were small. In the investment field of Canada, Bond of France and Canada, Bond of Canada, Bond of Canada, Bond of

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

With 750 feet of oil formation to its credit, the Shell Oil Company's Signal Hill No. 7, near the intersection of Junipero and Twenty-first streets in the southeasterly portion of the Signal Hill field, has been placed on production and is flowing at the rate of 1400 barrels a day, gravity oil per day of 31.7 deg. gravity oil per day from a depth of 5180 feet.

The newest completion was brought in a surprise, as it previously developed a crooked hole and went to 5567 feet, it being thought that it wandered off into territory where production was not found. By plunging back and re-drilling approximately 900 feet, the difficulty was overcome and the well now is one of the good producers on the hill. It is putting out 1,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day, pressure on the tubing being 255 pounds and pressure on the casing 500 pounds.

The Shell Stakemiller No. 7 is on the Richfield Securities Company's Patented Hills ten-acre lease, and now is being prospected, and

Corn Futures Lead Upturn on Grain Markets

CHICAGO, March 18. (AP)—Corn led all grain upward in price today and finished at virtually the top level reached. Indications were that the season's main movement of corn to market terminals has reached an end, with prospects of liberal out shipments ahead at the opening of navigation on the Great Lakes. Announcement of 3,245,000 bushels decrease of the world's wheat available supply tended further to strengthen wheat values, and so too did expectancy of a cold wave Friday or before over domestic winter wheat States.

Closing quotations both on corn and wheat were firm with corn to 1¼ a bushel higher than yesterday's latest figures. Wheat finished ½ to ¾c up, oats ¼ to ½c advance, and provisions unchanged to 10c higher.

Wet weather prevailing throughout the corn belt had much to do with stirring up speculation in corn, but particularly important trade leaders were calling attention to the fact that open market interest in Chicago corn future deliveries has steadily increased of late, whereas the open interest here in all other grain except corn has decreased sharply the last thirty days. This circumstance was asserted to show increased general appreciation of the soundness of current values of corn.

It was also pointed out that terminal stocks of corn are light, particularly here in Chicago, that call from shippers here is already good as well as continuing to enlarge and that at inflation the corn market is free to respond to supply and demand. Rural offerings of corn were small and arrivals in Chicago amounted to but sixty-three cars against 142 cars a week ago. The oats market followed corn rather than wheat.

Export business in North American wheat was again lacking in volume and total shipments of wheat from Canada and the United States appeared to be continuing much below the 8,000,000 bushels weekly quota estimated as necessary to furnish European requirements during the next twenty-one weeks.

Provisions reflected upturns in the value of hogs.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"Anna Christie," Greta Garbo and Clarence Brown do a fine job with O'Neil's masterpiece of the sea.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"Happy Days," Fox Grandeur film amazes the public and shows the great possibilities of the future. The subject matter is a minstrel show by the stars.

Criterion, 642 South Grand—"Men Without Women." John Ford's direction and a splendid story make this one of the year's best pictures. A sunken submarine provides the plot.

Figueroa, Fig at Santa Barbara—"Not so Dumb." Remember "Dulcy"? Once upon a time this was it.

Filmarte, 1228 Vine.—"The New Babylon." A chaos of war and social destruction in the Paris of 1870 makes rather confused drama from Russia.

Forum, Figueroa at Norton—"The Aviator." Edward Everett Horton in more of his popular foolishness.

Grauman's Chinese, 6925 Hollywood Blvd.—"Rogue Song," Lawrence Tibbett makes a powerful impression on screen debut as a vagabond romance of nearly great quality.

Grauman's Egyptian, 6708 Hollywood Blvd.—"The Love Parade." An operetta, complete with Lubitsch farce and Maurice Chevalier's fun.

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"Such Men are Dangerous." Elinor Glyn's story is imagined from Lieutenant's diary. Love, hate. A picture with appeal to women.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"Lucky Boy," and "Seeing is Believing," Scellini and Nelson. George Sidney and Charlie Murray get in and out of tight places in Scotland.

Palace, Broadway between Sixth and Seventh—"Hot Heels," Monroe Owsley has made speaks and in the atmosphere of Tin Pan Alley. Should be entertaining to the musically wise.

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"The Vagabond King." Excellent in many ways, this Paramount film deserves to be seen at least once. Dennis King and Jeanette MacDonald essay leading roles.

Rialto, 6290 Wilshire—"Sunny Side Up."

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"Playing Around." Amusing comedy full of the old moral, "home is the best place after all." With Alice White and Chester Morris.

R.K.O. Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Hallelujah, I'm a Bum." Al Jolson emerges from silence, a singer, in this Rodgers and Hart operetta.

Tower, Hill, at 8th.—"Show of Shows." Warner Brother stars get together in some such show as could be had.

United Artists, Edwy. nr. 9th—"Puttin' on the Ritz." Harry Richman, Joan Peers, prettily plugged by Harry Richman.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at 7th.—"Song of the West." The old horse opera is made sweet to the taste and then by John Boles and Vivienne Segal.

Warner's Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"Oh, Sailor Behave." Edward Everett Horton in a comedy full of his own brand of humor. Light and amusing.

Westlake, 638 Alvarado — "Sunnyside Up."

STAGE

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd. nr. Highland—"Let Us Be Gay." A sophisticated bit of entertainment, presenting Violet Heming, Ian Keith and Tom Douglas.

Belasco, Hill at 11th.—"East of Suez." Lenore Ulric dazzles theatergoers with her mysterious, dynamic personality in Somerset Maugham love tale of a half-caste.

Hollywood Playhouse, 1722 Vine—"Helena's Boys." May Robson again attains the boldness of stirring youth and romance in a lively horse play about a new thought in the ways of love.

Majestic, Edwy. at 9th—"New Moon." They still put on a good show, featuring the song hit, "Lover Come Back to Me." Percy Astam and Josephine Houston.

Mission Play, San Gabriel—The beautiful pageant of the settling of California, up to its usual standard. With R. D. MacLean.

Music Box, 6126 Hollywood Blvd.—"Rose of Tonga Lady." A light, almost whimsical mood, is reached in this play by Martinez-Sierra. Two old ladies give charming portrayals.

President, Edwy. at 6th.—"Your Uncle Dudley." Taylor Holmes plays a small-town character and indulges in some of his popular humor.

Vine-street, 1615 Vine.—"Rope's End." A study of the perfect crime;" excellently staged and portrayed by Noel Madison and Dwight Pitt.

VARIETIES

Burbank, 6th and Main—Burlesque.
Follies, 6th and Main—Burlesque.

Sensible Way To Lose Fat

Start taking Kruschen Salts—that's the common-sense way to reduce—but don't take them with the idea that they possess reducing qualities in themselves.

This is what they do—they clean out the impurities in your blood by keeping the bowels, kidneys and liver in splendid working shape and fill you with a vigor and tireless energy you'd most forgotten had existed—you get the needful exercise.

As a result instead of planting yourself in an easy chair every free moment and letting flabby fat accumulate you feel an urge for activity that keeps you moving around doing the things you've always wanted to do and needed to do to keep you in good condition.

Be careful of the foods you eat—then watch the pounds slide off!

Kruschen Salts are the up - to - date Fountain of Youth. Take one half teaspoonful in a glass of hot or cold water tomorrow and every morning—they're tasteless that way, and if they don't change your whole idea about reducing, go back and get the small price you paid for them. Get an 85 cent bottle of Kruschen Salts—lasts 4 weeks—at any Owl Drug Store or any progressive druggist anywhere in the world.

It's the Little Daily Dose that does it.

PARK SERVICE BILL REPORTED TO HOUSE

WASHINGTON, March 18. (AP)—Convenience of the traveling public and comfort of national park employees were considered in the Colton bill to standardize field service of the national park administration reported favorably today by the House Public Lands Committee. The measure would authorize sale of supplies to travelers in emergencies, cashing of travelers' checks, burial of indigents who die in the parks and reimbursement to employees for the use of their automobiles.

PLANET MAY BEAR PREDICTOR'S NAME

BOSTON, March 18. (AP)—Mrs. Percival Lowell, widow of the Harvard astronomer who years ago mathematically determined the existence of the recently discovered planet, today announced that if the planet is to be named after her husband she would prefer to have the surname, Lowell, used. Recently published reports had described Mrs. Lowell as favoring the given name, Percival.

EX-SUPERVISOR'S SON RUNS AFOUL OF LAW

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18. (AP) Fred Hilmer, Jr., son of former Supervisor Hilmer, was charged with embezzlement here today and a warrant for his arrest issued by Police Judge Steiger. He is accused of appropriating $156 he collected as salesman for a barber and beauty shop equipment concern, which he represented in the Sacramento Valley.

POLITICAL FUND TRACED IN QUIZ

Grand Jury on New Tack in Extortion Inquiry

Lew Parrot Questioned But Won't Say About What

Seven and Nineteen Others to Appear Tomorrow

The substantive inquiry launched yesterday by the grand jury into the ramifications of the asserted collection of $75,000 by Miss Leona Johnson and Morris Lavine, under threat of publicity and exposure of affairs in connection with the Julian Petroleum debacle, is reported now to be chiefly concerned with a huge sum said to have been used in a recent political campaign.

It is declared that the grand jury has uncovered indications that the money was donated to a particular political cause and that knowledge of this was used as a threat in the asserted extortion scheme put on yesterday after Kent Parrot, attorney; S. C. Lewis, former director of the Julian Petroleum Corporation; Charles H. Crawford, banker, and Jacob Berman, also known as Jack Bennett, had appeared for questioning.

Secrecy in the jury investigation was broken only slightly when demurrers filed on the indictment charging Miss Johnson and Lavine with extorting $75,000 from Crawford, Parrot, Abraham Frank and Jacob Friedlander were overruled by Superior Judge Wood.

DATE OF TRIAL SET.

The two defendants were arraigned and their trial set for Tuesday, April 22, at 10 a.m., before Superior Judge Schauer. They are at present on bail of $10,000.

Many witnesses, including John R. Cryer, former Mayor, are under summons to appear before the grand jury tomorrow when the session is resumed, and there are indications at adjournment yesterday that the inquiry will continue several days.

The identity of those appearing today and the causes for their summons was not disclosed by Special Prosecutor Stafford, who was scheduled Monday to direct the investigation.

Interest was the line of questioning used in interrogating witnesses yesterday divulged. Lewis, after his arrest, declined to discuss his testimony, but denied that it concerned an asserted campaign fund which he is reported to have paid a heavy subscriber.

PARROT IN HURRY

Kent Parrot left the Hall of Justice rather hastily and refused to discuss what had taken place in the session. He answered a query by saying that "I was treated all right."

Parrot was accompanied by his attorney, T. J. Riggins, and it is said that he declined to talk without consent on his constitutional rights.

Deputy Porter was a visitor in the grand jury room yesterday morning and it is understood to have tendered his advice on the conduct of the investigation. He called attention to his membership in the 1928 grand jury, which he described as "very big things." He also referred to his work as chairman of the criminal complaints committee, which he gives much credit for the arrest of that body.

Assistant Dist.-Atty. Fitts declared that the indictments against Johnson and Lavine be resubmitted to the grand jury were also yesterday shortly after noon, when the scheduled arguments were heard at 2 p.m.

Attorneys Clark and Cooper, representing Lavine, led the attack on the validity of the grand jury, with Fitts Daily assenting for Miss Johnson. Defense of the indictment was conducted by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Van Cott, who was hurried into the case to take charge of plan of Fitts.

The defense attack was based on alleged defects in the indictment which concerned chiefly with the use of the phrase "unknown," as it related to the asserted owners of the property, the asserted other persons with interest and the asserted "unknown."

PHRASING DEFENDED

In defending the phraseology of the indictment, Van Cott revealed that it was based largely on recent decisions of the Appellate Court and Supreme Court handed down in the case of Asa Keyes, convicted of perjury. The prosecutor also contended

ARTIST AND ALHAMBRA GIRL TO WED

Norman Rockwell Wins Mary Rhoades Barstow in Brief Romance

Less than two weeks after he met her, Norman Rockwell, nationally known painter of beautiful women and illustrator of note, succumbed to the graces of a California girl, Miss Mary Rhoades Barstow of Alhambra. The engagement of the couple and the tentative date of April 17 for the marriage, was announced last night by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Barstow, 125 Champion Place, Alhambra, parents of the prospective bride.

The New York painter has been visiting at the home of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Forsyth of Alhambra, for several weeks. During a visit at New York this winter, Mr. and Mrs. Forsyth induced their friend to come to California to regain his health. Two weeks ago Rockwell was presented to Miss Barstow, who is a mutual friend of the Forsyths. A romance immediately started, according to friends, in which the artist wooed ardently. According to friends they found they had much in common and it was a "love at first sight" affair on the part of both.

Miss Barstow's father is a practicing attorney and a member of the Los Angeles county bar. The bride-to-be is a Stanford graduate and a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority. She is a grand niece of Judge Gary, former president of the United States Steel Company, and is a great-granddaughter of Judge A. L. Rhoades, a San Jose pioneer. Miss Barstow, while she does not paint, has a deep interest in art, her friends say.

Following the marriage, which will probably be at the home of the bride's parents, they will live at New York. Mr. Rockwell has been married once before. They plan to spend their winters in California.

DR. HARLEY SPEAKS TONIGHT

Dr. J. Eugene Harley, professor of political science at the University of Southern California, will discuss "The London Naval Conference" before a gathering at the University Methodist Episcopal Church this evening. Dr. Harley attended the ninth assembly of the League of Nations at Geneva.

Work Delays Referendum Names Check

Held up by the rush of work in the office of County Registrar Kerr, the canvass and verification of the huge Bell cement-plant ordinance referendum petitions, which contain more than 44,000 names, will not be commenced by City Clerk Dominguez until tomorrow morning.

At that time a force of 140 persons will be set to work checking the names to determine their qualification. They must be qualified voters who have registered since January 1.

It was originally planned to get to work today on the petitions, which were filed last Saturday, but Registrar Kerr has thirty-four municipal elections coming early in April and check of voters and preparation for these elections has thrown his office into an "orderly turmoil" with everyone working at top speed.

"We are prepared to obtain 10,000 or 20,000 added names within a few days," Thorwald Siegfried, attorney for the Home Zone Defense Association, said last night, "if the petitions are found insufficient."

Comparative Data on Rail Earnings Given

Comparative data as to earnings of western trunk lines and railroads of the trans-Missouri group were presented yesterday before Examiner Disque of the Interstate Commerce Commission by Louis Sickel of the Missouri Pacific system, testifying on the application of the roads operating between the Missouri River and Chicago for an increased share of trans-Missouri freight divisions.

Sickel contended that any change in the present divisions would be to the serious disadvantage of the trans-Missouri carriers.

Expectations were expressed that the hearing will conclude the latter part of this week, probably Friday. The case is scheduled to be submitted on briefs in the fall.

JUNIOR PRISON SITE SELECTED

Committee Makes Choice But Gov. Young Holds Off

Report for Bouquet Canyon Secret for Two Months

Place East of Victorville Reported Considered

The legislative committee, authorized to select a junior felon prison site in Southern California, has unanimously selected a location in Bouquet Canyon and submitted its report to Gov. Young, it was learned yesterday.

The report, which Gov. Young admits having received, has been referred to the administration's prison site committee, composed of Director of Finance King of San Bernardino county, Director of Public Works Meek, Chairman Neumiller of the Prison Board, and Director Johnston of the Department of Penology. It was submitted January 21, last.

Gov. Young declares that technical investigations as to soil and water are being made. It is understood, however, that the administration is favorable to a site some distance east of Victorville, in San Bernardino county.

EASILY ACCESSIBLE

The Bouquet Canyon site selected by the legislative committee, which is composed of Assemblyman Woolwine, Los Angeles, chairman; Senators Rochester, Los Angeles, secretary; Pedrotti, Los Angeles; Gray, San Francisco, and Assemblyman Hawes, San Francisco, is only thirty-eight miles from Los Angeles. It is less than four miles from Saugus by highway and less than three miles from the main line of the Southern Pacific, thus making it easily accessible. One of the prime objects in selecting a site in Southern California is to place it close to Los Angeles so as to reduce the transportation bill, which annually mounts into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The site, which includes 116 acres, has been offered the State for $200 an acre, or a total of $223,200. The Legislature has appropriated $375,000 for the site and a building; therefore, there will be remaining, for construction of the first unit, $151,800, less escrow and appraisal charges.

APPRAISALS MADE

In order to protect the State, the committee requested President Austin of the Chamber of Commerce, Harold G. Ferguson for the Los Angeles Realty Board, and Henry M. Robinson, for the Clearinghouse Association, to appoint appraisers to survey the site and report.

In each instance, according to report, the appraisers judged the value of the land to be equal, or in excess, of the price offered. The appraisers reported as follows: Harry Hay, $223,200, the offered price; C. C. C. Tatum, $251,100; C. A. Short, $245,200.

The site consists of flat land, surrounded on all sides by hills and low mountains, except for the entrance, thus affording a natural barrier to escape. It cannot be seen from the highway or railroad. The elevation is 1275 feet, with average mean winter temperature of 45 deg. and summer temperature of 85 deg. The committee reports that it has been informed that only three frosts in the past half-century have been observed.

PLENTY OF WATER

The water facilities are adequate, three wells on the site developing 220 inches with a fifty-foot lift. Unlimited water can be developed from underground sources. In addition, it is near the Los Angeles Aqueduct, and it is permissible for the State to tap the Aqueduct if there is excess water available.

The soil is described as being a sandy loam, and at this time an experimental station is on the spot, where all known trees and vegeta-

STORM PLAYS NEW PRANKS

The storm that for the last three days has been expected to move away from Southern California postponed its departure again yesterday, kicked up a combination miniature waterspout and cyclone, deposited more snow on local mountains and left .04 of an inch more of rain in Los Angeles for the twenty-four-hour period.

This precipitation raised the storm total to 3.42 inches, the seasons' total to 10.33 inches, and aided present rain figures in nearly catching up with the total of 10.51 inches for the same date last year, and the normal figure on the same date of 12.72 inches.

Fair weather was predicted last night by the United States Weather Bureau for Los Angeles today, and probably for tomorrow, foggy along the coast this morning, and moderate temperatures and gentle westerly winds will prevail.

BABY TORNADO

The wind in the vicinity of Costa Mesa and Santa Ana was anything but gentle for a short time yesterday, however, the result of a freak funnel cloud that swept in from the ocean and left 1.25 inches of rain in ten minutes at the Eddie Martin Airport near Santa Ana.

Observers along the beach reported that the black funnel cloud hovered over the coast line for several minutes, disappeared for a short time, and then stuck its nozzle earthward. Racing inland the baby twister went helter-skelter, spinning brush and small trees right and left until it struck the airport.

CLOUDS DUMPED

The cloud that carried the twister then seemed to open, airport pilots said, spilling hail, sleet and rain until the landing field was a

Pioneer School Leader of City to Be Honored

A host of friends of Dr. A. W. Plummer, who forty-three years ago established the forerunner of Los Angeles' present night-school system, will visit his home, 1233 Magnolia avenue, tomorrow afternoon to felicitate him on his eightieth birthday anniversary. Arrangements are principally in charge of members of Elementary Principals' Club, whose first president he was and in which he is still an active member. He still is chairman of the board of Teachers' Clubhouse.

Dr. Plummer came to California in 1884 from Maine. He once was a member of the County Board of Education, four times president of the Principals' Club, and still is a member of Masonic Education Club, City Club, Proximo Club, Schoolmasters' Club. A daughter, Marguerite Plummer, teaches in Central Junior High School.

BURKE'S POLICE JOB HANGS FIRE

Commission Rescinds Billet as Expert Reorganizer

"Secret Operative" Position Appears Illegal

Chief Steckel Refuses Role of "Goat" for Board

Developments came thick and fast yesterday in the Police Commission's program to employ Charles W. Burke, private detective, as an expert to work on a reorganization plan for the Los Angeles Police Department, when the commission rescinded its resolution directing Chief Steckel to employ him as an expert and passed another, with Commissioners Pierce and Coe flatly opposed, to employ him as a secret operative at a rate of $500 a month.

Chief Steckel, after requesting City Attorney Werner for an opinion as to his liability in case he follows the request of the commission and employ Burke, flatly stated that if the ruling makes him liable for any possible illegalities, he will refuse to employ Burke. It is expected that the Werner opinion will be available toward the latter part of the week.

During arguments President Thorpe stated that Burke is to be selected as chief of the intelligence bureau proposed under the reorganization scheme.

MAYOR'S IDEA

Commissioner Wehn revealed that Mayor Porter had directed the employment Monday of Burke after he had stated that Chief Steckel was in full charges of the police department.

Commissioner Pierce, who has resigned, effective April 1, strenuously opposed the program on the ground that even though voting against it, he might be liable to blame for any action growing out of improper use of funds for the payment of Burke. He expressed faith in Steckel's ability to reorganize the department and was supported by Commissioner Coe.

PLAN ILLEGAL

The program adopted Monday was slowed up by an opinion from Deputy City Attorney Kitzmiller that Burke could not be paid from the police secret service fund of $5000 a month for prosecution of liquor and narcotic cases.

In this predicament, and with no other funds available, the commissioners sponsoring employment of Burke asked Kitzmiller's assistance in preparing a resolution which will be legal.

The resolution, passed by Commissioners Thorpe, Wehn and Drake, follows:

"Be it resolved that the Board of Police Commissioners of the city of Los Angeles employ Mr. Charles W. Burke for the purpose of doing secret service work for the police department of the city of Los Angeles.

"Be it further resolved that the Chief of Police of the city of Los Angeles is hereby authorized to employ the said Charles W. Burke from day to day to do secret service work on a compensation basis of $500 a month, provided, however, that Mr. Burke shall be employed for no stated time, but that such time shall be determined by conference."

While it was contemplated that this would place Burke on the pay roll, the City Attorney's office voiced the opinion that if he did reorganization work, instead of secret service work, it would be subterfuge and payment of his salary from the secret service fund would still be illegal.

Chief Steckel sought to know where he would stand should he employ Burke and he does other than the work called for in the resolution. He went to Mayor Porter and the latter decided to query City Attorney Werner.

DELAY SIGHTED

An adverse ruling may result in Burke's employment being held up for an indefinite period, since the Chief of Police has to do the hiring, even though the employment is requested by the Police Commission.

The only other method is for the City Council to create a new job for Burke and appropriate funds for his salary.

Commissioner Pierce sought yesterday to put through a substitute motion putting the entire matter up to the Chief of Police, in order for the commission to avoid any liability, but got no support.

Drake stated that the Chief has

by Harry Carr

CHARLES W. NASH, the automobile manufacturer, now in Los Angeles, is a self-made man; and did a good job of it. From a berry picker he has become a multimillionaire without losing his balance.

At a banquet in his honor he told a quaint story on himself—illustrating his insistence on cutting down overhead in his factories.

He said one of his employees had a dream about him. In the dream Nash was dead and was having a grand funeral. The casket was going down the church aisle accompanied by eight pallbearers, when suddenly the corpse sat up.

"Say, look here," growled the deceased. "How many pallbearers you got on this job?"

"Eight."

"How many are actually pushing?"

"Two or three."

"Well, the thing's on wheels, isn't it?"

"Yes."

"Well, one man's enough to push it; you other seven fellows go back to your work."

INSOMNIA

Colgate University is making a study—apparently not having much else to do—of the method used by sleepless persons to get back under.

Two or three say that they lie in bed and extract the square root of various figures "in their head." If I could extract the square root of anything in my head I would be afraid to go to sleep lest I forget how to do it.

Incidentally, the only way to go back to sleep is not to care. It is something you slip into; you can't break in.

Dr. Josephine Jackson, author of "Outwitting Your Nerves," says that we don't need so much sleep, anyhow. It is fussing about it, not the loss of sleep, that makes insomnia serious.

COSTLY TEMPERAMENT

The delectable and pulchritudinous Miss Mary Nolan will, I fear, discover that "temperament" is passe and obsolete in motion-picture studios.

The day is very soon coming when studios will be disciplined like other commercial organizations. Movie actors draw enormous salaries for what is usually a pretty slim amount of genius. There is no reason why they should short-change the boss by "acting up" any more than the employee of a railroad.

CRUEL AND STUPID

A joint legislative committee is preparing a recommendation for sweeping changes in the method of levying street assessments.

It would be impossible to change them and make them worse. Bad real estate conditions in Los Angeles are due to a considerable extent to the idiotic, stupid, repressive street assessment laws which, in effect, made the State of California act the part of a "come-on" for Shylocks.

No department store, for instance, would last the year out if it resorted to the cheap, dirty tricks of our street laws—where bills that you have no clear way of knowing you owe are multiplied 10,000 or 12,000 per cent overnight.

I have paid assessments where the fine for a few days' delinquency amounted to more than twenty times the amount of the original bill.

MRS. IRISH RESIGNS AS HOLLYWOOD BOWL HEAD

Mrs. Leiland Atherton Irish announced last night that she handed in her resignation yesterday as general chairman of the Hollywood Bowl, to take effect August 30, next.

Two members of the association's board of directors, Charles E. Toberman and David Babcock, when notified of Mrs. Irish's announcement expressed surprise and stated they had not been advised of her action and were at a loss to explain the situation.

Mrs. Irish did not give any reason for resigning. She merely stated she attempted to resign her position in August, 1929, but the board of directors refused to sanction the move at that time.

Since her appointment in 1926, when she accepted the chairmanship on thirty days' notice, Mrs. Irish has devoted her time exclusively to Bowl affairs. Mainly through her efforts the association has been organized to present the popular summer concerts that have proved one of the major attractions to music lovers in Southern California.

In announcing her resignation Mrs. Irish pointed out that plans for this summer's concerts practically are complete, with choice of conductors and soloists nearly concluded. A gain of 50 per cent of manuscripts submitted to the composition prize committee over former years is one of the records that Mrs. Irish pointed out for her retiring year.

"I feel that my resignation comes in ample time to make natural adjustments that will follow my retirement," Mrs. Irish stated. "I shall retain my charter membership in the association and work

SOLDIERS' HOME INSPECTED

National Board Will Discuss Plans of Additions for Veterans' Hospital at Session Here

Plans for increased hospital facilities, including a proposed wing to be added to the Wadsworth General Hospital, at the Pacific Branch, National Soldiers' Home, will occupy the major portion of the time of this year's annual meeting of the National Board of Governors, which convened for a four-day session at the West Los Angeles institution yesterday.

Gen. George H. Wood of Ohio, president of the board; Col. Roy L. Marston of Maine, Paul E. Devine of Tennessee and Col. J. J. Steadman of California, are the representatives meeting at the Sawtelle branch, which is the largest unit in the national group. The governors arrived Monday night and registered at the Miramar Hotel, Santa Monica. With them are Col. B. F. Hayden, chief surgeon, National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, and Col. C. W. Wadsworth, general treasurer. They were received at the home yesterday by Col. John A. Hadley, the governor; Col. James A. Mattison, chief surgeon, and their staffs.

Gen. Wood disclosed that a bill authorizing an appropriation of $750,000 for building an additional wing on the present hospital, increasing it from 560 to 835 beds, already has been referred to the Military Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives, after having been introduced by Representative Crail.

"Unfortunately Representative James of Michigan, chairman of the committee, who personally inspected the Pacific branch last August, is ill and in the hospital," Gen. Wood said. "However, we are confident the measure will be approved, for James has full knowledge of the needs of increasing hospital facilities here."

When the General Hospital was completed in 1926, Gen. Wood stated, provisions were made for adding two large wings as need required. All administrative, medical and surgical units were installed on a scale allowing for this expansion.

STECKEL RAPS BURKE PLAN

Police Chief Brands "Expert's" Reorganization Ideas as Impractical and Too Costly

Branding the proposed reorganization plan of Charles W. Burke, newly appointed police reorganization expert, as unnecessary and impractical, Chief of Police Steckel, in no uncertain terms, yesterday declared the police department executive capable of operating the organization without the aid of a highly salaried "expert" from civilian ranks.

"Such a plan is in the first place unnecessary," he stated, "because an efficient reorganization of the department has already gone into effect and needs but one or two major changes before it is completed. In the second place, Mr. Burke's plan is impractical because, if put into effect as he has outlined, it would necessitate the expenditure of hundreds of thousands of dollars which certainly is not in line with Mayor Porter's program of economy and could not be worked out successfully on his basis of personnel distribution."

Chief Steckel pointed out that, according to Burke's proposals, the various fifteen subdivisions would be reallocated to conform with Councilmanic districts.

"I told Mr. Burke that to do this would mean that some divisions would have two or three police stations while others would have none, and to make a change would necessitate the building of seven or eight new stations and the abandonment of half a dozen of those now in operation. He agreed with me on this point."

Chief Steckel also asserted that the new superintendent had erred in his figures.

"Mr. Burke states," the Chief said, "that at present there are only 613 officers on patrol duty and that through the operation of his plan he could increase this number to 1665. His quotation of figures is incorrect. At the present time and as a result of the reorganization plan put into effect within the last month there are 1127 officers on actual patrol duty."

In a dictated statement the Chief took direct issue with the ruling majority of the police commission who were responsible for the appointment of Burke Monday for the

MORE OIL FACTS SOUGHT IN SUIT

Gas Wastage Injunction to Wait Further Proof

Independents Complain Case Not Fully Established

Court to Take Testimony on Matter Before Ruling

Taking of testimony relative to the production of oil and natural gas in the Santa Fe Springs field will be resumed this morning before Superior Judge Hazlett, presiding at the hearing on the petition of the State for a preliminary injunction to curb waste of gas in the field.

It was the plan of Judge Hazlett early yesterday to make an emergency or ad interim order pending the outcome of the hearing, following the presentation of an injunction order by Attorney James S. Bennett, counsel for the State, for the court to sign.

ASK MORE PROOF

When court convened yesterday Attorneys Robert B., and William L. Murphy, Neil McCarthy and Walter Hass, representing independent operators in the field, were of the belief that more proof should be taken relative to the gas-and-oil production in the field before an order is signed. They took exceptions to figures of some of the wells in the field relative to potential production as outlined in the State's schedule attached to the injunction order.

It is the contention of the group of defense attorneys representing the smaller concerns that the order as prepared by Attorney Bennett for the court to sign is based solely on oil production rather than gas.

RADICAL REDUCTION

According to the defense attorneys the order would cut down the production of the Santa Fe field to 100,000 barrels of oil when the potential flow is 150,000 barrels.

It was also the contention of the attorneys for the independent operators that any attempt to regulate the gas wastage in the field by using oil as the measuring stick, would result in shutting down some of the wells altogether. They contend that the wells would not have enough gas as a propelling force to make them produce. Also that it has been the experience of oil operators that when a well is once shut down it dies—that is, it cannot be brought back on production again.

Efforts are being made by the court, the State and all concerned to draft an order that will be acceptable to all the operators, one that will be in effect until April 14, next, at which time the operators will be given a chance to show why the emergency, or preliminary injunction should not be modified, vacated or discharged.

JUDGES GRAUMAN'S GUESTS

A number of Superior Court judges and their wives were the guests of Sid Grauman at a theater party last night at the Uptown Theater. The production was "Sunnyside Up." A feature was the cutting of a large birthday cake baked for the theater man. The party included Superior Judges Archbald, Guerin, Fleming, Keetch, Crawford, Westover, Blake, Doran, Sproul, Collier and Hardy.

GOLDEN WEDDING CELEBRATED

Jurist and Wife Entertain Relatives

Judge and Mrs. Charles Monroe

TIME was rolled back fifty years for a brief interval last night when the Quaker wedding ceremony which made Charles Monroe and Miss Ella Hadley man and wife in Lawrence, Kan., on March 18, 1880, was re-enacted by Judge and Mrs. Monroe of 729 West Twenty-eighth street as a part of the celebration of their golden wedding anniversary.

About fifty relatives and a few close friends gathered at their home, where, amidst a profusion of the golden blossoms of spring, which arrived for them throughout the day, the couple stood and repeated the two short paragraphs which constitute the marriage service from "the Quaker Discipline."

When Judge and Mrs. Monroe were married no license was necessary in Kansas and the only requirement of the Quaker faith was that the couple intending to marry should rise in meeting one month before the wedding date and, holding hands and in audible voice, declare their intentions. If they passed without objections being presented, then the principals themselves read their own service and the ceremony was duly sanctioned by a wedding certificate signed by all the witnesses present.

Their certificate, bearing the signatures of some forty or fifty witnesses, was an object of great interest among their guests last evening.

Judge Monroe, who served for almost twenty-two years on the Superior Court bench here, the longest period ever served by one man on the Superior bench in the history of this State, was born in Maine on December 23, 1849. He was graduated from Harvard University in 1870 and 1871 and went to Kansas, where he studied law. In the latter part of 1890 he and Mrs. Monroe moved to Los Angeles and have made their home here ever since.

When a vacancy occurred in the Superior Court of Los Angeles in 1906 Gov. Pardee appointed Judge Monroe to the position. After that he ran for office in 1906 for a seven-year term, was re-elected in 1914 and again in 1920, serving until January 3, 1927, at which time his term was finished. He has been retired from active service since that time.

that the indictment conformed specifically to an amendment to the Criminal Code as adopted by the 1929 Legislature.

"This move of the last Legislature," said Van Cott, "is an effort to prevent the continual hair splitting of legal points in indictments, which heretofore have been successfully used by criminals in escaping prosecution."

Both defendants were present in court and following the ruling of Judge Wood appeared for their arraignment. Both replied "not guilty" in clear tones, when questioned on the charges. Clark estimated that the case can be heard in six days, when asked as to the probable length of the trial. This was not concurred in by Van Cott, who placed the probable duration of the hearing at twelve days.

BERMAN-GETZOFF CASE UP AGAIN TODAY

Jacob Berman, also known as Jack Bennett, "bright boy" of the Julian Petroleum Corporation scandal, and Ben Getzoff, Spring-street tailor, today are scheduled to appear before Superior Judge McComb in a renewed effort to obtain dismissal of a charge that they gave a $36,000 bribe to former Dist.-Atty. Keyes to persuade him to "lay down" on the prosecution of the original Julian case offenders.

These case goes back to Judge McComb's court following a bitter controversy between Dist.-Atty. Fitts and Judge McComb two weeks ago, in which Judge McComb insisted that the two defendants go to trial on the bribery charge, despite the fact that the District Attorney moved that the case be dismissed on grounds that Getzoff and Berman had been once in jeopardy.

JUDGE SILENT

When the court declined to dismiss, defense attorneys filed affidavits of prejudice. Following a hearing before Superior Judge Doran it was ruled that Judge McComb is not prejudiced and, therefore, is qualified to rule on the case.

Meanwhile the defense also carried a writ of habeas corpus to the Appellate Court to obtain the release of the two defendants who were remanded to the custody of the Sheriff by Superior Judge McComb. The Appellate Court released the defendants, holding that they had been once in jeopardy.

Last night Judge McComb declined to comment in any way whatever concerning what action may be taken today. Dist.-Atty. Fitts and Chief Deputy Stewart also refused to discuss the case.

FITTS'S ATTITUDE

When the case was last called in Superior Judge McComb's court, Dist.-Atty. Fitts declared that he would be unable to prosecute the defendants because his office does not have sufficient evidence to constitute a case. It also was stated that the defendants had been given an implied promise of immunity.

Berman and Getzoff were star prosecution witnesses against Asa Keyes during his trial and conviction on charges of bribery. Getzoff, a codefendant with the former District Attorney, was convicted also, but was released under fourteen years' probation.

Berman is under sentence of seven years in a Federal penitentiary for using the mails to defraud in connection with promotion of the Julian Petroleum over-issue sales.

W.C.T.U. MEETS FRIDAY

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet at 10:15 a.m. Friday, it was announced yesterday by Mrs. Florence S. Ulrey. The morning session will be confined to reading of membership reports and the afternoon to an address by Mrs. Oda Faulconer, president, San Fernando Woman's Club and district chairman of legislation.

foot deep in water. The funnel skipped two airplanes and a hangar by 200 feet and no damage was done. Two planes in the air beat a hasty retreat when their pilots evidently saw the strange cloud formation bearing down on them.

Following the hour's deluge, shortly before noon, the twister and the clouds disappeared.

SNOW AND LIGHTNING

Snow was reported to have fallen for a short time during the afternoon in the higher reaches of the San Gabriel Mountains. An electrical display and violent claps of thunder preceded rain and snow in the vicinity of Mt. Wilson. The road to the summit of the mountain was reported closed last night.

The weather thickened up over the metropolitan area at lunch time and rain that resulted in .04 of an inch began to fall at 1 p.m. By dinner time, however, the sun was shining brightly.

Merchants and residents of Ontario were busy yesterday bailing and pumping out basements, the result of a concentrated hail and rainstorm there Monday. Two fire trucks pumped all morning clearing out the basement of a new structure of the Exchange Orange Products plant in Ontario. Some damage also was reported from washed-out truck gardens south of Ontario, and lawns remained blanketed with hail during the morning.

INDIVIDUAL STORM

Local communities evidently bore the brunt of the last of the storm yesterday, the Southern California Edison Company reporting that the weather was clear all day along its transmission line through the high Sierras from Huntington Lake, back of Fresno. Forty-six inches of snow remained on the ground at the lake, twenty-six inches at Florence Lake, seven inches at Shaver Lake and two inches at Big Creek Power House No. 1.

Hail of the last few days may have damaged the budding peach and apricot crops where the trees are in full bloom, according to Deputy Commissioner Wolf of the County Horticultural Department. Wolf said that he had no reports of damage, however, and doubted that any trees are in full bloom.

Three feet of snow at Camp Seeley, Los Angeles county playground and at other mountain resorts caused preparations yesterday for crowds of winter sports enthusiasts. The Auto Club of Southern California warned motorists not to attempt to negotiate mountain roads without skid chains on their cars.

Doyle Holley, 32 years of age, 1603 East Thirty-fifth street, told physicians at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital that he had been shocked by lightning while leaning against a light pole at Denker avenue and Jefferson street. He said he was shocked internally. Surgeons could find no mark or burn on Holley's body.

JUNIOR PRISON SITE SELECTED

bles of California are being grown. It is planned to make the prison an agricultural development. Except for a small plateau, all but sixteen acres are tillable, these being situated on low mountains.

Two power transmission lines pass near the property and can be tapped at slight expense. The report states that the Midway Gas Company will lay a high-pressure natural gas main to the site from Saugus. Because of its proximity to Los Angeles, the highway and the railroad, supplies can be transported at a minimum cost.

The topography of the site, the committee reports, is such that it is adaptable to either the "Auburn System," the "Joliet System" or the "Minnesota System."

The committee was appointed in 1927, and spent three years in examining sites in all southern counties, more than 150 locations being investigated.

THE LANCER

ditions has been so absurd as to create the suspicion that many of our fleeting city governments had more than an academic interest in the prosperity of street-paving companies.

Los Angeles streets should be paved and streets should be lighted, but it is not necessary to do it all in a suffocating avalanche of assessments. What's the hurry?

PROTESTS

It is true that you are given opportunities to file protests that mean nothing; but the harassed property owner hasn't as much time for street hearings as the contractor who is trying to get the money. They wear the protestants out.

The most charitable thing you can say about the author of California's street laws is that perhaps he wasn't really wicked but just a well-intentioned fool.

MOTHER SEEKS AID IN SEARCH FOR GIRL

Geraldine Gladys Barman

Kissing her mother good night, Miss Geraldine Gladys Barman, 18 years of age, daughter of a real estate man of Beverly Hills, retired to her bedroom on the night of February 27, last. That was the last the mother, Mrs. George Chesebro, saw of her daughter, she told Captain of Detectives Allen yesterday when she appealed for police aid in her search for the girl.

"The next morning I waited for her to come to breakfast," Mrs. Chesebro said, according to Allen, "but when she did not appear I found she had not slept in her bed and that her bedroom window was open."

STECKEL RAPS BURKE'S PLAN

announced purpose of having him, as an expert, put his reorganization into effect.

CRIME DECREASING

"It is my opinion," he said, "that the deputy chiefs, chief of detectives, inspectors and captains, all of whom are trained in police work, are perfectly capable of handling reorganization plans and other police problems, and have been so in the past.

"This is borne out by the fact that for the past two years there has been a steady decrease in crime in the city of Los Angeles.

"Shortly after I was appointed chief by Mayor Porter, Deputy Chief Homer Cross and myself worked out a plan whereby we redistributed the personnel of the police department so that every division in the city is policed with the utmost efficiency with the men at our command. One of the chief purposes of this reapportionment of personnel was to place more officers on patrol duty and to give them more responsibility in keeping their beats free of crime.

"In making this redistribution we have considered population, area, major crime, vice and school crossings in the various divisions. As an example the Venice division, where criminal activity has been at a minimum, lost a few men and the Hollywood division, where burglars and bandits have been active, gained an appropriate quota.

"In the supervision of the detective bureaus we have already assigned two inspectors of detectives to take care of this work. Half of the divisions are under one and the other half under the direct supervision of the other.

EFFICIENCY PLAN

"At the time Mr. Burke's plan was proposed we had just started the subdividing of the police divisions into four major units. If we are allowed to go ahead with the work which has now gone so far, we propose to take four of the veteran captains of police and place one in charge of each of these units, as an emergency police inspector. It would be their duty to promote efficiency, maintain a proficient operation of their respective units and be responsible for conditions therein.

"For example, if there was an unusual activity by burglars in one division the police inspector would be able to draw a quick quota of men from one of his other divisions to concentrate on such outbreaks of crime without having to go through all the red tape of taking the matter through the administrative department, my office, or with the Police Commission.

"The only other major measures to be completed," the Chief concluded, "is the establishment of a separate department of supply and maintenance, somewhat on the line of Mr. Burke's proposed purchasing unit, and a separate department of communication, which would include telephones, teletypes and radio.

Commenting on Burke's idea of installing radio on police cars, Chief Steckel declared that such a plan has already been worked out in his scheme. Deputy Cross, he stated, has tested one system, found it to be impracticable, and is now only waiting for the approval of the Police Commission to test out another system which can be experimented with for a month without any cost to the city.

ASSESSMENTS SANCTIONED

ROCK WIELDER OBJECT OF HUNT

Two Women Describe Man Who Attacked Them

Midnight Assailant Believed to be Maniac

Both Victims Struck Down by Sharp Blows

Recovering from the shock of being attacked by a suspected maniac with a rock, Miss Anna Decker of 1112 West Eighteenth street and Miss Ruth Black of 1982 Norwood avenue yesterday gave police the first description of the mysterious assailant. It was immediately broadcast throughout the county. Captain of Detectives Edwards of Georgia-street station, in whose division the attacks occurred, also detailed a special squad of men to concentrate their efforts on the apprehension of the man.

While lacking details the victims agreed on the following description of their assailant; American, middle-aged, of medium height and weighing about 165 pounds, light hair, fair complexion, and wearing a light-tan overcoat and gray cap.

The attacks occurred shortly after midnight Monday. Both women had alighted from street cars and were walking toward their homes when set upon. In neither case did the attacker attempt robbery or criminal assault. Because of these circumstances police believe the man a maniac.

Miss Decker was attacked first near Washington Boulevard and Union avenue. While attempting to flee from the man, whom she saw creeping toward her through the darkness, she was struck down by a vicious blow on the head. She dropped senseless. Pedestrians discovered her a few minutes later and called police.

Shortly afterward Miss Black was struck down in a similar manner at Pico street and Vermont avenue. The wounds indicated, police said, that the blows were struck with a sharp rock. Both victims were revived at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

"I'm opposed to this steam-roller method of doing things," said Pierce. "We are not in on the program."

Thorpe denied knowing anything of the program, either.

"It was a surprise to me when it was sprung yesterday," said Coe, referring to the Monday resolution for employment of Burke.

"You were up there when the Mayor gave us instructions," declared Wehn, in answer to Coe. Coe denied hearing any instructions.

Wehn moved that the commission retire into its private room "and go into a huddle," but this was opposed by Pierce.

STOLEN CHECKS AND CAR FOUND

Bandit Trail in Daley's, Inc., Hold-up Followed

Automobile and $8540 Worth of Paper Abandoned

Cashier Van Boemel May Survive Bullet

Detectives yesterday recovered $8540 in checks taken from G. H. Van Boemel, cashier for Daley's, Inc., who was shot and robbed Monday afternoon as he left his company's office at 751 Terminal street. The checks were in Van Boemel's black leather hand bag, which was found in an automobile stolen from Dr. R. W. Wilcox of 910 Belmont street, Long Beach, abandoned in a vacant lot at Central avenue and Eleventh street. The car was located by Detective Lieutenants Koehn and Hanson.

The checks were worthless without Van Boemel's signature. The bandits got only $65 in cash. Finger-print experts carefully examined the abandoned stolen car yesterday in a search for prints of recorded criminals.

Van Boemel was reported showing good condition yesterday in Golden State Hospital, despite the bandit's bullet which lodged in his back.

Van Boemel, who is 64 years of age and lives at 561 West Stocker street, Glendale, was confronted by a young bandit with a gun, as he started for the bank. When Van Boemel defended his money bag, the bandit shot him. The bullet struck the cashier's jaw, coursed down his neck and lodged in his back. Following a struggle, the bandit escaped in a car driven by a confederate.

Mrs. Mossin's Will Contest Trial Begins

Contest of the will of Mrs. Cecilia Mossin, who left $150,000 to St. Vincent's Hospital, was begun in Superior Judge McDaniels's court yesterday.

Mrs. Mossin, who died at 80 years of age, July 1 last, left a $250,000 estate. Because the bequest was made to Sister Mary Ann Keating, mother superior of St. Vincent's Hospital and not to the hospital itself, Bertha O. Dietz, a niece, and several other relatives, filed a contest, asserting undue influence on the part of Sister Keating. The sister, however, in her answer declared she did not know of the bequest until after Mrs. Mossin's death.

Attorney S. Ward Sullivan represents Sister Keating, and the contestants are represented by Attorneys C. E. R. Pulcher and Henry Bodkin.

ASSESSMENTS CONFIRMED

The City Council yesterday confirmed the assessments for the improvement of Leslie Way between Summit View avenue and a point near Omaha street, and denied the protests against the sewering of the One Hundred and Eighteenth street and Main street district, the widening and laying out of Yucca street and Argyle avenue, the improvement of Gaffey street between Anaheim and Channel streets, and the widening of Lincoln Boulevard from the northwesterly city boundary to Venice Boulevard.

Court Reverses Verdict Against Tax Appraiser

The legal element in a lawsuit known as "malice" was not proved in the $100,000 alienation suit of Mrs. Frances Smith, Brentwood Heights school-teacher, against her father-in-law, Frank Smith, State inheritance-tax appraiser, Superior Judge Keetch decided yesterday, in setting aside the verdict of $1000 awarded the plaintiff by a jury.

In alienation suits it must be proved that the defendant was actuated by motives of spite or malice against the plaintiff, and Judge Keetch held that Appraiser Smith was acting from the natural motive of regard for his daughter-in-law's welfare. So the effect of Judge Keetch's ruling is to give a verdict for the State official.

The trial occupied a week in Judge Keetch's court, and was featured by a dispute over the disappearance of the elder Smith's shaving cup and considerable testimony regarding the relative merits of the liquor asserted to have been served in the two Smith households.

METHOD OF JULIAN SUIT HIT

Separate Actions, Not Blanket Complaint, Needed, Defense Argues in $15,000,000 Case

There should have been more than one group of defendants, named in separate actions, if the Julian stockholders have the right to recover approximately $15,000,000 as a result of the overissue of the stock of the company, according to Walter K. Tuller, attorney for the defense in the suit now on trial before Superior Judge Tappaan.

Attorney Tuller spent all of yesterday and will continue today his argument on the demurrer filed on the grounds the complaint in the present suit does not constitute a cause of action.

The suit was begun by A. M. Loeb, John H. Roberts, D. T. Roberts and others, all stockholders of the Union Pacific Oil Company, who also were stockholders in the Julian Petroleum Company. Jacob Berman and S. C. Lewis are named as defendants. The Los Angeles Stock Exchange is joined in the action as a defendant, the plaintiffs asserting that as it is a voluntary organization its members are responsible for losses sustained by them. They hold the exchange had knowledge of the overissue of the stock when it went on the market.

Attorney Tuller in his argument that the defendants should have been grouped in separate actions asserted yesterday this should have been done for the reason the charges in the complaint are varied and asserted to have been committed by separate groups of defendants.

"If there is any cause of action at all it lies against various groups on separate things instead of many groups in a blanket complaint," Attorney Tuller argued.

He then went on to point out there are three classes of brokers, one which includes the Los Angeles Stock Exchange; Berman in another class as a defendant and Lewis in another.

Judge Tappaan has indicated that he will take his decision relative to the demurrer under submission at the close of the arguments.

Boat Exhibition Plans Detailed at Conference

Plans for putting Southern California motor boating and yachting on a scale equal to that of any part of this country were formed late yesterday, when participants in the first Los Angeles Boat Show met with Civic Regatta Association officials in Ambassador Auditorium.

More than 150 were present to discuss the show, which will be held eight days in the auditorium, starting on the 29th inst.

Speakers were Lyman C. Dunbar, Leonard C. Bowie, Waldo T. Tupper, P. H. L. Wilson and F. Halsey Denman, officials of the regatta association. They declared every type of pleasure boat will be displayed and explained to show visitors.

COST MAP APPROVED

The assessment district map for the installation of lighting appliances in Magnolia Boulevard from Cahuenga Boulevard to Tujunga avenue, was approved by the City Council yesterday on recommendation of the Traffic and Street Lighting Committee.

Mrs. H. M. Lang Awarded Divorce

A decree of divorce for Mrs. Agatha Radcliffe Lang, wife of Howard Miles Lang, executive of a Long Beach transportation concern, was signed yesterday by Superior Judge Hollzer. Mental cruelty was the basis of the wife's complaint.

A property settlement was effected out of court, according to Attorney Clyde Murphy, counsel for Mrs. Lang. The terms of the settlement were not made public.

Mrs. Lang accused her husband of staying out late at nights; she also testified that he found fault with her manner of dressing and cooking and objected to her associates.

Necessity begets invention. No longer will the cruel winds spoil a "grand slam" at popular beach resorts. Washable aluminum playing cards have appeared.

CAR CALISTHENICS

COOLIDGE IN CALIFORNIA

Mr. Coolidge lists the acquisition of California as one of the eight important events in United States history. This will peeve some of the eastern people; but he put a whole lot into a California nutshell. Evidently the trip to the coast and the courtesies extended were not in vain.

NOTHING REALLY NEW

Those who think the jitney bus was purely an American institution will be shocked to learn that in 1635 a retired British naval officer collected a number of carriages discarded by the noble and wealthy and ran them at a cheap fare in opposition to the regular conveyances. And, just as in our day, they became such a nuisance to traffic that they were barred by proclamation.

SNITCHED FROM FITCH

And now it seems that Fulton did not invent the steamboat at all. The Fitch family is out gunning with the claim that its forbear, John Fitch, patented the first power boat back in 1791. Shakespeare cannot even write his plays and get away with it. And the little hatchet is no longer mentioned on Washington's Birthday. Lindy will not be the first to fly across to Paris after a few years.

THE ROAD OF FRIENDSHIP

The trail blazers of the Automobile Club, mapping the route for the transcontinental motor highway which will link the three Americas when it is completed—as it is sure to be in the not too far distant future—are doing something more than merely finding a way for a road. They are marking the pathway of international friendship. Railroads, steamship lines, airplane routes, are good commercial connectors, but there is something democratic about a highway which they lack. It is open freely to all, rich and poor, high and lowly. It breathes a friendlier spirit.

This intercontinental highway, destined eventually to join Alaska on the north with Buenos Aires on the south, ought to promote a deal of visiting back and forth, bring about much neighborliness and banish much misunderstanding. Its potential commercial importance is great, but if it brought no business at all it would still be worth while. That it can readily be paid for from the traffic it will create is known from the road-building experience in this country.

These trail blazers can hardly be called newcomers on the route they will take. All such highways, as Phil Townsend Hanna, editor of Touring Topics and member of the pathfinding expedition, pointed out in a speech at Tucson, follow natural routes which were first animal trails, then Indian trails, then exploration routes, then missionary paths, then ways for the oxcarts of the pioneers and settlers, then market roads and finally paved ways for speedy traffic. They follow in general the paths of least resistence. Historically, there is nothing to show how the progressive waves of tribes that populated the Americas before the coming of Columbus found their way from one part of the country to the other, but assuming there have been no serious geological upheavals and subsidences it is a safe guess that they took approximately the route that is now being marked anew and which was trodden long before them by the camel, the elephant and the five-toed horse.

Man, with his better surveying instruments, makes minor improvements in such routes, but nature was the first surveyor.

Much work, of course, must follow the new survey. There is a lot of paving to be done even on this side of the line, as the bogged-down automobile party can testify. But it is not too early, perhaps, to start consideration of a suitable name for this international pathway. The Anglo-Saxons, with their love for conciseness and practicality, have taken to referring to it as the Intercontinental Highway, and letting it go at that. But such a title is not wholly suitable for a road, most of which will go through countries peopled by a more imaginative race, one with a better appreciation of poetry and sentiment.

Such a title need not be too long for everyday use and still may convey something besides the obvious.

It is a job for the phrase-makers of all the countries to be traversed; those who are pointing out the need for and the desirability of the highway will not necessarily also name it. As a start for discussion, "The Road of Friendship" has been suggested. It is a good phrase in English, and has Spanish and Portuguese equivalents which go well to the ear and to the mind.

A good name for the road will help to build it.

A GOOD MAN PICKED

The selection of Carlyle Thorpe, general manager of the California Walnut Growers' Association, to head the Sun-Maid Raisin Growers' Association, brings to the grape industry the services of a man thoroughly familiar with the methods which have made co-operation in the walnut industry such a pronounced success. If anyone can carry out the program which C. C. Teague recently outlined to the grape men, Mr. Thorpe seems to be the logical selection. His problem is greater, but not different from that in the walnut industry—it consists in getting the growers to pulling together and keeping them that way.

There are 150,000 grape growers who have had, in the past, almost 150,000 different ideas as to how the collective business of all ought to be managed. The result has been a demoralized situation which has meant loss to all and bankruptcy to many. It is plain that almost any plan, adopted and carried out, is better than none.

It remains for the grape growers to get behind Mr. Thorpe and, for a time at least, take his orders. The industry has needed a leader. It now has one, but it and he will get nowhere unless the growers sink differences and follow him.

Mr. Teague evolved a plan, the success of which requires that 85 per cent or more of the grape acreage be brought under a single will, and a man has now been selected to carry it out who knows Mr. Teague's policies and methods. The rest is not easy, but at least a good start has been made.

GOLDEN GATE BRIDGE

After years of talk, typewriting, surveying, planning and replanning it is announced from San Francisco that the engineering department of that city is ready to submit its report on the proposed Golden Gate bridge to the War Department and will do so with little further delay.

The revised plans for the bridge, based on final determination of the pier foundations, call for a central span of 4200 feet, with side spans of 110 feet each, making the whole bridge, including approaches, 8500 feet long. The towers on the main piers will reach 760 feet above the water and will support cables three feet in diameter, carrying a roadway ninety feet in width. The clearance above the water will be 225 feet at mid-channel. The cable suspension type has been adopted because of faster construction and lower cost.

It is proposed to begin work on the huge structure, one of the largest of its kind, early in 1931 and to complete it not later than 1937. The six northern counties most interested in the project will hold an election after the August primary to vote a bond issue of $30,000,000 for the work. Very little opposition has developed to the project, which would afford San Francisco, Marin, Sonoma and other counties of the north a direct passenger and vehicular highway of great commercial and scenic value.

"The bridge is assured as a paying proposition," says Chief Engineer Strauss, "from the first year of its operation." It is to be hoped that Mr. Strauss's estimate may prove correct, for such a great enterprise, affording rapid and easy means of crossing the historic Golden Gate, is deserving of success.

SORROWS OF SATAN

After seeing a motion-picture show, a Massachusetts person wept for five days. That is how some of the comedy stuff affects us also; but we have tried to bear up with fortitude.

MARBLE MEMOIRS

The California cemetery managers in conference not long ago decided to discourage large tombstones. Regard them as monumental liars, likely!

ENDURING AS ETERNITY

By James J. Montague

When lovely woman waves her tresses
And pinks her slender finger tips,
And with a touch of color stresses
The curving contour of her lips,
Or has an artificial dimple
Impressed upon her rounded chin,
We say she should be sweet and simple,
As ancient ladies must have been.

In scriptural times, we say severely,
The sex made no such vain display,
And wives and daughters were not nearly
As dressy as they are today.
They gave their mind alone to duty,
They never curled or bobbed their locks,
And if they lacked in native beauty
They did not get it from a box.

But delving science now discovers
As you will learn from recent news,
That girls in Ur deceived their lovers
With craft and artifice and ruse.
And, when a maid was not as pretty
And popular as she could wish,
She did not pine, in sad self-pity,
But bought cosmetics, down in Kish.

And Eve, I'm quite persuaded, had 'em
And made her features fair to see
To keep her handsome husband Adam,
Devoted as a spouse should be.
For woman's mental operations
Through paint or powder smiles or tears,
Though time has reared and shattered nations,
Have never altered with the years.

The LEE SIDE O' LA

By Lee Shippey

SOME time ago this colyum quoted a motion-picture magnate's prophecy that in ten years Los Angeles will be the artistic center of the world — because talking pictures will draw dramatists, musicians, artists, singers, dancers, scientists—geniuses in all lines.

ERNO RAPEE

Fannie Hurst was present when the assertion was made, and we saw her eyebrows lift to question marks. But there is ground for belief that the prediction is coming true. Music, for instance, used to be only the accomplishment of the cultured. The talking screen is bringing it to everybody, and where else are so many world-famous composers gathered as in Holywood? Among them are Charles Wakefield Cadman, Erno Rapee, Oscar Strauss, Sigmund Romberg, Oscar Hammerstein, Rudolph Friml, Hugo Reisenfeld, Arthur Lang, Victor Baravelle, Josiah Zuro and Finaton.

Rapee a Champ Optimist

We of the hoi polloi may not recognize all these names, but sound pictures soon will make them known to all of us. Rapee, for instance, is said to be the wealthiest musician in the world. Alas the day when musicians are graded that way! But it always interests the public, so here goes. Rapee's contract is said to call for $135,000 a year for three years. He is in charge of all the music at Warner Brothers and First National, and Strauss, Romberg and Hammerstein are, in a way, under him. He came to Hollywood from the Roxy in New York, where he conducted a 115-piece orchestra. He also has conducted orchestras for the Rivoli, Rialto and Capitol theaters in New York and for U. F. A. in Berlin.

RUDOLPH FRIML

"But I never have seen such concentrated efforts to get good results as in Hollywood," he says. "The effect of this effort on the public is incalculable. It is only a question of time till our masses are educated to the love and appreciation of good music. But the vital need of pictures is new composers. Give me a new composer who knows his business and I will make him rich within a year. The industry can absorb all the worthwhile music which can be presented to it."

Chicago Takes a Cultural Lead!

Rapee says that sound pictures aren't going to take jobs away from musicians, but get them more, in the long run. "Chicago already has an ordinance requiring the operator of the sound apparatus in a theater to be a musician," he says, "so that no longer will the productions created by the master minds in the studios be given over to an operator without this training."

Hollywood Enlightens the World!

The song writers for films, Rapee says, go to more trouble and the studios go to more expense to get satisfactory results than ever was generally possible before. He composed the first theme song—for "What Price Glory," but now, he says, the operetta which requires no theme song is the vogue. "Song writers will always write for certain stories," he says. "Many wonder how appropriate songs are turned out simultaneously with the production. This is the method. The writer is given the script. He studies the idea of plot and settings. Jerome Kern, who is coming out here now, offers the best illustration. Before composing the splendid offerings for 'Show Boat' he went down South, alone, and lived for six months in the vicinity treated by the story. He hired local servants and lived and breathed in the atmosphere he wished to create on the screen.

OSCAR STRAUSS

"Did you know that the sale of pianos has increased since sound pictures came in? Did you realize that the sale of records had dropped in 1927 and is at peak today? More people are studying voice and piano today than ever before."

Rapee came to this country from Hungary eighteen years ago, but is a real southlander now. He has leased a house in Beverly Hills for three years and his wife and two children are there.

Study Languages, Too

Not only are more people generally studying voice and piano, but we imagine that more people are studying foreign languages. We told not long ago how Lon Chaney is studying Spanish. In a Paris newspaper yesterday we saw an advertisement inviting the Parisian public to hear Ramon Novarro sing—in French. Alexander Gray, the original "Red Shadow" in the New York production of "The Desert Song," is singing both the English and German versions of "Viennese Nights," an operetta now being made at Warner Brothers. Gray also sings and speaks French and Italian fluently.

The debut in talking pictures of Lawrence Tibbett, whom many of us consider the world's greatest baritone, was hailed as marking a new epoch. And quite recently John McCormack was dragged from his castle in Ireland to sing, for the screen, songs by Cadman. And of course we've all been delighted by Maurice Chevalier of France.

Yessiree, the world sure is Hollywood-bound.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

FORD OR DIET

[San Francisco Chronicle]

With Henry Ford taking a dip into dietetics almost anything may become possible in the way of eats. It can hardly be expected that Mr. Ford will stop short with his schedule of fruits for breakfast, proteins for luncheon and starches for dinner. That is a mere blue print, a very sketchy one at that, and who ever heard of Henry Ford accepting a blue print as the finished product?

A Ford assembling system for calories and vitamins is a logical next step. Feeding on the line with mass production of both appetite and digestion, all working together instead of one waiting on the other, is a worthy objective.

In the meantime, while the new system is being perfected, be careful not to have ham and eggs or sausage and hot cakes too often with your breakfast fruit—certainly not more than once a day.

EXHIBIT A

[New York Herald-Tribune]

It may be true that Zaro Agha, Turkey's longevity champion, is 156 years old, and it may be true also that in the course of his century and a half he never took a drink. Still, the project of the American Anti-Alcohol Society to import him and trot him about the country as Exhibit A (for Agha) in its case against the use of liquor is fraught with danger.

Zaro Agha's regular job, it is reported, is that of doorkeeper of the City Hall at Istanbul. For a man who has lived 156 years such an eminence will strike the average American as falling a little short of success. Is this, he will ask, the best that teetotalism can do for the faithful? Better fifty years of indulgence, he will say, than a cycle of abstinence topped off as a doorkeeper.

Another consideration: The venerable Zaro is said to have buried eleven wives since his debut in this vale of tears, which, incidentally, took place in the year preceding the Battle of Lexington. Two should have sufficed, counting two-score years and ten as the allotted span for a woman as well as a man, unless, of course, he practiced polygamy, which seems highly improbable on the salary of a doorkeeper. Hence one must conclude that whatever teetotalism did for Zaro, it proved anything but a blessing to the procession of fair ones whom one by one he laid tenderly to rest. We can think of no drinker, except Bluebeard, with such a tally.

In other words, the post hoc, propter hoc line of reasoning is a two-edged sword. If Zaro's longevity may be attributed to his abstinence, so may the other features of his career.

OUR NEW PLANET

BY RANSOME SUTTON

Up on Mt. Wilson no one has yet had a peep at the new planet. "We've been singing in the rain," Dr. Seth B. Nicholson explained. "Singing because of the rain, and also because a lost member of our solar family has been finally located."

The location, however, is not very definite: "Between Jupiter and Neptune, along the ecliptic." That is like telling people to look for a man on the horizon, between Galveston and San Diego. But no one doubts the discovery of this ninth planet. It has really been discovered three times. First, by mathematicians several years ago. It was discovered by them just as J. C. Adams and a young French astronomer, named Leverrier, separately and almost simultaneously calculated that the then undiscovered Neptune must exist, because something periodically pulled Uranus out of its regular orbit. In the second place, it was discovered as a tiny streak on a photograph taken January 21, by Clyde Tombaugh, the 25-year-old photographer of the Lowell Observatory. The telescope had been set on a fixed star, and the planet, moving across the field, left a tiny streak on the film. Tombaugh detected the streak on the 18th of February, and the planet which made the streak has since been seen by Director V. M. Slipher and members of his staff. It is difficult, therefore, to say when, or by whom, it was actually discovered.

Astronomers know a good many facts about this unnamed planet already. They know, for example, that if it obeys Bode's Law its orbit lies about 7,000,000,000 miles away from the sun. The distance to Neptune is only a little over half as far, yet the sunlight it receives is not much more intense than ordinary starlight. And the new planet, being nearly twice as far off, receives only about one-fourth as much sunlight as Neptune, for the intensity of light varies inversely as the square of the distance. Hence it must be unimaginably cold, for the sun-produced temperature of Neptune is 220 deg. centigrade below zero. Unless it is warmed by internal heat, therefore, the temperature of the new planet must be close to absolute zero, 273 deg. below zero centigrade, which is as cold as interstellar space—as cold as cold can be.

There is no more guessing about the temperatures of heavenly bodies than about earth temperatures. Thermocouples are used as thermometers and the smaller the thermocouple the more sensitive it is. I saw Dr. Edison Pettit of the Mt. Wilson Observatory make a very delicate one a few days ago. It had to be made under a microscope, for the materials were too tiny to see without the microscope. A very simple device, it consisted of two wires—one bismuth and the other an alloy of bismuth—soldered together at one end like a letter "V." When light strikes the soldered junction, a thermo-electric current is started, then if the two wires are connected with a galvanometer the swing of the needle tells the temperature of the body from which the light comes. Pettit's thermocouples will measure down to one-millionth of one degree and he can take the temperature of any object the 100-inch telescope can see. He and Dr. Nicholson took the temperature of Mercury, the planet nearest the sun, a short time ago, and found it to be 350 deg. centigrade, or 662 deg. Fahrenheit, above zero, the heat being intense enough to liquefy lead.

Our family of planets is the largest known. As a matter of fact, only about one star in every 100,000 has planets, so the sun has more than its share of children. According to the Nebular Hypothesis, the new planet is the oldest, for it would have been formed out of the flaming materials which the rapidly rotating gaseous sun billions of years ago threw off—like a pinwheel throwing off fire. Likewise, according to the tidal theory, it is the oldest of the nine. This theory holds that "when two stars pass close to each other, the primary effect must be that each raises tides on the other. . . . If the approach is very close, indeed, the tides may assume an entirely different aspect from the feeble tides which the sun and moon raise in our oceans; they may take the exaggerated forms of high mountains of matter moving over the surface of the star. An even closer approach may transform these mountains into long arms of gas drawn out from the body of the star." Then these amputated arms of gas gravitate into separate stars. If the planets were thus formed, they blazed awhile as small-sized stars, cooled down gradually and finally paled into planets, which no longer emit light of their own. And the farther out a planet is the older it must be.

In addition to the nine regular planets, the solar system contains about 1300 little planets, ninety-nine of which were discovered by Prof. Max Wolf of Heidelberg last year—with a sixteen-inch camera telescope. These planetesimals all lie in an otherwise vacant orbit between Mars and Jupiter where, according to Bode's Law, a regular planet would be, if some cosmic catastrophe had not happened. Dr. Nicholson blames Jupiter for the catastrophe. Due to its tremendous close-at-hand gravitational pull, the planetary stuff in the orbit was either kept from uniting, or it was pulled to pieces after it gathered together. The largest of the planetesimals is Ceres, with a diameter of 480 miles. There are hundreds no larger than Eros, and it is nothing but a bone-dry rock, fifteen miles in diameter, without any atmosphere, or clouds, or life, or even enough gravity to pull back a stone which a man might throw into space.

It is the most interesting family in all the heavens, with children of all sizes up to Jupiter, which is 1312 times as voluminous as the earth, and no one knows where the sun is taking its big, miscellaneous brood.

LETTERS TO The Times

A Tip From San Diego

LOS ANGELES, March 13.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Some few weeks ago The Times published an article under the caption, "Married Women to Lose Jobs," and referred to a decision of the Board of Supervisors of San Diego county to act in respect to married women with independent incomes now employed by that county. Supervisors E. A. Hornbeck and Edgar Hastings were made members of a committee to check over the county pay roll in search of such women.

I wonder if the taxpayers of Los Angeles county could borrow the services of these Supervisors to check our records? There is much unemployment here, too much, and many of these unemployed are men and women with dependents, taxpayers and property owners and they are tramping wearily day after day searching for employment while at the same time this city and county of ours employs literally hundreds of women whose husbands also hold good positions with the city and county. One case of many, a man is employed by the city at a salary of $600 a month, his wife "works" for the county at a salary of $175 a month, and three months ago their daughter, aged 22, was hired by the county at a salary of $125 a month. I know several women of my acquaintance with the county who have their maids to care for the home, no children, and husbands holding good positions.

Take a walk through the Hall of Records and the Hall of Justice and see these hard-working women "working." If The Times does stand for fair play and consideration for the unemployed (not Communists) who are pleading for a chance to work to care for their dependents don't accept the writer's word for it, but make your own investigations and after verifying the truth of this urge our Supervisors to follow the example set by San Diego county. CITIZEN.

Other Julian Deals

LOS ANGELES, March 15.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I note by some of the newspapers of the 14th that C. C. Julian is in another suit, now being tried over the Western Lead Company. Ask him how he can guarantee the old stockholders of the Julian Pete anything on money again invested with him, according to his recent circular letters, when he sold the Western Lead stock to the public at from 50 cents to $3.50 per share, and today it cannot be sold for anything (100 per cent loss.) The Julian Pump Company he sold the stock for $1, today it is worth 5 cents (95 per cent loss.) Units in wells 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12 and Pico he sold for $100 per unit. These are not worth over $5 per unit on the market (95 per cent loss.)

Just ask him why, out of four companies, he organized as per above and sold stock to the public, pocketing all commissions, besides part of the principal, that the people who invested with him lost 95 to 100 per cent of their investment?

E. S. SMITH.

Wet and Dry Press

GLENDALE, March 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] For a long time I have been wanting to congratulate you upon your firm and uncompromising stand for prohibition. Your editorials are lucid and logical, and I wish they might be read by people of all cities in the country, for they would tend to offset the disgraceful tendency of the great majority of "leading" papers to fight against prohibition, one of the greatest blessings of mankind.

I travel a great deal from coast to coast and read most of the newspapers of various cities. I know of only three of them—the Los Angeles Times, Christian Science Monitor and Kansas City Star—that speak out for the drys in no uncertain tones. I am proud of Kansas City, my former home. Hate to pick up any of the New York, Chicago or Detroit papers, for they are all hopelessly wet or inclined that way. New York World and Chicago Tribune probably are the most outstanding of the wet sheets. They are constantly demanding repeal.

It is plain that there is no better field for a campaign against liquor than in the offices of great city newspapers, with their enormous circulations.

FIRED AT FORTY

When Jabez Jimpson lost his job he heaved a deep, heart-rending sob, and sighed, "It isn't fair; I am an able, useful man, and yet to me they're due can because I have gray hair. I've worked in my employer's store for seventeen long years or more, and faithfully I've wrought; I've learned the trade from A to Z, and now he puts the lid on me with no remorseful thought. I am as active and as strong as any chap who comes along, as any younger jay; my faculties are not decayed, yet my employer bids me fade, because my hair is gray." He tells his story up and down in all the corners of the town, his narrative of woes; and many say it is a shame, he is the victim of a game that much too common grows. "A man should be capable," men say, "should not because his mane is gray, he turned out with the scrap; a man at forty ought to be more useful than at twenty-three, for then he's learned his oats by perience in any line should be considered something fine, and he has that to burn; yet when he is told to chase, and some young aleck takes his place, he has all things to learn." The man who did the firing of without much sympathy or fuss was willing to explain: "You Jabez skate," he said. "You since was useful to a member prince, then he was safe and sane. He learned the ropes when he was young, and to all methods still he clings in his maturer years; he simply couldn't realize that everything that's ancient dies when something new appears. He was deploring every day the fact that customs passed away till he became a bore; and all who modern made him sigh for the nice quiet place to die." handicapped the store."

WEDNESDAY MORNING:
BURNED STILLS' OWNERS SOUGHT
Fire Destroys Large Plant in Downey Area
Operators Flee With Truck Load of Liquor
Six in Signal Hill District Under Arrest
Operators of a liquor-manufacturing plant about a quarter of a mile west of the Downey Cemetery road, which burned to the ground Monday night, were being sought yesterday by officers working out of the office of Capt. Benton, head of the Sheriff's liquor detail.
Arriving at the burned plant, a frame and sheet-iron building supposedly used as a chemical laboratory, the officers found four stills of 300 gallons' capacity each, twenty-six 500-gallon vats containing a total of 15,000 gallons of mash and a large assortment of liquor-manufacturing equipment. The fire call originally was answered by deputy sheriffs of the Norwalk substation, who confiscated three gallons of alcohol and notified the liquor detail when they saw the stills in the building.
Investigating officers learned that the fire broke out while a truck was being loaded with liquor at the building. The truck and men leading it disappeared when the fire got out of their control.
Coincidentally, Capt. Benton disclosed that Deputy Sheriffs Farmer and Sutton had cleaned out an armed hotbed of liquor operations in the Signal Hill district late Monday night and early yesterday morning arrested six asserted bootleggers, seizing a large quantity of bottled liquor intended for retail trade and four automobiles.
The following persons were arrested and charged with various offenses, including sale, transportation and possession: A. F. Dorman, J. T. Dunning, Allen Burnette, Jack Skinner, R. C. Phelps and W. E. Morrell.

F. J. SMITH IN RACE FOR TREASURER

Former Prison Warden to Contest With Johnson for G.O.P. Nomination

FRANK J. SMITH

Frank J. Smith, former State Printer and recently warden of San Quentin, yesterday announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for State Treasurer, with campaign headquarters at 290 Wilcox Building.

The former warden will contest for the nomination at the primaries August 26, next, in opposition to Charles G. Johnson, incumbent, of Alameda, who is seeking election to a third term. Smith has been a resident of Los Angeles for twenty-eight years and has extensive realty interests here. He expects his greatest support to come from the southern part of the State.

In the State position formerly held by Smith, his slogan was, "Make good—don't make promises." He says this same principle will characterize his present campaign for State Treasurer.

Auction Today by Government

Today the government will go into the auctioneering and second-hand business and continue the activities for several days. United States Marshal Sittel at 11 a.m. today will offer for sale the gas motor boat Harold O, near Berth 109, San Pedro.

Tomorrow an airplane, known as the Ansaldo type, with a Fiat engine, will be sold at 11 a.m. at the Balloon School at Arcadia Field. On Friday at 11 a.m. at the Coast Guard base at San Pedro a gas screw boat, the Ripple, will be sold.

On April 3 personal possessions, including 170 bales of hay, two mules, gas engines and other apparatus, seized in a rum raid, will be sold at the Nick Bruno ranch near Elsinore.

On April 4 the contents of duffel bags and suit cases of eleven deceased sailors will be sold at the office of the marshal at 10 a.m.

ONCE IT MIRRORED GRECIAN BEAUTIES

Nancy Carroll With the Mirror

An ancient Grecian mirror of polished bronze is among Grecian antiques now on display at the Los Angeles Public Library.

Nancy Carroll, film actress, visited the library yesterday to see the mirror which its owner, Victor Merlo of Los Angeles, values at $10,000. The slightly convex surface of the mirror was polished highly to reflect its users, the ancient Greeks not having discovered the use of glass, according to Merlo.

The mirror was recovered from Herculaneum, an ancient city near Naples, Italy, buried by molten lava in the eruption of Mt. Vesuvius that buried Pompeii in A.D. 79.

The mirror, many hand-painted Grecian vases and other unusual antiques are included in the Merlo exhibit, which will continue at the Public Library until the 31st inst.

DR. RAYNER WILL SPEAK

"Psychology in Everyday Life" will be discussed by Dr. Ernest A. Rayner, professor of psychology at the University of Southern California, before a luncheon-meeting of the Vermont-Vernon Business Association today.

DOCK ELECTED INSTITUTE HEAD

Medical Expert to Lead in Marital Aid Move

Scores Already Have Sought Unusual Service

Applicants Set Forth Wide Range of Problems

Formal organization of the Institute of Family Relations, a philanthropic foundation recently inaugurated here to make available the discoveries of science for those preparing to marry or already married, was completed yesterday at a meeting of members at the University Club when Dr. George Dock, former dean of the college of medicine of Washington University, St. Louis, was elected president. Other officers selected are Mrs. Myron Hunt, vice-president, Paul Popenoe, secretary, and Euclid McBride of Pasadena, treasurer.

In addition to the officers, the first board of directors will consist of Dr. John Vruwink, E. S. Ryland, secretary of the Church Federation; Justin Miller, dean of the U. S. C. law school; John R. Haynes, E. S. Gosney, and John F. B. Carruthers.

In a report to the members of the institute, Director Popenoe said that during the preliminary period in which the offices of the institute in the Chamber of Commerce Building have been open several hundred visitors have called to make inquiries about the service, which is the first organized effort of its kind ever attempted in the United States.

The first fifty real applicants for help, he said, showed a wide range of problems, including special information for aid in preparing papers for women's clubs, sex problems, specific problems of heredity, premarital examination, legal problems, advice concerning qualifications for marriage, problems of child welfare and help in getting a mate.

He announced two new types of service in addition to that already given: consultation concerning the proposed adoption of children and determination of disputed paternity.

The institute operates on a non-profit basis and its transactions are confidential.

HATFIELD ON WAY HERE IN AIDE'S CASE

United States Attorney of Bay City Interested in Arrest of Farrell

U. S. Atty. Hatfield of San Francisco last night was reported en route here to investigate the arrest of Danny Farrell, reported to be an ex-convict informer for Federal agents, who was seized last week on suspicion of having been connected with a series of oil station robberies.

Chief of Detectives Taylor and Inspector of Detectives Longuevan were not formally informed that the Federal officer was en route here, but they indicated that if he is interested in the Farrell case they are prepared to show him evidence they say is conclusive against Farrell.

Farrell is asserted to have been the person who gave the government valuable information that led to the arrest of Antone (Black Tony) and William Parmigini, so-called heads of a coast-wide narcotic ring.

He is said by Harry V. Williamson, Federal narcotic chief at San Francisco, to have been sent to Los Angeles to continue undercover work among dope peddlers and was arrested by local police on the 11th inst.

"I haven't heard from Mr. Hatfield," Chief Taylor said, "I don't know what he will ask for when he gets here, but I shall inform him that Farrell, an ex-convict, was arrested in possession of a gun; that we have what we believe is good evidence against him in the robbery affair and intend to prosecute him to the best of our ability."

Trigg Garner's Funeral Rites Will Be Today

Funeral services for the late Trigg Garner, first vice-president of the Morris Plan Company, who died Sunday, will be conducted at the family residence, 354 South Lucerne Boulevard, this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and will be in charge of Dr. E. N. Aker. Interment will be made in the mausoleum at Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Active pallbearers will be W. H. Workman, W. F. P. Smith, B. L. Hamer, Ed W. Moses, Albert E. Holmes, William H. McGee, Dr. C. M. Denbrook and Harry Lee Martin. Honorary pallbearers will be Harold L. Arnold, Edgar Baruch, E. W. Clark, J. E. Cook, F. A. Collman, Richard J. Dillon, Isadore B. Dockweiler, E. S. Gosney, Paul M. Gregg, P. E. Hatch, George B. Jess, J. A. H. Smith, Walker Smith, H. I. Stuart, Theodore F. Thieme and Howard W. Wright.

TWO GIVEN DIVORCES AFTER LIQUOR STORIES

Disregard of the prohibition laws caused two divorces in Superior Court yesterday. Mrs. Mary Evelyn Duby was divorced in Judge McComb's court from Edwin Joseph Duby, Pasadena laundry employee, because he went home drunk and told his wife it was none of her business where he had been, she testified. Judge Archbald heard about the case of Mrs. Theola Young, who asserted that Emmett B. Young, former police officer, neglected his work because of his love for liquor and kept her mentally upset. She was awarded the custody of four children.

Of Interest to Women

Society

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

Formal announcement is made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Evans of Ocean Park of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jessie Evans, to Kenneth F. Inglehart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Inglehart of Santa Monica. No date is announced as yet for the wedding.

Felicitations

Congratulations are being extended Mr. and Mrs. John Louis Binsley of Geneva avenue, Glendale, over the arrival the 13th inst. of a tiny son who is to be called Glenn Warren Binsley. Mrs. Binsley was formerly Miss Helen Hornbeck, and the little stranger is being gladly welcomed by his elder brother, John Louis, Jr., who has just passed his second birthday anniversary.

Smart Affair

Mrs. E. J. Owenhouse of Bozeman, Mont., who is passing the winter in Southern California, and Mrs. William Hamilton Cline will be co-hostesses tomorrow afternoon at a luncheon and bridge given at the Hollywood Athletic Club. Forty guests have been bidden, many of them being former Montana residents, now making their home here. Mrs. Owenhouse, who passes her winters in Los Angeles, entertained for another group of Montanans at the Elks Club recently, the affair being in the nature of an elaborate dinner and bridge party.

In the North

Mrs. N. Bradford Trenham accompanied Mr. Trenham on a trip to San Francisco, where the latter will address the annual convention of Public School Business Officials, Association. They are domiciled at The Palace Hotel while in San Francisco and from there plan to motor to Sacramento on the way home, being away for several weeks.

St. Patrick's Party

Mrs. George Elwell Smyth entertained members of the Bachelorae at her home in Santa Monica Monday evening, the affair being a supper and bridge. Those included were Mrs. Ralph Maddox, Miss Leona Hartmann, Miss Wesla Gregg, Miss Louise Tappan, Miss Edna Bader, Miss Ester King, Miss Mary Billings and the hostess.

For Bride-elect

Saturday afternoon a charmingly appointed bridge tea was given at the home of Mrs. James A. Scharfe (Margaret Johnson) of Schisel Terrace, Moreno Highlands, the affair announcing the engagement of Miss Alice Johnson, sister of the hostess, to John H. Button of Pasadena.

The Saint Patrick motif was used exclusively, the announcement being made by tiny scrolls tied to white candles in green holders, placed in individual cakes. Tea was poured by Mrs. Clyde Jordan and Miss Evelyn Edlund at a beautifully appointed table.

The wedding is to be an event of next September.

Those bidden included Mrs. J. A. Johnson, Mrs. H. C. Roper, Mrs. Clyde Jordan, Mrs. C. F. Berry, Mrs. William Fredericks, Mrs. Murry Futterman, Mrs. R. A. Johnson, Mrs. Jack Junemann, Miss Eunice Blackman, Miss Irma Batz, Miss Irene Dehler, Miss Evelyn Edlund, Miss Katherine Heck, Miss Pauline Hendrickson, Miss Fern Flood, Miss Sybil McCann, Miss Lee Poulson, Miss Dorothy Wagenback, Miss Helen Williams, Miss Katherine Wright and the honor guest.

In New Home

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Paul, who have moved recently into their lovely new home at 729 South Plymouth Boulevard, are issuing invitations for a tea, Wednesday afternoon the 26th inst., the hours being from 4 to 6 o'clock.

Betrothal Bridge

Announcing her engagement to John Chandler Mitchell, a charmingly appointed affair was given Saturday afternoon by Miss Betty Leonard at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Willard Leonard, 6626 Cahuenga Terrace, the St. Patrick's Day motif being effectively carried out in the decorations and appointments, even to the frock of the charming little hostess, the news being told by individual bouquets of green sweet peas with cards concealed bearing the names of the betrothed.

Bridge featured the afternoon's entertainment. The guests, most of them classmates at University of California at Los Angeles, where the bride-elect was recently graduated, included Mmes. Jack Asgard, Jack Aagard, Jr., Clyde Swenson, George E. Mitchell, J. Enright McInerney, Gene Johnston, Jack Grout, Martin Mercer, Lester Brinkman, George Lovejoy, Jr., Wallace Fox, Elgin Houseman, Edward Kengle, A. Clinton Cooke, Raymond Jones, George McKenzie and Russell Dixon and Misses Winifred Easton, Gretchen Hoehn, Judy Felton, Virginia Kemper, Elizabeth Howard, Jane Hare, Margaret Wadley, Jean Kane, Carol Shaw and Jean Stedman.

The wedding is to be an event of the latter part of June, the ceremony to take place in the Church of the Blessed Sacrament in Hollywood.

Musicale Tea

Among the enjoyable affairs of the week-end was the musicale and tea given by Max Straus at his home, 610 North Beverly Drive, Beverly Hills, the program being presented by Eugene List and Glen Ellison, who gave a group of songs and legends of Hebridean Islands, arranged by Marjorie Kennedy Frazer, who lived among the clansmen and wrote music of their songs, including "The Sacred Wild Swan," "The Milking Croon," "The Sealswomen's Sea Joy," Ouchullin's Lament for Her Son" and several others. Mr. Ellison wore the Highlander's kilts. Mrs. Sidney Graham wife of Capt. Graham, U. S. N., retired, gave three numbers and Mr. Ellison closed the program with a group of English songs.

Bowls of spring flowers and foliage adorned the living rooms while yellow and green was the color motif of the dining room. Mr. Straus was assisted by Miss Ann Murphy, Miss Margaret Weber of Pasadena, and Miss Lucile Murphy of Beverly Hills. One hundred guests were bidden and among those from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Martin L. Straus of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stern of Baltimore, Countess Rena de Leguna, Misses Amelia and Katie Wiess of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stern of St. Louis, Miss Gertrude Proctor of Seattle, Wash., and Miss Mildred Whitcomb, who has just returned from an extended sojourn in Western Europe.

Last of Series

The last concert of the Biltmore series of the Bartlett Frankel String Quartet, will take place in the foyer of the ballroom of the Biltmore, Friday evening. Assisting Mrs. Cecil Frankel, founder of the quartet, will be Mrs. Judson Claudius Rives, Mrs. Charles Henry Thompson, Miss Margaret Dent, Mrs. R. D. Shepherd, Mrs. Sloan-Orcutt, Mrs. Philip Zobelein, Mrs. Frank William Davey and Mrs. Norah L. Puterbaugh.

TOURIST SEES FORBIDDEN CITY

Angeleno Visits Palaces in Peiping

Mrs. Lucille Janeway Monnette

WHILE circumnavigating the globe on the Red Star liner Belgenland Mrs. Lucile Janeway Monnette of Los Angeles, recently had an opportunity to enter the Forbidden City at Peiping, which until the revolution in China had been entered only by Chinese royalty and ambassadors of foreign powers. The Belgenland party was permitted to wander at will through the former private quarters of China's rulers, and have pictures taken in the sacred precincts of the palace courtyards. After viewing the Forbidden City the party was permitted to see the Summer Palace, where the Dowager Empress made her home until a few years ago. They saw the private apartments of the Empress, and even some of her toilet articles, and clothing, as she left them. The Belgenland party is now in India.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

FISH AU GRATIN

Cook two pounds of white fish of any kind until tender, drain and flake the fish, removing all skin and bones, while still hot, break apart in rather large pieces, add to it two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one tablespoonful of lemon juice, a seasoning of salt, paprika and a teaspoonful of onion juice, and allow to stand for an hour and one-half, then make a white sauce of two tablespoonfuls of butter, two tablespoonfuls of flour, a seasoning of salt and pepper, and one cupful of milk; for this amount of fish, double the recipe for the sauce. Mix the sauce with the fish and place it in a baking dish, melt two tablespoonfuls of butter, add three-fourths of a cupful of bread crumbs, mix thoroughly and cover the fish with the mixture. Brown in a hot oven and serve at once.

LIMA BEAN SOUP

One cupful of dry lima beans, one and one-half quarts of cold water, one sliced carrot, one-half onion sliced, two tablespoonfuls of chopped parsley, one tablespoonful of pepper corns, two cupfuls of milk, two tablespoonfuls of Worcestershire sauce, a few drops of tobasco and a seasoning of salt, wash the beans, cover with water and soak for three hours, drain the water off, add the amount of water given and cook slowly until tender, after cooking for half an hour, add the vegetables and pepper corns, when tender rub through a sieve, there should be three cupfuls of pulp and liquid, if not, add enough more water to make up the amount. Heat the milk to the scalding point, combine it with the bean pulp and seasonings, just before serving.

PEACH VELVET CAKE

One and one-half cupfuls of sliced peaches, one-third of a cupful of crushed pineapple, three eggs, one-half a cupful of butter, one cupful of powdered sugar, one cupful of whipping cream, two dozen stale lady fingers, or stale sponge cake. Crush the peaches and mix with the pineapple, and place in a double boiler, beat the eggs and add to the fruit mixture, stirring constantly until thick. Remove from the fire and chill. Cream the butter, add the sugar to it gradually and when the fruit is cold, add the creamed butter and sugar. Whip the cream and fold it into the fruit mixture, line a mold with waxed paper, cover the bottom and sides with the lady fingers or stale cake, place a layer of the fruit mixture in the center, cover with a layer of the cake, and then fruit, making the last layer of the cake. Chill for twelve hours, unmold and garnish with whipped cream and sliced peaches.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department of PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

DIPPER HAS A GOOD MEAL

The whole world has a new appeal
When you've enjoyed a hearty meal.

—Dipper the Grebe.

When Dipper the Grebe came down on the Green Meadows, because he simply couldn't make those wings of his take another stroke, he was in despair. Had Mrs. Quack been in his place, or Mr. Quack either for that matter, the case would not have seemed so hopeless. You see, Ducks can waddle. They can travel quite a distance on those webbed feet of theirs. But a Grebe's legs are so short that he can go only a few feet and then pitch forward. A Grebe wasn't intended for traveling on land.

"Dear me!" thought Dipper. "Whatever shall I do now? If my poor wings had only held out just a little longer, I should have reached the Big River. Now I'll starve to death before I can get there. Indeed, I doubt if I could get there even if I didn't starve. I guess it is all up with me. Some hungry person will surely find me and that will be the end of me."

Dipper lay right where he fell for a long time. In fact, he was right there when Flip the Terrier discovered him. Of course, Flip was tremendously excited and he barked as if he would bark his head off. Dipper didn't like that barking. He was afraid. Oh, yes, Dipper was afraid. He didn't know what sort of a creature Flip was, but he did know that he was big enough to be dangerous. But, even though he were afraid, Dipper had no intention of giving up without a fight. He would fight for his life just as long as there was any life to fight for. And then came that two-legged creature, which you know as Farmer Brown's Boy.

Farmer Brown's Boy picked Dipper up.

Farmer Brown's Boy picked Dipper up. Dipper struck at him two or three times. Then he was quiet. Somehow, there was something very soothing about the touch of Farmer Brown's Boy's hand. Dipper was terribly frightened. Of course. Wouldn't you be terribly frightened if a great giant picked you up and carried you off? Just the same, Dipper couldn't help but feel that he might be a whole lot worse off. In fact, he suspected that, had he remained unfound on the Green Meadows, it would have been a lot worse for him than being carried off by Farmer Brown's Boy.

Farmer Brown's Boy whistled as he carried Dipper up to the house. He took him inside and showed him to Mother Brown. Then he put some water in a tub and in this he put Dipper. Right away Dipper began to feel better. Yes, sir, he began to feel better. He felt quite at home in the water. But he couldn't get out of that tub. He was just as much a prisoner in that tub of water as if he had been locked in a cage. You see, he couldn't fly out, because he couldn't get going enough to rise out of the water. He couldn't jump out, because his legs were too short.

Farmer Brown's Boy took a net and went back to the Smiling Pool. There was a certain open place there where Farmer Brown's Boy was certain he could catch some minnows. He knew that Dipper needed food and that nothing would taste as good to him as fish. When he returned he had a pailful of minnows. He dropped one in the tub where Dipper was. There was an exciting minute and then that minnow disappeared headfirst down the throat of Dipper. Two more followed. Dipper's eyes had brightened. He looked almost happy. As a matter of fact, he was almost happy.

"I guess matters are not so bad as I thought they were," said Dipper to himself. "This is the first time I ever had fish without the trouble of catching them."

You needn't risk health or comfort

Women can now select the same sanitary protection that 85% of America's leading hospitals prefer

YOUR health, your nerves, your vitality suffer if the proper health protection is not observed at certain times. And one of the most important safeguards to health is the right sanitary protection.

Let hospitals guide you

Now you can let hospitals guide you in your choice of sanitary protection, because 85% of them, the great outstanding hospitals of America, today use the very same material of which Kotex is made! This is Cellucotton (not cotton) absorbent wadding . . . a cellulose substance which, for sanitary purposes, performs the same sanitary function as the finest cotton, but with five times the absorbency.

Think what this means! It means that they have found Kotex absorbent more efficient, more comfortable for their patients, just as you will find Kotex more comfortable for regular use.

The layers upon layers of Cellucotton remove the moisture quickly from the surface, and keep it comfortable, safe, dainty.

The fact that Kotex deodorizes is another aid to daintiness. And—the first reason that many women began using Kotex: it is disposable, instantly and completely. That alone is enough to have changed the hygienic habits of women all over the world.

Kotex Company, Chicago, Ill.

KOTEX IS SOFT . . .

1—Not a deceptive softness, that soon packs into chafing hardness. But a delicate, fleecy softness that lasts for hours.

2—Safe, secure. . . keeps your mind at ease.

3—Deodorizes, safely, thoroughly, by a special process.

4—Disposable completely instantly.

In addition to these treatments it is usually advisable to place the patient on a liquid diet during the process of correcting the faulty positions of the intestines. This relieves the intestines of the weight of large quantities of food and also allows them to become healed of any inflammation.

Every doctor who treats digestive disturbances should be thoroughly familiar with the technique which I have just described, as it is certainly more important to correct a kink by straightening it out than to give a medicine with the hope of pushing the packed material through. With the bloodless method which I have just described the cure is permanent, whereas, with many of the common practices, the kinks and adhesions tend to become gradually worse.

Patients should never permit themselves to be treated by any inferior method, as any doctor can learn this technique if he is willing to spend the time.

DOES AN ALIEN WORD THROW YOUR FAMILY INTO UPHEAVAL?

Slang words and phrases run through the country like wildfire. They impress us momentarily because they are silly or amusing or peculiarly apt. We use them until we eventually tire of them. All such words die early deaths and are seldom revived. Who says, "Twenty-three skidoo!" any more? At one time it was a positive disease.

Knowing how easy it is to pick up new words, why can't parents be more patient and tolerant with children when they do the same thing? Children constantly hear new words with which they are sure to be impressed if they are words never heard in their own families.

Having arrived home and thrown a nice big "damn" into the midst of the family, the child discovers that it bursts like a bomb. Mother is horrified. Perhaps she runs for the soap. She tells him how wicked he is, how no one likes children who use such naughty, naughty words and how terrible it makes her feel, and what will grandma say when she hears that her sweet little grandson used such a dreadful word! Naturally, the child will say it again. That word is good for fireworks any time, and especially if there is some neighbor or relative to hear it.

DOES ALL THE FUSS HELP?

Isn't it silly? Aren't mothers doing it everywhere in exactly the same way, and aren't they discovering that despite the ado, young son goes right on repeating it and picking up other words that throw the family into a turmoil? Don't blame it on the neighbors or other children, saying, "My child never heard such words at home!" That very fact is probably the reason the child finds the new word so enchanting. The whole thing is pretty much of a tempest in a teapot. Neglect will kill the word far more easily than trying to choke it to death.

If the mother says nothing when the child utters a new word, but instead looks rather blank, he finds his effort wasted. He says it repeatedly with no response from his parents. So he stops saying it. It is no fun, has no effect on this household, and so far as he can see has no meaning at all.

Don't take my word for this method of procedure. Just see how ineffective a word becomes unless we make it effective ourselves. If the word is like a horn at whose sound everyone claps hands over ears, it is an impressive word. If everyone looks blank—well, what's the use of saying it?

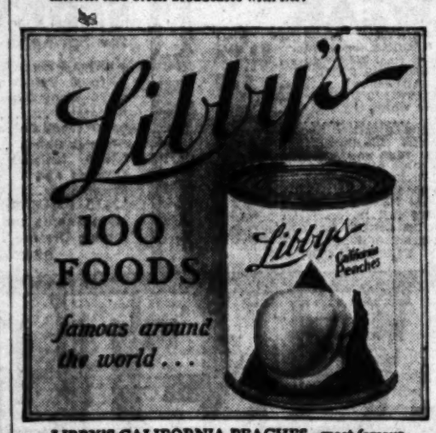
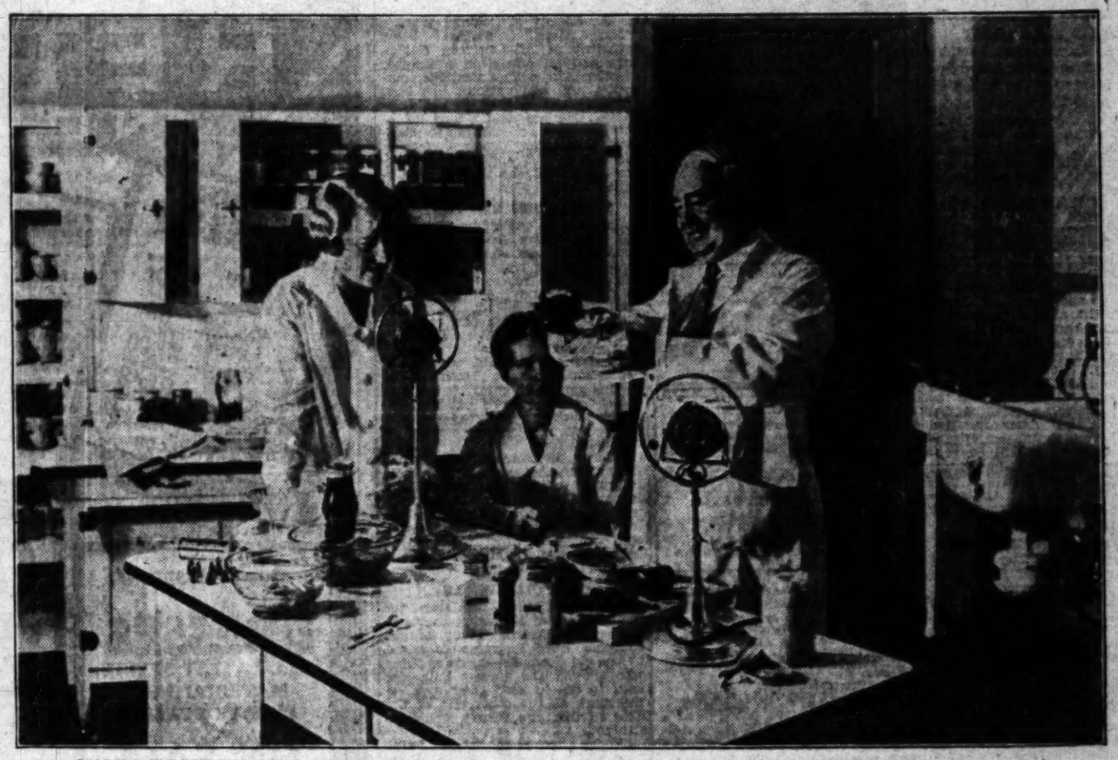
MARIO CHAMLEE, the Metropolitan tenor whom many call the new Caruso. Mr. Chamlee is one of the famous guest artists who are featured with the Libby Concert Orchestra in Libby's Tuesday programs (8:30 P. M. Eastern Time). Each week Libby takes us by the magic of music to visit one of the many countries where Libby's 100 Foods are enjoyed.

MRS. ORA B. SNYDER, maker of Mrs. Snyder's famous candies. Mrs. Snyder recently visited Miss Martin's Chicago kitchen (shown at right), and their conversation on the subject of candy making was broadcast to the immense audience that tunes in every Wednesday morning over a network of N. B. C. stations for Mary Hale Martin's Household Period.

GEORGE RECTOR, famous in France and America for his culinary lore. Mr. Rector, one-time proprietor of Rector's celebrated restaurants in New York and Chicago, is the only American who has ever been awarded the medal of the Société des Cuisiniers de Paris. He is a frequent visitor in Miss Martin's kitchen and often broadcasts with her.



LIBBY'S CALIFORNIA PEACHES—most famous of over 100 famous foods, now being featured in a series of interesting advertisements appearing in this paper. Libby's 100 Foods are famous around the world. They include California Fruits, Hawaiian Pineapple, Canned Meats, Vegetables, Pickles and Condiments, Alaska Salmon, and Evaporated Milk



MARY HALE MARTIN, Libby's Home Economics Expert, her assistant, and George Rector, famous restaurateur, in Libby, McNeill & Libby's specially constructed laboratory-kitchen. Here Miss Martin experiments with Libby's Famous 100 Foods, and broadcasts her popular Wednesday morning radio talks. Today she will tell you about some unusual spring salads. Mr. Rector, a famed authority on both French and American cooking, now Director of Cuisine for the Milwaukee Road, often collaborates with her in these talks.

PEACH SALAD SURPRISE, made with Libby's California Peaches. The recipe for this unusual salad will be given in Miss Martin's talk this morning. There's a surprise hiding under the big peach half—tune in today and find out what it is! And remember, the recipes given in Mary Hale Martin's Household Period are printed on cards and sent free to all who write her for them.

MARY HALE MARTIN—whose name and voice are familiar to thousands of women the country over. Every Wednesday morning she broadcasts a newsy household talk from her specially constructed kitchen in Libby, McNeill & Libby's Chicago plant. Miss Martin's subject today will be "Unusual Spring Salads," and her talk will be full of interesting recipes and suggestions.

AN EARLY AMERICAN DINING ROOM in the heart of a great cannery. Panelled walls, corner cupboards, old pewter, trestle table, Welsh dresser, and Yorkshire chairs of maple contribute to the mellow charm of this dining room in Libby, McNeill & Libby's Chicago plant—a dining room specially built so that dishes made with Libby's 100 Foods may be served as they would be in your own home. HOOVER IN RADIO PROGRAM TODAY

Pershing Also Scheduled to be Heard on Air

World War Memorial Will be Dedicated

KFWB Makes Request for Increased Power

The Times Forum, KHJ, 1:30 p.m.: Prof. Alan Nichols, discussing the Seventh National and Fifth International Oratorical Contest on the Constitution. World-wide news, 12:15; 4:45 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

President Hoover, Gen. Pershing and Senator Fess will be heard in a broadcast blanketing the nation today from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. at the dedication of the memorial to the Heroic American of the World War in Washington. Radio will record another triumph in bringing this historic event to millions of American homes.

Because of this broadcast, which will be handled locally by both KHJ and KECA, the world-wide news will be given from the tower of The Times at 12:15 instead of 12:30 o'clock.

The memorial building will be presented to the American people by Gen. Pershing, following musical selections by the United States Marine Band and the invocation by Chaplain Yates of the United States Army. Gen. Pershing will be introduced by Senator Fess and the building will be accepted by President Hoover. Miss Mabel Bordman of the American Red Cross will unveil the memorial tablet. The benediction will be pronounced by Chaplain Evans of the United States Navy and the program will conclude with the playing of the national anthem by the band.

INCREASED POWER ASKED

It is estimated that 90 per cent of the war mothers of the nation will listen to these services. It will be particularly appropriate for the school children and youth of the nation to hear this program, that in later years when they may visit Washington a pride will be felt in having heard the dedicatory services.

Bernard H. Linden, district radio supervisor, announced receipt of a request from Warner Brothers, Hollywood, to change their permanent equipment and increase the power of station KFWB from one to two kilowatts. The Los Angeles Broadcasting Company, Culver City, asked permission to increase power from 250 to 1000 watts on station KFVD.

WHERE TO TURN

KHJ at 4 o'clock this afternoon features Melbourne MacDowell, husband of Fanny Davenport, in a condensed radio version of Sardou's play, "Pedora." He will be supported by a carefully rehearsed veteran cast. At 7 tonight Philco Hour over Columbia network will present Fanny Brice and Henry Burbig in a burlesque of "Samson and Delilah." Tonight at 8 p.m. the first of a brilliant series of early California sketches of the romantic days of forty-nine will be brought from the KFRC studio of the Don Lee chain. The outstanding episodes of California history, from the discovery of gold to the driving of the last spike, will be presented in dramatic form with historical facts, songs of the period, and will include a pioneers' jubilee. The Gold Medal Fast Freight will come into station KHJ at 9 tonight with a trainload of melody. A male quartet, yodelers and others will be the passengers. At 9:30 p.m. Elvia Allman will unwrap her "surprise package" and not disappoint you.

KFI at 5:30 p.m. features an anthropology talk at the Southwest Museum which will mostly concern California. At 6 tonight NBC brings a financial discussion by the Old Counselor and a musical program featuring the French composers, Saint-Saens and Massenet. At 8:45 p.m. the Sunkist Serenaders, with James Burroughs, tenor, will present a novelty program worth dialing, while 9:15 will bring Mart and Lil in blues singing.

KECA at 7:30 p.m. will hold every sport lover's dial with a program including Ty Cobb, Grantland Rice and Graham McNamee. An additional feature of this program will be Leonard Joy and his thirty-one-piece string orchestra.

KFWB at 8 a.m. will bring the Los Angeles Breakfast Club frolic with Creatore and his famous band as guest artists. Beginning tonight Cecil and Sally will be heard at 7 p.m. instead of 12 noon, as formerly. If you haven't dialed them listen in.

Pensions Bill Put in Shape

The House Pensions Committee and National Commander Green of United Spanish War Veterans have agreed on a compromise bill for pensions, according to a telegram received by Bob Clark, trustee, yesterday from Representative Crail. The bill provides for only small increases, Crail stated, ranging from $20 for one-tenth disability to $60 for total disability of ninety-day men and from $12 for one-tenth to $30 for total disability of seventy-day men. It also provides proportionate pensions for age alone. The vicious-habits clause was eliminated and no additions were made for widows or orphans.

"The bill is on the House calendar and should become a law at this session," Crail wired. "It is woefully inadequate but will help some comrades. It will take a long time to get proper pensions by piecemeal legislation."

CHRISTMAS NECKTIES HELP BREAK UP HOME

When Mrs. Charles B. Minnis, Jr., gave her husband a necktie for Christmas, little did she think that it would ever prove instrumental in severing her matrimonial ties. Yet, according to Mrs. Minnis's testimony in Superior Judge Hahn's court, her husband one night used his neckties to bind and gag her. On another occasion, Minnis fondled one of her girl friends, the wife testified. The couple separated after a married life of one month.

ARGUMENT DUE TODAY ON PLEA OF HARVEYS

Arguments on a writ of habeas corpus to obtain the release of William E. Harvey and Lillian B. Harvey, accused of murdering Roy F. Gottschall on the 1st inst., will be heard in Superior Judge Wood's court today. The indictment against the two defendants asserts that they went to Gottschall's home to remove furniture claimed by the woman and that when Gotschall interfered by firing several shots at Harvey the latter struck him over the head with a piece of gas pipe, inflicting injuries which caused his death.

RETURN URGED TO OLD IDEALS

Patriotic Speaker Holds Up Colonial Standards

Foreign Weeds Choking Out Nation's Flower, He Says

California Destined to Lead America's Regeneration

The need for more of the standards and character of the people of colonial days in this country was touched upon yesterday by John Leonard Merrill of New York in an informal talk given at a luncheon tendered him at the California Club by the Society of Colonial Wars.

Mr. Merrill, besides being president of All-American Cables, Inc., and an official in a number of other wire communications companies and corporations, has been active in the work of patriotic societies. He has held a long list of offices in such societies and is president of the New Jersey Society of the War of 1812 and deputy governor-general of the Society of Colonial Wars.

GRAFTED FLOWER

Speaking in metaphor, Mr. Merrill saw in the founding of this country by our forefathers the planting of the rose of England, the shamrock of Ireland, the heather of Scotland and the lilies of Holland and France—"all of which blossomed forth into one beautiful flower called Old Glory in God's own garden."

"And now," he said, "unfriendly people sometimes are planting weeds in this garden of ours. As I see it, it is the business of patriotic societies such as this to keep the weeds out. They are coming in thick and fast.

"We are becoming a nagging nation. Everyone seemingly wants to reform everything these days. There is not enough interest in cultivating the old garden. Cures are offered for everything. There is only one cure in all America today. It is character of the kind your mothers and fathers had.

FOR OLD IDEALS

"We should take a firm stand for the sanity and toleration that our fathers manifested. Many of our churches have forgotten to stand by the old examples—to do as those who plowed the furrow long ago used to do—to keep their eyes on the mark at the other end of the field so that the furrow would be straight.

"Today there is too much of this 'God knows I'm right and the other fellow is wrong.'"

From California, he thought, should come the lead in making America what she was because of the splendid body of men and women of the true American type he has found here.

Mr. Merrill was introduced by Ora Monnette. Carlton Winslow, governor of the society, presided.

TAXI DANCE HALLS FACE QUIZ AGAIN

Police Board Turns Down Transfer of One Permit as It Orders Inquiry

Another investigation of taxi dance halls in Los Angeles was directed by the Police Commission yesterday following arguments presented in behalf of Harry Schoeneman, who sought to transfer his instructor-dance hall permit from 537½ South Main street to 417 West Fifth street, which has been used as a dance hall for many years. The application was denied.

Commissioner Pierce argued in behalf of the transfer, holding that property owners are entitled to use their property to get returns, in view of the fact that they pay heavy taxes. He declared that if Schoeneman's application is denied there is no reason for allowing other places to operate instructor or taxi dance halls.

President Thorpe said he had received letters complaining against conditions in some of the taxi dance halls which he would blush to present before the board. Commissioner Coe said he will vote against every one of them as fast as they are brought before the commission.

At Commissioner Drake's suggestion Chief Investigator James was directed to investigate and report with a view to revoking permits of dance halls against which there may be complaints.

NEW TRIALS FOR CINEMA SCHOOL PAIR

Two Convicted of Petty Theft Win Reversal of Judgment on Appeal

As the result of an order signed by the appellate department of the Superior Court new trials yesterday were granted to V. M. Barnett, the Cinema Schools, Inc., of which he is the head, and U. M. Dailey, all convicted of petty theft in the operation of a motion-picture school last October.

The order, signed by the three higher court jurists, Superior Judges McLucas, Shaw and Bishop, reverses the judgment of the Municipal Court wherein Barnett and Dailey were sentenced to pay fines of $500 each and serve six months in jail. The school itself had been fined $500. Both the defendants have been at liberty under bail pending the appeal.

In reversing the judgment of the lower court the higher court held that conviction on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses must be made upon a basis of past and present fact and not on a promise of what shall be done. It was the court's opinion that the defendants' claims as to past and present conditions had not been proven to be false.

The defendants were accused of taking money from pupils by misrepresentation.

JAMAICA CRIME ADMITTED HERE

Mystery of "Midnight Rose" Murder Cleared

Negro Held by Immigration Officers Confesses

Prisoner Now in County Jail Awaiting Extradition

Mystery of the murder of "Midnight Rose," Jamaican underworld character who was killed last July 4 at Ann's Bay, was cleared yesterday by port immigration authorities when Lester Williams, alias Lester Morris, 29-year-old West Indian negro, confessed the crime. Williams has been confined at the local immigration station as an alien since last November and had steadfastly refused to reveal his true origin until his confession yesterday to Randolph Blake, immigration guard. C. G. Bailey, chief of the local station, yesterday remanded Williams to the Los Angeles County Jail pending his probable extradition to Jamaica by the local British Consul.

Williams, in his confession, said that after shooting "Midnight Rose" in a cafe brawl at the Jamaican seaport he fled to Baltimore as a stowaway aboard the British ship Annetta. Later, he signed on the intercoastal freighter Shawnee as a waiter and after a altercation with the steward of the vessel he deserted her at Los Angeles Harbor, where he was taken into custody by immigration authorities.

JAILER FEELS COMPLIMENTED

Ex-Guest of Capt. Peoples Wires County Cuartel Beats Free Life

"Please wire me $50 to come home on stop prefer your jail there to liberty here."

This is the substance of a telegram received yesterday by Clem Peoples, County Jailer, from Jack A. P. Caylor, Roseburg, Or., released from the County Jail less than three weeks ago after having served a sentence for petty theft.

Capt. Peoples intimated that he felt highly complimented at the tribute paid his jail but up to a late hour yesterday he had not sent the $50.

GEORGE L. JOHNSTON RITES SET FOR TODAY

Funeral rites for George L. Johnston, Los Angeles musician, for ten years a member of the orchestra at the Pantages Theater, will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. today at Cresse's chapel, 5860 Pasadena avenue. Cremation will follow at Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Mr. Johnston was 62 years of age and had resided in Los Angeles since 1905. His home was at 1648 Cortez street. He leaves his widow, a son, Elmer B. Johnston, and two daughters, Mrs. Marie H. Tennison and Mrs. Margaret Garrison.

LATEST OIL EQUIPMENT AT EXHIBIT

Processes' in Deep Drill Work Being Demonstrated at Engineering Exposition

The latest methods of gas control, cementing, coring and other operations that have made modern deep oil drilling possible are being shown at the oil equipment and engineering exposition now in progress at Shrine Auditorium. The exposition is drawing thousands of visitors daily, many of whom are from various parts of the United States, as is a considerable proportion of the 200 exhibits. The show opened Monday and will close Sunday night.

The exposition is the first of its kind here, but is expected to be an annual event. This city was selected for the show because there are more than 100 manufacturers of oil field equipment in the metropolitan area, according to E. G. Lenzner, managing director. In conjunction with the exposition a number of technical meetings are being held.

Two floors of the north part of the auditorium are filled with the exhibits, and on adjoining ground a standard derrick 136 feet high has been built. The exhibits include one by the United States Bureau of Mines which has bottle samples from virtually every oil field in the nation and many other parts of the world.

ROSELAND FOLK TO PICNIC

Club Thrilled by Shooting of Its President

"Assassination" of Carl Bundy, president of the Advertising Club of Los Angeles, by a past president of that organization marked the dramatic close of an entertainment given yesterday at the Biltmore in honor of the club's past presidents.

The "shooting" was done by Herman Nater, disguised as Father Time who, after accusing Mr. Bundy of overstepping the time-limit in his address, commanded that Bundy be shot and appointed himself a committee of one to carry out the order. Fortunately for Bundy, the cartridge was blank.

Mr. Bundy, whose term as president expires in June, had applied for membership in the Past Presidents' Association and, having duly sworn that he would never reveal any of the "dark" secrets of the order, he was given the novitiate's initiation. It was when he was in the midst of his address of thanks that the order for his "execution" was given by Mr. Nater.

Stacy Botaford, first president of the club in 1918 and all other past-presidents, excepting Ray Nimmo and Harold Stonier, were present at the reception, which was attended by 400 members of the club, which has a membership of nearly 1000. Messrs. Nimmo and Stonier sent congratulations, Mr. Nimmo's wire coming from "the land of the spirits, New York." Music was furnished by the Hollywood Melodians and by Lewis Meehan, tenor.

CAUTION SIGNAL ORDERED

The City Council yesterday instructed the Board of Building and Safety Commissioners to install a caution flasher signal at the intersection of Avenue 33 and Verdugo Road.

UNIQUE WHITE LION CUBS BORN

Papa 'Black Prince' Must Be Surprised

Mrs. Charles Gay With the Pair of Unusual Cubs

A NEW chapter has been contributed to natural history by a mother lioness at Gay's Lion Farm, El Monte, it was learned yesterday. Eva, sired by Numa, which achieved fame some years ago on the screen, has given birth to four almost purely white cubs, said to be the first of their kind born in captivity—or out of, for that matter, according to naturalists. The event is believed to be unprecedented.

Two of the cubs are now alive. Undoubtedly frenzied at nature's jest, the mother killed two of them.

In giving birth to the strange litter, Eva became a mother for the first time, Mrs. Charles Gay, wife of the lion farm proprietor, stated. The father is Black Prince, imported from Africa and one of the prize beasts of the farm. He has sired eighty-two cubs, all of normal color.

TRADE WITH SOUTH TO BE TALK TOPIC

Land Show Speaker Will Outline Plans for Parley; Rolph Due Tomorrow

"California is fast becoming a sample box and valuable information bureau for every South American country," said Assemblyman Van Bernard of Glenn County, foreign trade authority, yesterday. He will outline plans for the Pan-American Conference, August 25 to September 4, in the lecture tent at the California Land Show today.

The conference in Sacramento will bring the entire South American delegation, numbering approximately 1000 agricultural and industrial leaders, to Los Angeles for the week prior to the opening of the sessions.

Assemblyman Bernard, one of the leaders of the commission appointed by the Sacramento Region Citizens' Committee to tour South America inviting participation in the conference will speak today on the potentialities of South American trade for California.

Today is Sacramento Valley day, with Orange county sharing honors with the twenty-one counties represented by the regional group. Among the Orange county speakers will be George A. Raymer, Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, and V. D. Johnson, Orange County Chamber of Commerce. In the evening, after Johnson's address, the glee club auxiliary of the Orange County American Legion will entertain.

Tomorrow, San Francisco day, will see Mayor Rolph, potential candidate for Governor at the coming election, as the chief speaker. San Diego will share honors with San Francisco on the day's program.

JEWISH MUSICALE SATURDAY

Officers of the Jewish Art Institute of America announce a musical program for Saturday evening at the studio, 631 North Soto street. Parents of children with a talent for music, art, dancing and the drama are invited.

Rigid Economy Asked by Mayor in Budget Plan

"Rigid economy" was the watchword issued by Mayor Porter yesterday to departmental heads in connection with the preparation of the 1930-1931 budget. Under the charter, heads of departments must submit their estimates for the coming year by May 1, to the Mayor and Budget Director Knox, while Controller Myers must submit an estimate of the tax income as well as outstanding bonds by the same date.

The Mayor and Budget Director Knox then begin the necessary pruning of requests to conform with the income.

BEATING CHILDREN WITH CLUB CHARGED

One day when Jose A. Gonzales had a quarrel with his brother he vented his wrath on his wife, Mrs. France C. Gonzales, said yesterday when asking Superior Judge Yankwich to grant a divorce on the grounds of cruelty. The wife declared her husband also beat their children with a club. The couple married January 27, 1923 and separated on September 3, 1929. A decree was granted.

CURSE FEARS WIN LAUGH

Egyptologist of Twenty Years' Standing Scoffs at Superstitious Tales of Pharaoh's Doom

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, March 18.—Apparently immune to the curse which the superstitious believe has caused the deaths of nine scientists connected with uncovering ancient Egyptian tombs, including that of King Tut-Ankh-Amen, Dr. James Henry Breasted, director of six scientific expeditions in Egypt and Western Asia, is en route to Chicago.

For the last three weeks Dr. Breasted, head of the Oriental Institute in the Near East for the University of Chicago, has directed the operations of expeditions involving a total annual expenditure of $300,000 from a La Solana Hotel bungalow in this city.

SCOFFS AT CURSE

Before leaving the internationally known authority on Egyptian hieroglyphs told friends that he does not believe there is any significance in the ancient Egyptian curse, "Death shall come on swift wings to him that toucheth the tomb of a Pharaoh."

Dr. Breasted, who is 65 years of age, has been active in the work of uncovering ancient civilizations for more than twenty years and during that period he admits no incident which might be attributed to the curse of the Pharaohs.

FAR-FETCHED TALE

The latest death attributed by the imaginative to the curse was that of Lord Westbury, who jumped or fell to his death from the seventh floor of St. James Court, London, a month ago. The peer was reported to have been distracted by the death, five months ago, of his son, Richard Bethell, secretary to Howard Carter, excavator of Tut-Ankh-Amen's tomb. Carter is still alive. Of the nine deaths of persons connected in some manner with the opening of Egyptian tombs in recent years the first was that of Lord Carnarvon, original discoverer of Tut-Ankh-Amen's resting place.

Dr. Breasted is at present supervising the deciphering and preserving of the "Coffin Texts," inscriptions on coffins dating back to 2300 B. C., and the Oriental Institute of which he is head is now preparing for publication the oldest known surgical treatise from a papyrus of the seventeenth century, B. C.

CONFIRMED BIBLE

An outstanding achievement of the Chicago scientist was his complete confirmation of the destruction of the Hebrews' famous temple at Jerusalem, erected by King Solomon. The biblical record of its destruction is contained in I Kings: xiv, 5.

During his visit in this city Dr. Breasted's time was consumed in reading cable dispatches from the Near East, where his armies of expert excavators are delving for new archaeological treasures.

"We are finding out more and more and our studies of the history of man are becoming more systematic," he asserted on the eve of his departure.

KNOWLEDGE, NOT RELICS

"We are abandoning old university traditions and our real job is not discovering objects to fill museums but the recovery of an entire group of lost civilizations."

Another famous Egyptologist who takes lightly superstitions regarding the deaths of those who opened Tut-Ankh-Amen's tomb is Sir Ernest A. Wallis Budge, former keeper of Egyptian antiquities in the British Museum. He is reported to have said that he has unearthed scores of mummies "without getting a scratch."

The producers seem to be catching their stars younger and younger. A whole group of youngsters, including Yvonne Pelletier, 16 years of age, and Marguerite Churchill, 18, both recently signed by Fox, have lately come into the talking pictures in actual stellar roles.

ANITA LOUISE

Now it is little Anita Louise, just 14, who is being signed by James Cruze Productions on a long-term contract. Although the contracts had not actually been signed last night, we understand that there is no doubt of the deal going through.

Anita Louise also is to have as her first role under the Cruze banner one of the biggest parts which has ever been assigned an actress. It is nothing less than the part of the Moss-Haired Girl in "Circus Parade," the story which Cruze will himself personally direct.

The young actress is said to be a remarkable find. Gifted with unusual beauty and attractive personality, Miss Louise is also endowed with brilliant acting ability. She has appeared in a number of pictures already, playing leading roles, including Reginald Denny's latest picture, made for Tiffany, and a picture for Paramount.

James Cruze expects to start work on "Circus Parade" within a few weeks. At present he is down in Texas, seeking locations.

Fashion News Signs Again

Fashion News appears to be continuing its popularity. The feature has just been signed by Fox West Coast Theaters, Inc., to be shown in all the houses of the circuit, which now extends from Indiana west. George W. Gibson and Harold B. Franklin, presidents of the respective companies, signed the contract.

Loew's State and the Criterion will hereafter have the first run Los Angeles showing of the advanced women's styles, while the Uptown, Egyptian, and others, will get it the second week, and neighborhood houses, such as the Ritz and Beverly, will run the reels for the third and final week.

"FATAL WEDDING" SMART BURLESQUE

To Fox Films must go the credit for yet another innovation.

The theatrical movement inaugurated in Hoboken a year ago by Christopher Morley and other wags, whereby the dear old plush-album favorites among the melodramas, like "Under the Gaslight," "East Lynne," and others, and which was followed up in our own city by Edward Everett Horton in "Streets of New York," has spread now to the talking pictures.

MARGUERITE CHURCHILL

"The Fatal Wedding," which Fox is producing, is going to poke fun at the old melodramas in somewhat the same way. Theodore Kramer wrote the screen play, adapting it from the ancient melodrama of the same name.

Lovely Marguerite Churchill, who has a delicate sense of comedy, as well as dramatic gifts, has been chosen to play the leading feminine role.

Miss Churchill is one of the youngest, fairest and cleverest young leading ladies of the films. When she was but 15 years of age, she played leads in New York on the stage, in such successful comedies as "Skidding," "Night Hostess" and others. She came into pictures about a year ago, and has played a number of roles for Fox. Her latest role was the lead in "Born Reckless," adapted from "Louis Beretti."

Henry Kolker has been assigned a notable role in the picture, also, and William K. Howard is to direct.

Boyd in Western

If all goes well, William Boyd—we mean the Boyd under contract to Pathe—will appear shortly in a western.

WILLIAM BOYD

The story is being written for him by A. A. Kline, New York playwright, who even now has a play in rehearsal back in New York.

"The Painted Desert" is to date the name of the Boyd vehicle, but this title doubtless will not be considered as having enough attraction to draw the fans in and will probably be changed. In any event, we are assured that the desert and its activities are the real thing and not the usual cinema article. Boyd will have the role of a cowboy.

Tom Mix Returning

Now that westerns are back in full force, what could give the fans greater pleasure than to once more behold Tom Mix in his favorite cowboy roles?

TOM MIX

That, we hear, is just what is going to happen. While we are not at liberty to mention any company's name, we do know that he is negotiating with a film concern here, and will probably return to the films late next summer, following his engagement with the Sells-Floto Circus.

Fox never had a star of greater drawing power than Mix, during the heyday of westerns.

Wilbur Mack With Warners

That clever young comedian, Wilbur Mack, late of the Varieties, where he shone constantly as a headliner through many seasons in notable playlets written by himself, is embracing and being embraced by the talkers with much enthusiasm.

Mack has just signed with Warner Brothers to be featured in two pictures.

The first of these pictures will be called "Scarlet Pages," and Ray Enright will direct.

Von Eltz Gets Bad Fall

Word comes from Theodor Von Eltz, who is playing a featured role in "The Arizona Kid," now on location in Utah, that he had a bad tumble from a horse, a few days ago. However, he was fast recovering when he wrote.

"Our location town," writes Von Eltz, "is called Foxville, and all the streets, so-called, are named for Los Angeles and Hollywood thoroughfares. On Wilshire Boulevard are our 'mansions.' Director Santell's is called the White House; next across the road comes the Biltmore, occupied by Mona Maris; then the Ambassador, sheltering Carol Lombard, while Warner Baxter and his wife occupy Beverly Hills Hotel. Across the road facing the line of this imposing array are the tents on Hollywood Boulevard—Wurtzel Drive and Sheehan Drive and the mess tent. The showers are Bimini Baths and April Showers."

Hotel Keeper's Sympathy Wins Him $200 Fine

Timothy H. Kelly, owner of the Old Trails Hotel at Needles, pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of possession of liquor and was fined $200 by United States District Judge Killilts.

Kelly testified that an old acquaintance, Ed Roberts, a railroad man, stopped at his place and said he was sick and needed a drink.

Kelly said he did not sell liquor, but sent out and got some. He then learned, he said, his acquaintance was a Federal dry agent. A charge of sale of liquor was dismissed.

W. C. T. U. PLANS CONTEST

Mrs. Mary Schout, director of the contest department of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, announced yesterday that a gold medal contest will be conducted at First Methodist Church at 1:45 p. m. tomorrow. The president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Japan is expected to be present.

"Broken Dishes" to Open Soon With Percy Pollock in Leading Role

"Broken Dishes," Martin Flavin's latest comedy, is to be given its first presentation here by the Henry Duffy Players, who will offer it at El Capitan, starting on the 30th inst. "Broken Dishes" is now in the fifth month of its run on Broadway and is the third of Flavin's plays to have been produced there since last October, the other two being "The Criminal Code" and "Cross-roads."

In "Broken Dishes," the playwright, who is now here writing for talking pictures, takes the Bumpsted family and shows the humorous incidents of one winter's evening. The central figure of the play is Cyrus Bumpsted, an overworked and downtrodden husband and father.

For the role of Cyrus Henry, Duffy has brought Percy Pollock, noted character actor, from New York. Pollock was seen here last year as Bill Jones in "Lightnin'." There will be a carefully chosen supporting cast, and the play will be staged under the direction of Edwin H. Curtis.

Edward Sothern Will Speak at Philharmonic

Edward H. Sothern, actor, producer and Shakespearean interpreter, will be heard this afternoon and evening in dramatic entertainment at the Philharmonic Auditorium.

The Shakeaspearean manner has become Sothern's own, it is said. His voice is still one of the most perfect of instruments. Full of mellow richness, round and clear, it easily attunes itself to all of the passions of the drama.

His matinee program is "Great Actors and Actresses of the Past," and in the evening he will present the murder scene from "Hamlet," the trial scene from the "Merchant of Venice," and several scenes from "If I Were King."

Many States Represented in Fox Film

Practically every State in the Union is represented by a star in the banner of "Happy Days," the first Fox Grandeur film now playing twice daily at the Carthay Circle Theater.

However, it remains for little Martha Lee Sparks to be the only representative of Los Angeles in the personnel of the screen attraction. California is represented by four other stars in Walter Catlett, Edmund Lowe, James J. Corbett and Stuart Erwin.

New York City has six representatives in "Happy Days", Canada three, England three, Ireland one and Will Rogers is the envoy of Oologah, Indian territory, now Oklahoma.

Orpheum Offers Magazine Story of "Rio Rita"

Through a special arrangement, the Orpheum Theater will tomorrow night present the first 1000 women patrons attending the theater with a copy of a prominent motion-picture magazine containing the full-length story of "Rio Rita," which is the current Orpheum attraction.

The present showing of "Rio Rita" at the Orpheum is the first popular run of the Ziegfeld musical spectacle.

Brown Assigned to New Picture

Coincident with the return to Hollywood of William LeBaron, chief R.-K.-O. executive, comes the announcement of the selection of Melville Brown to direct one of the company's new productions, namely "Tommy." Brown recently completed the direction of Richard Dix in "Lovin' the Ladies," which is said by studio executives to be the most pleasing picture in which this popular player has appeared. Brown directed Dix in his last picture for Paramount. This production was unanimously applauded throughout the country, it is said.

Current Loew's Bill to Change

Elinor Glyn's first talking drama, "Such Men Are Dangerous," starring Warner Baxter and Catherine Dale Owen, has its last showing at Loew's State tonight. Likewise, Eddie Peabody, featured in Fanchon and Marco's stage revue "Changes," will be seen for the last time this evening.

"Chasing Rainbows," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new romance and comedy picture, featuring the stars of "Broadway Melody," Charles King and Bessie Love, will start tomorrow. Jack Benny, Marie Dressler, Polly Moran, Nita Martan and other prominent players make up the supporting cast. Charles Reisner directed.

NEW SHOW AT FOLLIES

The Follies company presents for the current week, "Bathing Beauties," a burlesque show. Wanda Devon and Ruth Clemons, vivacious soubrettes, please in their numbers, while Francis Parks and Lillian Murray are specialty dancers of note. Maurice Le Vine, Bumps Mack and Ray Parsons keep the customers in a mellow mood with their chatter. Jane Hazleton and Sam Farnum win applause with their cycle of songs.

Tarkington Story Comes to Screen

J. Harold Murray and Myrna Loy

Enact leading roles in "Cameo Kirby," which the Boulevard Theater will present starting tomorrow. Norma Terris also plays a prominent part.

GALA PREMIERE PLANNED

Tomorrow night brings the world premiere at Warner Brothers Theater in Hollywood of "Hold Everything," the Vitaphone musical-comedy adaptation of the New York stage play, starring Joe E. Brown and Winnie Lightner.

This sprightly musical comedy is declared to be one of the most thoroughly entertaining motion pictures ever turned out by Warner Brothers. It also brings intimate views of the fighting methods of Georges Carpentier, noted French boxer.

Winnie Lightner, a recent recruit from the stage, is said to reveal a magnetic personality in the leading feminine role, and to prove a suitable foil for Joe E. Brown, who impersonates a "dub" prize fighter. Sally O'Neil plays the sweetheart of Carpentier, while other characterizations are supplied by Edmund Breese, Dorothy Revier, Jack Curtis and Bert Roach.

Beautiful settings are said to play a large part in "Hold Everything." Roy Del Ruth directed. The tuneful score from the original musical comedy by Brown and Henderson has been adapted by Al Dubin and Joe Burke.

"Rah Rah Daze" Promises Gay Entertainment

DOROTHY LEE

Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians, noted orchestra entertainers, will appear at the Mason Theater tomorrow night in "Rah Rah Daze," new college musical show, with a brilliant cast and chorus. The attraction was written and staged here.

Prominent in the company with Waring's Pennsylvania ns will be Dorothy Lee, youthful R.-K.-O. dancing star of "Syncopation" and "Rio Rita;" Jack White, star comedian from George White's "Scandals;" Evelin Nair, specialty dancer, who scored a hit in "Hit the Deck;" Three Girl Friends, crooning trio; James Mack, character player, and others.

Book, lyrics and music are by Pat Ballard, Tom Waring and Charles Henderson, the former being best known for his Mask and Wig Club shows at the University of Pennsylvania. Addison Burkhart is directing the dialogue, and Eddie Moran is staging the dances and ensembles.

Richie Ling Has Leading Role in 'Perfect Alibi'

Richie Ling, one of the principal players appearing in support of Madge Kennedy in the A. A. Milne mystery comedy, "The Perfect Alibi," the attraction coming to the Biltmore Theater Monday, has been associated with many of the leading stars and producers of this generation.

He supported Jane Cowl in "The Road to Rome," Billie Burke in "Rose Brian," Laurette Taylor in "National Anthem" and Viola Allen in "The White Sister." Other stars whom he appeared with earlier in his career were Lillian Russell, Alice Neilsen, Fritzi Scheff and Marie Tempest. He has also had prominent roles in the Charles Froham production of "Decorating Clementine," David Belasco's "Temperamental Journey" and Gilbert Miller's "The Swan" and "Olympia."

Besides Miss Kennedy and Ling, other members of the original company that presented Milne's play at the Charles Hopkins Theater in New York include Alan Bunce, A. P. Kaye, Barbara Hastings, Horace Sinclair, Sidney Paxton, Leo G. Carroll, Lionel Hogarth, Carson Davenport and Ada Sinclair.

"COCK-EYED WORLD" TO OPEN AT PALACE

To be followed tomorrow by "The Cock-Eyed World," Norma Talmadge in "New York Nights," United Artists feature, and "Hunting Tigers in India," will close their runs today at the Fox Palace Theater.

Sequel to "What Price Glory," "The Cock-Eyed World" features the return of Victor McLaglen and Edmund Lowe in their respective roles as Flagg and Quirt, boisterous Don Juans of the Marine Corps. The roles of the three sweethearts are played by Lily Damita, Lelia Karnelly and Jean Bary. Raoul Walsh directed.

Acoustics Prove Knotty Problem in Richman Film

Acoustics provide a new problem that has arisen to plague the designers of sets for motion pictures, and it is one that occasioned difficulties in the filming of "Puttin' on the Ritz," now playing at the United Artists' Theater, with Harry Richman in his first starring role on the screen.

This production required a theater set, built to exact scale. Inasmuch as Richman sings from the balcony, and Joan Bennett takes part in the duet by singing from the stage at the same time, it was necessary to arrange the acoustics as carefully as an architect would do in an actual playhouse.

"Puttin' on the Ritz," which presents Richman first as a struggling vaudeville performer and later as a favorite of musical comedy and night clubs, has in its supporting cast Miss Bennett, James Gleason, Lilyan Tashman, Aileen Pringle, George Irving and others. Irving Berlin wrote much of the music.

Noted Actress Starred in New Paramount Film

The filmization of Timothy Shea's poignant novel of a modern mother, "Sarah and Son," starting at the Paramount Theater tomorrow, stars Ruth Chatterton in a role that rivals any of her previous dramatic efforts. While "Sarah and Son" possesses much of the stirring qualities of Miss Chatterton's previous pictures, it is modern in thought and treatment and more human in its subsequent action, it is said.

In "Sarah and Son," Miss Chatterton again reveals herself as one of the dominant personalities of the talking screen. Her discerning insight into the character brings to life a most interesting personality.

Other subjects to be shown on the new program at the Paramount include a comedy, "Getting a Ticket," featuring Eddie Cantor; a song cartoon, "Afraid to Go Home in the Dark;" a Paramount comedy, "Down With Husbands," and Milton Charles in an organ concert.

Final Week of Picture Starts at Criterion

"Men Without Women" starts its last week at the Criterion Theater today. On the 26th inst., the theater will screen Lon Chaney as the silent phantom in the new version of "The Phantom of the Opera." The picture will be presented with dialogue, singing, technicolor and a symphonic orchestra of 150 pieces.

More than 140 critics throughout the country already have nominated "Men Without Women," the current Criterion film, as one of the ten best pictures of the year. Friends of John Ford, Fox director, believe it will bring him another gold medal, similar to the one awarded for "Four Sons."

John Ford himself ranks "Men Without Women" ahead of his pictures, "Black Watch," "The Iron Horse" and "Four Sons," it is said.

MYSTERY NEXT AT WARNERS

"Murder Will Out" Tells Unusual Story; Lila Lee, Jack Mulhall Featured

"Murder Will Out," said to be one of the most baffling mystery pictures, will start a one-week engagement at Warner Brothers' Downtown Theater Friday. A simple Chinese hieroglyph forms the plot basis.

The hieroglyph, which a gang of blackmailers use to sign threats, turns up periodically throughout the picture on a cigarette, a handkerchief, a vase, a bridge card and other unexpected places.

"Murder Will Out" is a departure from the usual type screen mystery with a unique surprise climax. Jack Mulhall is the featured player, with Lila Lee as his leading woman. Others in the cast include Noah Beery, Tully Marshall, Alec B. Francis, Hedda Hopper, Malcolm MacGregor and Claude Allister. Clarence Badger directed.

'Hero' Replaces Flavin Play in Theater Booking

The fourth production of the Civic Repertory Theater is not to be Martin Flavin's "Children of the Moon," as announced. At the last minute, with rehearsals a week in progress, casting difficulties arose which made necessary the deferring of the Flavin play until a later date.

Gilbert Emery's comedy drama, "The Hero," has been chosen instead, and Grant Mitchel, one of the most distinguished actors on the American stage, has consented to swell the ranks of Civic Repertory Theater guest artists, and play the part he created in New York in 1921.

"The Hero" is an after-the-war American play written by the author of "Tarnish." Elise Bartlett and Marion Clayton of the regular Repertory acting company will play the feminine leads, while Paul Irving, actor and director, will stage the play. Corliss McGee will again have charge of the scenic effects.

R.-K.-O. Books 'Melody Man' for Showing

The feature film drama, "The Melody Man," opening at the R.-K.-O. Theater tomorrow, will vie for honors with the triple headline vaudeville attraction.

William Collier, Jr., Alice Day and John St. Polis enact the leading roles in the picture. The story deals with youth in conflict with age, as represented by modern jazz versus the classics. Important roles are handled by Mildred Harris, Johnny Walker, Albert Conti and Tenen Holtz.

The triple headline R.-K.-O. vaudeville stage attraction includes Scott Sanders, Scotch character comedian; Monica and Ann Skelly, sisters of Hal Skelly of movie note, in a musical farce, and Pepito, the noted Spanish clown. The four Cirillo brothers complete the bill.

"Rogue Song" Exerts Appeal

Lawrence Tibbett; starred in "The Rogue Song," now entering its three last weeks at Grauman's Chinese Theater, is establishing a standard of voice quality hitherto unknown on the talking screen, it is claimed.

LAWRENCE TIBBETT

Combining music ranging from opera caliber to popular love songs, so that the musical tastes of every possible audience is covered, filmed entirely in color time combining music and drama in a separate and new blend of form of expression, the M.-G.-M. production presents a new form of entertainment.

"New Moon" in Last Two Weeks

After a successful engagement of eight weeks at the Majestic Theater, "The New Moon," romantic operetta produced by Louis O. Macloon and Lillian Albertson, is now in its final two weeks at that house. The offering is scheduled to open at the Curran Theater in San Francisco soon.

The company of 100 is headed by Perry Askam and Josephine Houston, prima donna, who are costarred.

The many musical numbers in the piece are from the pen of Sigmund Romberg, who created the musical scores for such productions as "The Student Prince," "Blossom Time" and "The Desert Song." Among the song hits in "The New Moon" are "Lover, Come Back to Me" and "Stouthearted Men."

Million Dollar Bill Announced

Inaugurating its policy of vaudeville with pictures, the Million Dollar Theater has announced its opening program for the 27th inst. The vaudeville will be supplemented by the first run showing of Nancy Carroll's latest starring effort, "Dangerous Paradise." Richard Arlen is seen in the supporting cast.

Headed by Hadji Ali, "The human volcano," the vaudeville bill includes such acts as George Yeoman, Broadway favorite; Noodles Fagan, jester; Sonia and her international revue, the original Empire Comedy Four and the Three Freehands, equilibrists.

Honor awards for exceptional architectural work done in Southern California during the years 1927 to 1929 were announced last night by the Southern California chapter of the American Institute of Architects at a dinner at the Biltmore.

Among the examples of merit, according to the list of awards, are the Flintridge Biltmore Hotel designed by Myron Hunt and H. C. Chambers, the Mayan Theater by Morgan, Walls & Clements, the Title Insurance and Trust Company Building by Parkinson & Parkinson, the homes of Henry F. Young in Pasadena by Donald D. McMurray; of M. E. Getz in Beverly Hills by Gordon B. Kaufmann, and of J. E. Buchanan in Palos Verdes Estates by Kirtland Cutter.

Palmer Sabin, chairman of the award committee, presented the report of the jury, which included C. Herrick Hammond of Chicago, president of the American Institute of Architects; J. Monroe Hewlett of New York, vice-president, and Clarence Tantau, San Francisco architect.

HONOR GUESTS

H. C. Chambers, president of the Los Angeles chapter of the institute, presided at the dinner. Talks were made by Arthur Bent, who exhibited lantern slides of the winning designs, and by Miss Florence Yoch who spoke on "Architecture and Landscaping."

Honor guests at the speakers' table included Dr. Ernest C. Moore, president of the University of California at Los Angeles; Frank A. Bouelle, superintendent of Los Angeles schools; Dr. Charles K. Edmonds, president of Pomona College; Miss Jeanette Drake, librarian at Pasadena; Julian Garnsey, mural painter; John Bakewell, Jr., and Arthur Brown, both of whom are San Francisco architects.

Photographs of the honor award designs will be on display in the exhibit room of the Los Angeles Library for two weeks, commencing this morning.

Pioneer Rail Man's Rites to be Tomorrow

The career of one of the pioneer railroad men of the State was closed by the death of J. Cameron Diamond, whose funeral will be conducted tomorrow. He died Monday at his home, 1048 Gardner avenue, at the age of 84 years. He was born in Georgia and came to Southern California sixty years ago.

Following the construction of the first rail line from San Francisco to Los Angeles by way of Newhall, Mr. Diamond was employed as one of the first engineers piloting the trains on the new line. He followed railroad work in Southern California for many years and later retired to devote his time to health lecturing and practicing as a New Thought healer.

Following his retirement from active railroad work, he traveled extensively and made tours of Russia and India. Two years ago he returned to his birthplace in Georgia seeking friends of his youth in that state, but was only able to find one aged woman whom he could recall as one of his boyhood companions.

Funeral services will be conducted in the chapel of the Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn Memorial Park, in Glendale, at 1 p.m. tomorrow.

ANGELENO SELECTED ON DEBATING TEAM

Robert McClintock of 1050 East Mariposa street, Altadena, has been named a member of the California debating team that will leave Los Angeles next Tuesday on a tour that includes contests with seven universities and colleges in the United States and three in England. He will represent Stanford, his team mates being Irving Bautzer of University of Southern California, and Garff Wilson of University of California at Berkeley. The men will meet successively the University of Chicago, Oberlin, Delaware, Ohio State, Syracuse, Harvard, Princeton and Columbia, following which they will sail on April 10, for England to debate against Oxford, Cambridge and University of London.

SOVIET TO BE SCORED AT MEETING

Protest Will be Made Against Suppression of Religious Liberty

Los Angeles citizens will protest against the suppression of religious liberty in soviet Russia at a mass meeting tomorrow night at Trinity Auditorium.

Speakers representing the important religious groups of the city, together with representatives of the State and city governments, will address the meeting. A committee, consisting of John Anson Ford, Rev. Thomas J. O'Dwyer, I. Irving Lipsitch, Rev. Edwin P. Ryland and Aaron Riche, will present resolutions for adoption at the meeting.

It is the belief of the members of the interdenominational committee sponsoring the meeting that continued protest will eventually lead to a partial, if not complete, rescision of the antireligious policy in Russia.

Among those who will address the meeting in behalf of freedom of conscience and worship are Gov. Young, Mayor Porter, Rt. Rev. W. Bertrand Stevens, Mgr. John J. Cliffford, Rev. E. P. Ryland and Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin. The meeting is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock, but the doors of Trinity Auditorium will be opened at 7:30 to enable those interested to secure seating accommodations.

Query Raised About Property of City Mother

Disposition of furniture in the City Mother's Bureau in the City Hall and funds of approximately $3000, raised by the City Mother's Advisory Committee for day nursery work and assistance of girls in difficulties, yesterday was referred to City Attorney Werner for a ruling at the suggestion of the Police Commission.

The committee, headed by Mrs. Aletha Gilbert, retired City Mother, explained that while the funds had been raised by the advisory committee it had been deposited by the City Mother's Bureau. The furniture had been donated through her efforts, Mrs. Gilbert said.

Miss Elizabeth Fiske, new City Mother, sought to have the question straightened out so that there would be no illegalities under her administration.

BOARD INSPECTS SOLDIERS' HOME

have been extremely heavy, Gen. Wood stated. Last summer many hundreds of applicants for quarters had to be deferred.

"The barracks now nearing completion," he said, "will add 1400 beds to the home early next summer. That will give us a total of 4500 beds in all the barracks and hospitals, making this the largest unit in the nation."

He declared that until all hospitalization needs are provided, the hardier of the veterans will remain in the old barracks. The newer and more modern quarters are being occupied by frailer men and convalescents.

"Additional new barracks here are strongly indicated," Gen. Wood said. "This, however, is a matter for future consideration. At present there is tremendous pressure on all the eleven branches in the country, and because they are all filled to capacity there are now bills before the committee providing expansion. The new barracks just completed here will probably be used as models for the entire organization, as they are of the most modern construction."

Yesterday the board started inspecting the entire home plant. Approximately $1,300,000 worth of new buildings were included in the inspection.

Princeton Men to Dine Leader

Thurston J. Davies, secretary of the graduate council of Princeton University arrived in Los Angeles yesterday to be guest of honor at the annual dinner of the Princeton Club of Southern California at the Biltmore Friday at 6:30 p.m. Wells Morris, president of the club, and Thomas S. Bailie, secretary, announce that an elaborate program has been prepared. Princeton alumni from all parts of Southern California are expected to attend.

THURSTON J. DAVIES

Since his graduation from Princeton University, Mr. Davies has been connected with educational institutions with the exception of two years as Marine Corps captain during the World War. He received the Croix de Guerre and a United States Army citation for "extraordinary heroism" and inspiring leadership.

PARISIAN TO GLEAN TALES OF AMERICA

French Daily Sends Star Reporter Here to Write Impressions of Industry

The magnitude of American industry — standardization and mechanical production in some branches and necessity of skilled hand labor in others—is the paramount impression of the United States to at least one expert French observer.

CLAUDE BLANCHARD

He is Claude Blanchard, special staff representative of Le Petit Parisien, Paris daily with a circulation of 1,800,000, who is in Southern California gathering facts for a series of articles for his paper on American institutions, conditions, industry and general impressions.

"Take the automobile assembly plant," Blanchard pointed out. "There everything is practically automatic—men seem to merely stand on guard while cars grow into finished vehicles as they pass along the assembly chain.

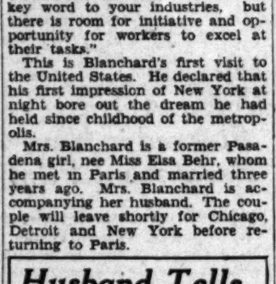
"In an automobile-tire plant, however, there is a surprising amount of skill required at hand tasks. Standardization seems to be the key word to your industries, but there is room for initiative and opportunity for workers to excel at their tasks."

This is Blanchard's first visit to the United States. He declared that his first impression of New York at night bore out the dream he had held since childhood of the metropolis.

Mrs. Blanchard is a former Pasadena girl, nee Miss Elsa Behr, whom he met in Paris and married three years ago. Mrs. Blanchard is accompanying her husband. The couple will leave shortly for Chicago, Detroit and New York before returning to Paris.

Husband Tells Why Girl Wife Quit School

Entering a plea of guilty to the accusation by school authorities that he violated the school law by failing to send his 15-year-old wife Fay to school, Emile Van Danele,



MR. AND MRS. EMILE VAN DANELE

23, 930 North Hicks street, yesterday asked Municipal Judge Curtis for permission to file an application for probation.

When he produced a certificate from the city health authorities showing that Mrs. Van Danele is ill Judge Curtis granted the request and set the 21st inst. as the date for hearing the application.

Van Danele told the court that he believed the certificate sufficient to excuse his wife from school attendance, and that he was surprised when he found the complaint had been filed against him.

OKLAHOMANS WILL RALLY

The monthly rally of the Oklahoma State Society will be held Friday evening at Moose Hall, 1024 South Grand avenue, M. K. Hinds, president, announced yesterday. An entertainment program will be followed by dancing.

RED CHARGES BRING CLASH

Police Board Has Hectic Session Hearing Views on Asserted Police Brutality in Riots

Filing of complaints with the Police Commission by Clinton J. Taft of the Civil Liberties Union, in which he charged illegal raids on unions and beatings by members of the police Red squad prior and during the early part of the month, when the Communist demonstration in front of the City Hall was quelled by police, precipitated a hectic session for the commission late yesterday.

Taft asserted he was not speaking for the Communists, and was followed by P. D. Neal, member of the City Club, who also protested against asserted police brutality.

Leo Gallagher, attorney for the Communists, got into the argument and began a tirade against the police. In response to a statement that Communists deserve no recognition because of their views against religion, he declared that religion is used only as a weapon to "prostitute workers."

Commissioner Pierce commended Lieut. William J. Hynes, in charge of the Red squad, for his work against the Communists, and was backed by Commissioner Coe. Hynes defied Taft to show that he had ever beaten anybody, but admitted he had given orders to his men that whenever they were attacked to retaliate.

Commissioner Drake declared that he has been a member of the commission for seven months, and challenged anybody to show he had used the word trade unionist during that time.

"I am amazed at the action of Communists recently toward a man who came here from Russia to deliver a lecture," he said. "The men against him were Communists and yet your whole foundation is based on the desire that you accord to all the right of free speech. You yourselves practice intolerance against those with whom you disagree."

Applause for Gallagher by two men in the audience resulted in Commissioner Pierce asking if there were any Americans present who desired to applaud those opposed to his views.

A roar of applause from the audience greeted his statement.

CLUB BUILDING TO BE OPENED

Masonic Edifice Ready at Westwood Campus

Dedication Ceremonies Set for the 27th Inst.

New Officers Selected for Corps at U.C.L.A.

The new home of the Masonic Club of the University of California at Los Angeles will be formally dedicated at noon on the 27th inst., according to announcement by Judge Ira F. Thompson, chairman of the board of directors. The clubhouse, at 10886 LeConte avenue, adjoins the new campus of the university on the south.

The dedication exercises will be in charge of the Grand Lodge of Masons of California, and will be largely ritualistic. Grand Master Charles M. Wollenberg will preside and all the officers of the Grand Lodge are expected to participate. The principal lecture of the ceremony will be delivered by Grand Orator William C. Hassler of San Francisco. Dr. Ernest Carroll Moore, director of the university, is scheduled to voice the appreciation by the university of the interest which the Masons of the State are taking in the students of the institution.

The club building cost approximately $150,000 and the furniture and equipment cost about $25,000. The money was made available through donations of Masons throughout California. The building entirely covers a tract of ground 122 by 160 feet and is two stories in height. It is of a Mediterranean type of architecture, and the furniture is of the early California Monterey period.

TWO HELD IN NARCOTIC THEFT CASE

One Youth of Trio Taken in Raid Wins Freedom; Girls Not Accused

Arrested in a police raid on 2407½ Pasadena avenue on the 12th inst., three youths appeared before Municipal Judge Turney yesterday for preliminary hearing on narcotic charges. Elmer Leach, 19 years of age, and Claude Daspit, 20, were ordered held under $5000 bail each to await trial by Superior Court on the charge and the accusation against Harry Creye, 18, was ordered dismissed by the court. Leach and Daspit were also ordered held under $3000 bail each to await trial on burglary charges.

Morphine and codein valued at $500 seized in the raid were introduced into evidence by Dep. Dist.-Atty Coleman, as well as a quantity of hypodermic needles and other equipment. Coleman charged that the two obtained the narcotics by burglarizing a drug store at Avenue 22 and North Broadway several weeks ago. Police narcotic agents said Leach admitted drug addiction and that he had been burglarizing drug stores to get narcotics.

Two girls, Tillie Kosovic, 19, and Anna Padge, 17, who, according to Coleman, were arrested with the boys, were turned over to the juvenile authorities and were not named in the complaints.

Frank Carothers Held Not Guilty

Frank Carothers, 62-year-old union-labor leader and head of the Hollywood bureau for the handling of union interests in motion pictures, yesterday was found not guilty following trial before Municipal Judge McConnell on a battery charge growing out of an asserted assault on Mrs. Louise Palmer, his secretary, December 18, last.

Mrs. Palmer accused Carothers of striking her with a telephone during an argument in the offices of the Motion Picture International Committee.

Carothers denied he had struck the woman.

Lillian Gish May Become Bride in East

Just before Lillian Gish, screen actress, left for New York a short time ago she confided in friends she might never return to Hollywood and that one of the principal reasons was George Jean Nathan, well-known eastern dramatic critic and writer. In fact, to several friends Miss Gish said Nathan was one of the main reasons for her decision to remain in the East.

Recent dispatches from New York that Miss Gish may go on the stage seem to support her expression about not returning to the film capital.

Yesterday in New York both Miss Gish and Nathan were approached on the subject, but neither had anything to say nor would they deny nor admit there is a possibility of their marriage. In any event New Yorkers are watching the romance with much interest and believe it may culminate at the altar.

Local Bakeries Get Compliment

Samples of bread and pastries baked in Los Angeles have caused favorable comment at the annual convention of the American Society of Bakery Engineers being held in Chicago, according to word received from there yesterday. The convention opened Monday and ends today.

Carlos S. Pickering, superintendent of the Olson Bread Company and member of the executive committee, is heading the Los Angeles delegation. Others in the local party are Ralph Gaylord of the Sperry Flour Company, secretary of the Los Angeles chapter; Neis W. Johnson, Van de Kamp Bakeries; Henry W. Dreher, Mackechnie Bread Company; William Beamish, Davis Standard Bread Company; Frank Marik, Bradford Baking Company; Harry Hoffman, Southern California Supply Company; Mont Cambier, Lactol Corporation, and G. G. Van Patten, Pillsbury Flour Mills.

BABY'S WAILS RUIN HOME

Earl L. Schafer was annoyed when his baby cried so he left home and never came back, his wife, Mrs. Margaret M. Schafer, testified yesterday before Superior Judge Yankwich when asking for a divorce on the ground of desertion. A decree was granted.

Masked Bandits Hold Up Couple

Masked bandits last night held up Mr. and Mrs. William Kerkis in their home at 601 South Detroit street, robbing them of jewelry and cash totaling $3360. Two well-dressed young men called at the door an dasked the maid to call Mrs. Kerkis. When Mrs. Kerkis and her husband appeared, they were covered with revolvers.

While the hold-up was in progress L. M. Jackson, 2412 West Thirty-sixth street, arrived for an evening's call. The bandits robbed him of $10.

The victims were locked in a closet for two hours before they were able to break out and summon police.

SAN DIEGO, March 18. (AP)—With Bud Teachout, recruit hurler, holding the Pacific Coast League champions to two hits, the second division of the Chicago Cubs defeated Hollywood, 8 to 0, in an exhibition game here today.

BUD TEACHOUT

Teachout was master of the situation throughout. Otis Brannan, second sacker, and Frank Wetzel, outfielder, collected the lone blows off his delivery, and but two Stars reached second base in the entire game. The Cubs touched Edward (Buzz) Wetzel and Lee Johnson, the latter a recruit, for eight hits and as many runs with the aid of seven Hollywood errors.

MERCURIES IN GYM FEST

Twenty L.A.A.C. gymnasts will compete in the annual city gymnastic championships to be held Friday evening at Manual Arts High School.

EVER SEE THIS MAN BEFORE?

It's Knute Rockne, the famous bald-head who coaches Notre Dame football teams to championships. He's been at Miami this winter recuperating from a leg ailment which laid him low last fall and kept him at home while Tom Lieb directed the Irish in the majority of their games. Sunshine and ocean seem to have worked wonders for Knute, and he appears able to hold his own with a trapeze.

Boxfighters Engage in Punk Ten-Round Exhibition

Al Gordon Beats Palacios in Semifinal Ring Tilt

BY KAYE OWE

In a bout so bad that a handful of fans remained only to boo and jeer the contestants, Bert Colima, Mexican middleweight, was awarded a ten-round decision over Willie Feldman at the Olympic Auditorium last night.

BERT COLIMA

Feldman, Jewish boxer who was tabbed as a rough, rugged fighter, waltzed his way through ten lackadaisical rounds that smacked more of a hugging bee than an exhibition of fisticuffs.

Colima weighed in at 161, and Feldman at 160.

Billy Burke refereed the fiasco.

Experience gave Al Gordon an edge and the decision in the six-round semifinal bout. He defeated Teddy Palacios, who scored frequently, and had a couple of good rounds, particularly the fourth. Palacios, however, couldn't overcome a knockdown in the second round for a five count. Gordon put Palacios on the floor with a straight left to the chin, and having gained that decided advantage, held on throughout the six rounds.

The evening's humor was provided by Larry McGrath and Gerald Brown in a two-round comedy bout which ended in McGrath being knocked out.

Sig Ecklund, lanky middleweight, decisioned Jack Chavez in the six-round special event.

In the second preliminary, a four-rounder, Henry Rollins defeated Johnny Cordova. The four-round opener resulted in a decision for Ora Smith over Glen Dinger.

Trojans Face Bears Today in Twin Bill

Weather permitting, the first double-header of the local baseball season will be played at Wrigley Field today. The Southern California Trojans and California are scheduled to play both of their much-postponed league games, providing rain hasn't made it impossible to play on the field. The contests originally were scheduled for Friday and Saturday of last week. The Bears played U.C.L.A. Monday and yesterday, while the Trojans have been idle since their two games with Santa Clara a week ago.

Berkeley Boys Nose Out U.C.L.A. Bruins in Close Baseball Tilt

The invading California Bears made it two straight over the California Bruins yesterday afternoon at Westwood by nosing out the U.C.L.A. horsehiders, 5-4, in a hard-fought game.

The Bruins got away to a 3-to-0 lead in the first inning, but the Berkeley boys went into the lead in the third session when home runs by Butler and Kirwan pushed four runs across the platter.

Jimmy Leigh, Bruin second-sacker, led the hitting for the losers, getting three out of three. One of Leigh's blows was a triple, while the other two were singles.

Chet Bowman in Comeback to Capture Sprint

NEW YORK, March 18. (AP)—To the accompaniment of a brilliant series of individual performances that created one new world's record, equaled another twice and set a new championship mark, the Illinois A.C. retained its team title in the national A.A.U. indoor championships at Madison Square Garden tonight.

HERMAN BRIX

Although Dr. Paul Martin, Swiss Olympic veteran, running for the New York Athletic Club, beat out Ray Conger of the Illinois A.C., in the classic 1000-yard event, the Chicago club finished four points ahead of its new York rival with 18 points to 14.

New York University was third with 12; Los Angeles Athletic Club, fourth, 10.

A mighty man from the far west, Herman Brix, of the Los Angeles A.C., accounted for the one world record of the night when a thundering heave beat by 11 1-2in., the recognized indoor sixteen-pound shot-put record of 50ft. 3in.

Lee Sentman, hurdling champion of the Big Ten, made a spectacular New York debut, equaling the world's accepted indoor figures of 8 3-5s. in dethroning Monty Wells of the Boston A.A. in the seventy-yard high hurdles final after Wells had hit the same figures in a heat.

Brix won the shot put in his first throw, setting a new world record by tossing the shot 51ft. 2½in. and giving him a margin of ten inches over Herb Schwarz, Illinois A. C., the defending champion, who also beat his own world indoor mark of 50ft. 3in., set last year.

Only Schwarz was able to come near Brix's performance, Leo Sexton of Georgetown University and Dave Adelmann, Newark A.C., falling more than a yard short of the winning mark. Schwarz made 50ft. 4½in.

Harold Osborn, veteran jumping jack of the Illino's A. C., successfully defended his title in the standing high jump, hurtling his

Record Entry Sought From Southern California For Championship Test on June 16; Professionals Seek Support of Low Handicap Amateurs

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Southern California professionals and amateurs will qualify in the thirty-six-hole sectional qualifying round for the United States open golf championship on Monday, June 16, according to an announcement made yesterday by L. Perry Ferguson, secretary of the Southern California Golf Association.

CHARLIE GUEST

While no course has been selected as yet for the qualifying rounds, it is understood that Wilshire and Flintridge are being considered.

The qualifying play was held last year at Lakeside, and in 1928 at El Caballero.

The Pacific Southwest P.G.A., which holds its annual meeting and election of officers at the Potrero Country Club on Friday, is expected to take action enlisting the interest of low-handicap amateur golfers.

Last year, due to the negligible entry, Southern California qualified only two golfers for the open as compared to seven in 1928.

Charles Guest and Chet Beer qualified from Southern California last year. Willie I. Hunter also played in the open, but was not required to qualify as he finished among the low thirty in 1928.

A large entry will assure a representative delegation in the open,

Portland Club Starts Two-Game Series Tomorrow at Wrigley Field Against Chicagoans

BY BOB RAY

Wrigley Field patrons can prepare for some steady baseball starting tomorrow when the Portland Ducks, under the new leadership of Larry Woodall, come down from their San Jose training camp for a two-game series with the Chicago Cubs.

Local fans ought to be quite a bit interested in looking over the Ducks inasmuch as the Portland club is slated to open the season here against the Angels April 8. Tom Turner, the talkative president, has lined up what looks to be quite a ball club for Portland and, as usual with Mr. Turner, predicts that the Ducks are cinches to win the pennant.

CARL MAYS

The Ducks sold Pitcher Leroy Mahaffey and Jim Keesey, first-sacker, to the Athletics last fall but have obtained Ossie, Orwall, Walter French, Carroll Yerkes and Jim Cronin from the A's in the deal and also signed Pitcher Carl Mays, who was a free agent. Orwoll, who is rated as a hard-hitter, is expected to fill Keesey's shoes at first base. French is an outfielder and was a former grid star at West Point. Both Yerkes and Cronin went to the A's from Portland so are not strangers in this circuit. Yerkes is a southpaw hurler who figures to win consistently in the Coast League. Cronin is a young infielder that Woodall will use at third base.

The rest of the Portland line-up is the same that wound up the 1929 season. Mack Hillis and Chatham

THREE STAKE CANDIDATES LIKELY TO DODGE ISSUE

AGUA CALIENTE (Mex.) March 18.—Three doubtful starters in the Agua Caliente Handicap, $100,000 added stake, which will be decided Sunday, got a last trial race this afternoon and on form none of the trio showed enough to warrant the $1000 entry fee. Though they were not formally declared out of the race, it appears that Dr. Wilson, Satin Spar and Gold Rush probably will not go. None of the three showed much this afternoon in the Lassco, an allowance affair at one mile and a sixteenth. The track was much improved over yesterday, being slow against the heavy condition of Sunday and slop of Monday. The three horses finished fifth, sixth and seventh in a field of eight,

HELEN MADISON BREAKS SIX MORE SWIM MARKS

JACKSONVILLE (Fla.) March 18. (AP)—Sixteen-year-old Helen Madison of Seattle today broke six world's records during one swim at the Lackawanna pool here.

The records were for free-style swimming, 200, 220, 300, 400, 440 and 500 yards over the short course.

The A.A.U. timer announced the new marks as follows:

200 yards: 2m. 23s., compared with the old mark of 2m. 25 2-5s.

220 yards: 2m. 39s. against 2m. 41 1-5s., the previous record.

300 yards: 3m. 41s., compared with 3m. 47 2-5s.

LEWIS FACES GENE LA DOUX

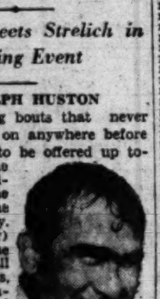
Lutze to Tackle Sarpolis in Feature Tilt

Rivals Hope to End Long Siege of Rivalry

Reynolds Meets Strelich in Opening Event

BY RALPH HUSTON

Two wrestling bouts that never have been put on anywhere before are scheduled to be offered up tonight at the Olympic Auditorium for the edification of the local citizenry. Ed (Strangler) Lewis, one-time champion of all the wrestlers, and Gene LaDoux, a hopeful French-Canadian challenger, meet in the final bout, and Nick Lutze, Los Angeles' own, will tackle Dr. Karl Sarpolis, the sad physician, in another finish event.



STRANGLER LEWIS

Promoter Lou Daro practically has a strained arm from patting himself on the back over signing these two super-specials on the same card, and local mat fans are just about as excited, for the two finish matches carry every promise of being intensely interesting and exciting affairs.

These wrestling fanatics who like it dished out in gory chunks ought to get a fair thrill out of the Lewis-LaDoux mix-up for the bout looms as the roughest seen here in some generations. Lewis ought to win, but the old man isn't quite what he used to be, and he'll have to win in a hurry, for it is extremely doubtful whether he would be able to last long under the barrage of punishment the visitor lays down. LaDoux is signed to meet Everett Marshall, the blond cyclone, within the next few weeks, and is anxious to get over Lewis in quick fashion. Lewis is said to have run out on a match with LaDoux in Montreal, where the French-Canadian beat Stanislaus Zbyszko, one of six men to beat Frank Gotch. Lewis will have about twenty-five pounds on his foe.

The Lutze-Sarpolis affair ought to be the exact opposite of the main bout. Lutze, like Marshall, is strictly a clean wrestler. The Doctor does his matwork just about the same way, showing only an occasional streak of meanness. The pair have wrestled twice before, but tonight is the first time they have grappled in a finish match. Both previous bouts ended in time-limit draws, each having a fall at the conclusion.

Both are fast, clean wrestlers, who know a large variety of holds. Lutze has won a lot of matches with his body-slam, but in their two bouts the Doctor has shown an uncanny ability to beat Lutze's pet hold. In workouts for this bout, the local mat star has been working on a new system of offensive, that he hopes will prove of sufficient novelty to bring him home in front. Experts rate the pair evenly, but fans who have been rooting for Lutze for a number of years are picking him to finish on top.

In the opening event of the evening, Jim Reynolds, who has been training LaDoux for his match with Lewis, takes on Steve Strelich, the terrible Swede, in a thirty-minute event. Reynolds is a veteran, experienced grappler, and ought to win, but Strelich is so unorthodox in his motions that he may upset anybody. They are light-heavies.

THREE LIKELY TO QUIT RACE

most of them high-class platers, in the mile and one-sixteenth event.

Seth's Hope won by a head over Battle Ax, with Fire Brigade getting the show. Good and Hot, of the Meadowbrook Stock Farm stable, still listed as a positive starter for the stake, was fourth. Time for the mile and one-sixteenth was 1:46 2-5.

There are still twenty-two horses eligible for the race. Of this band about twelve are positive starters and contenders. They include Alexander Pantages, Brown Wisdom, Donnay, Dowagiac, Good and Hot, Listo, Longues, Mydandy, Naishapur, Scimitar, Trieze, Ululu and Victorian. In the doubtful column may be found Calf Roper, Dr. Wilson, Gold Rush, Hatrick, Jim Dandy, Vanity, Wirt G. Bowman and Satin Spar. Vanity is listed with the doubtful starters only through a reported injury. It is said the horse stepped on a stone Sunday and bruised a hoof. Results:

First race, five and one-half furlongs—Flat Foot (Parmlee,) won; Rhapsody Ann (Cleverley,) second; Singing Cricket (Trivett,) third. Time, 1:08 4-5.

Second race, five and one-half furlongs—Hit The Deck (Redding,) won; Daphne Dale (Riley,) second; Little Boy Blue (Romano,) third. Time, 1:08 1-5.

Third race, one and one-eighth miles—Walpole (Cox,) won; Muriel H. (Moran,) second; Shasta Falls (Mulrooney,) third. Time, 1:57 2-5.

Fourth race, four furlongs—Peace Princess (Catrone,) won; Mi Concha (Collitelli,) second; New Mama (Parmlee,) third. Time, 0:49.

Fifth race, six furlongs—Brad (Moran,) won; Simony (Cox,) second; Glad Effort (Redding,) third. Time, 1:13.

Sixth race, one and one-sixteenth miles—Seth's Hope (Allen,) won; Battle Ax (Redding,) second; Fire Brigade (Romano,) third. Time, 1:46 2-5.

Seventh race, one and one-sixteenth miles—Lamkin (Depase,) won; Mint Toddy (Cleverley,) second; Patuxant (Moran,) third. Time, 1:47 4-5.

Eighth race, one and one-eighth miles—Ray (Callahan,) won; Little Man (Redding,) second; Sylvanus (Romano,) third. Time, 1:57.

DADO TO BATTLE PASADENA VICTOR

Speedy Dado, recent conqueror of Young Sport at Pasadena, will return to the arena some time within the next three weeks. Promoter Morrie Cohan announced yesterday. Dado signed to meet the winner of the Johnny Jordan-Ernie Hood bout scheduled for tomorrow night. Dado conquered Sport in one of the best fights Cohan ever staged, while four knockouts featured the preliminary encounters.

NEW YORK IN DRASTIC ACTION TO CURB EPIDEMIC OF FOULS

NEW YORK, March 18. (AP)—Opening vigorous warfare on foul fighting, the New York State Athletic Commission decided today that every boxer under its jurisdiction who commits a foul shall be suspended automatically for two months for the first offense, four months for the second, six months for the third and shall be barred permanently after four offenses. The new rule is effective immediately. Under the New York State rules boxers who lose on a foul are paid only for the rounds they complete. It has further decided that any boxer licensed in this State who competes elsewhere against a man under suspension here for fouling shall be suspended himself.

As a further attempt to curb the foul epidemic, the commission emphasized the fact that a referee has the power to decide immediately whether a foul has been committed without stopping the fight to find out. The commission acted as drastically as possible in the only holdover foul cases before it today, suspending Larry Johnson, a Chicago negro, and Henry Lamar of Washington thirty days apiece for fouls. Johnson, who sank Maxey Rosenbloom on the 10th inst. with a blow, forfeited $3868 of his $9672 purse on the round basis and Lamar, who fouled Joe Bonovic in the first round on the same card, received only $125 of a $1250 guarantee.

ANGELITA TIES MARIN IN KING OF SPAIN CUP RACE

supposed to be to the eastern boat's liking. Ted Conant, the man who sailed the Babe, Owen Churchill's sloop, to a victory last March, again handled the Angelita in splendid fashion to cop an early lead on the Marin, the Babe and the Monidah and held it throughout the entire afternoon.

The Marin at one time looked as though she might overhaul the Angelita. That was at the windward buoy on the second time around, but Conant got the cup defender around first and he lammed it down ahead of the Marin to hold his lead. Hoyt tried to get his sloop in position to blanket the Angelita, but Conant was not to be caught napping, keeping his boat far enough away from the Marin to win the race by a comfortable margin.

The Angelita crossed the finish line about two minutes ahead of the Marin. Owen Churchill sailing his sloop Babe, took third place. The Babe represents the Catalina Island Yacht Club this year. She won the King of Spain Trophy last March, but was not named as the defender this year. The Monidah of San Francisco, handled by Claire Neuner, was again in fourth place today. She has no chance to win the trophy, neither has the Babe for that matter, barring an accident, as she has finished third three days in a row.

The Angelita and the Marin have 14 1-2 points apiece to date. As related above, tomorrow's race will decide the issue between the two boats. If the wind picks up as it promises to, it will be just too bad for the Marin, as she is a light-weather boat. The Marin is flying the colors of the Manhasset Bay Yacht Club of New York City.

C. L. Farrand's Robin of the Larchmont Yacht Club of New York won the day's series in the R boat class. Matt Walsh sent O. K. Hunsaker's Pirate to second place with Charles D. Wiman's Alert IV of New York taking third. The Alert IV has a lead in this series and is the favorite to retain the Don Lee Trophy, which she won last March. The Robin, the other eastern boat in this event, has a good chance because of her good sailing the last two days, the experts contend. She did not start the first day because of trouble with her sails. She won yesterday's and today's races in very handy fashion, however. Farrand is handling the boat himself. That old sea-dog, Matt Walsh, may upset the dope on the eastern boats if he can land the Pirate in first place tomorrow. Matt did a nice job with the Pirate today in bringing her in behind the winning boat. She is third in the point total.

The six-meter class provided the big upset of the day. Owen Dresden, sailing the Clio, the boat that has been last every day of the regatta, came home in front of the entire field to cop that event for the afternoon. Dresden bought this sloop at Santa Barbara last year. He had never sailed anything but skmimers and star boats until he purchased the Clio. He was not considered in the running of the six-meter division but when his little sloop bounced home in front today the Coast Guard, the committee boat and everybody else in the harbor seemed to be giving him a hand.

San Francisco, however, seems to have the Ben R. Myer trophy for the sixes cinched again. The Ayayay took second to the Clio today and the Maybe took third. Stuart Haldorn, skipper of the Ayayay, and Arthur Rousseau handled the Maybe. The Maybe seems to have a firm hold on the prize as she has won two firsts and one third place to date. If she maintains her stride tomorrow she can't be kept out of the money.

Tommy Lee's new sloop Caprice finished fourth in this class.

MANY YACHTS TO COME HERE

NEWPORT BEACH, March 18.—The greatest fleet of pleasure boats that has ever been located at one port on the west coast of North America is expected to be at Newport Harbor for the annual regattas of the Pacific Coast Yachting Association and the Southern California Yachting Association August 4 to 10, it is announced by Dr. Albert Soiland of Los Angeles, senior admiral of the staff of the Pacific Coast Yachting Association. He said that Pacific yachting leaders are looking forward to the event in great anticipation.

The Southern California regatta came to this harbor in 1922 and 1926, and 1930, completes the four-year cycle. This is the first time that both the Southern California and Pacific regattas have come to this Orange county port. Dr. Soiland commends J. A. Beek, staff commander of the Southern California association, for his efforts in sponsoring the two regattas.

Improvements of widening and deepening the entrance to the harbor are expected to be completed in time for the regattas, City Engineer Patterson stated.

WOOD LEAVES FOR EASTERN NET PLAY

Sidney Wood, Jr., of Pasadena, who was named on the Davis Cup trial list early this year, left for New York yesterday where he is planning to practice constantly. Wood may go on to Europe and remain there for school work, but most likely will journey to Florida to participate in the Pinehurst and other classics in which Davis Cup candidates will perform. A definite date for the trials has not yet been named.

BAKER NEW TROJAN FOOTBALL MANAGER

Sammy Baker, who has been on the Trojan student managerial staff for the past two years, was yesterday announced as the new University of Southern California football manager. Baker will succeed Manager Bill McClung at once, his first duties being to get all in readiness for spring football practice at S. C.

ANOTHER ROUND IN CUP PLAY ON TAP

Another round of Los Angeles Cup tie soccer football games will be played at Loyola Field Sunday with the feature game at 3 p.m., bringing the Vikings against the L.A.A.C. Mercuries.

The Sons of St. George, inspired after their 3-to-0 victory over Hollywood, play the Pasadena A.C.C. team in the opener Sunday. Hollywood goes to San Francisco for a quarter-final State cup game with the Olympic Club eleven.

HOTEL WILL STAGE COURT TOURNAMENT

The Raymond Hotel in Pasadena will stage an invitational tennis tournament either this or next week-end, it was announced yesterday by Dick Charnock, in charge of the event. Only the most prominent of Southland netters will be extended invitations which include Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, Midge Gladman, Helen Marlowe, Mary Greef, Art Kussman, Lester Stoefen, Ben Gorchakoff, Jack De Lara and others. A definite date will be made public shortly.

STOEFEN, CULLY HEAD FOR NORTH

Lester Stoefen and Henry Cully, two very prominent Southern California tennis stars, left the city today for Burlingame, where the duo will take part in the invitational men's doubles tournament at the Burlingame Country Club. The event takes place this Saturday and Sunday. Bob Sellars and Neil Brown, Southwest champions, are among the favorites in the annual classic.

JACKIE FIELDS SIGNS TO FIGHT FREEMAN

CLEVELAND, March 18. (AP)—Jackie Fields, world's welterweight champion, has been signed to fight Tommy Freeman of Erie twelve rounds here April 8, next, Marty Cohen, Cleveland promoter, announced tonight. It will be a non-title bout, each boxer weighing 148 to 150 pounds.

TRAINING CAMP GOSSIP

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18. (AP)—Pounding Jess Petty, big left-hander, for six runs in the second inning and two more tallies in the third, the San Francisco Missions of the Coast League defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 8-5, in an exhibition game here today. The National League squad outhit the locals, but the blows were kept well scattered by the trio of Mission moundsmen who worked. Suhr, first baseman, and Bartell, shortstop of the Pirates, each hit safely three out of four times at bat as did Burns, first sacker, and Hufft, left fielder of the Missions. Burns, former big-league star, hit two home runs, while Hufft and Clarke, Pittsburgh third baseman, each got a four-base blow.

Score:

Pittsburgh	5	12	1
Missions	8	11	1

SERVICE PLAYERS GIVEN RELEASE

SAN CLEMENTE (Cal.) March 18. (AP)—W. Zachary, left-handed first baseman from the Presidio, San Francisco, and Shorty Scott, southpaw pitcher from the San Diego marine base, were released unconditionally by Manager Ernie Johnson of the Seattle baseball club today.

In a practice game between chosen teams, Manager Johnson's nine lost a long-distance hitting affair to Charley Borreani's squad by 7 to 4. Bill Lawrence poled out a home run, Louis Almada got a triple and a single, and Karl Krause connected for a double and single.

Both teams looked good defensively.

DODGERS WIN OVER BROWNS

WEST PALM BEACH (Fla.) March 18. (AP)—The Brooklyn Robins won a well pitched exhibition game from the St. Louis Browns here today, 2 to 0. The Robins were the first major-league club the Browns have faced this year. Holsouser was charged with the defeat, while Moss was credited with the victory.

Score:

Brooklyn	000 000 020	2	5 3
St. Louis	000 001 000	1	6 1

Luque, Dudley, Moss and Deberry; Stewart, Holshouser and Ferrell, Manion.

SMEAD JOLLEY REPORTS AT CAMP

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) March 18. (AP)—With rain again stopping an exhibition game with the New York Giants, the White Sox today welcomed to their midst Smead Jolley, the $50,000 outfielder who has finally wandered into camp.

MAJORS ANGLING FOR GOSLIN AND SPENCER

BILOXI (Miss.) March 18. (AP)—Although President Griffith of the Washington Senators refused to comment, reports circulated today that two other major-league clubs were angling for "Goose" Goslin, star outfielder, and Roy Spencer, catcher, who have been holdouts so far.

The clubs mentioned were Cleveland and Detroit. The Indians were said to be bankering for Spencer's services, while Bucky Harris was understood to want the slugging "Goose" for the Tigers.

ARLETT DRIVES IN WINNING RUN

FRESNO, March 18. (AP)—The Oaks' varsity had a tough time administering a trouncing to their frosh here today, and it took the lusty bat of Buzz Arlett in the final inning to drive in the winning run, giving the Oaks a 3-to-2 victory. The game saw Edwin Arlett, son of "Pop" Arlett, former Oak star, do his first bit of pitching for the Oaks.

Pitcher Jim Edwards is due here Thursday from his home in Pontotoc, Miss., and has agreed to sign a contract, which will cut the Oaks' holdout list to a pair, Lombardi and Fenton.

Today's workout was a long one, with batting and field practice from 10 o'clock until 1 o'clock, and a nine-inning game thereafter.

BRIX SHATTERS RECORD

body over the bar at a height of 5ft. 1-4in. Allen Thomas of the Pennsylvania A. C., Philadelphia, and Al Bates, Meadowbrook A. C., Philadelphia, tied for second at 4ft. 11in., while Hans Bedberg gave the Illinois A. C. fourth place with a leap of 4ft. 10in.

In time somewhat slower than has been made in previous championships, Hans Assert of New York won the two-mile steeplechase title and Michael Pecora, New York, carried off the one-mile walk event.

Chet Bowman, former Syracuse University track and football flash, won the national 60-yard sprinting championship, beating out young Ira Singer of New York, a student at Ohio State University, in a thrilling finish.

The sturdy Bowman streaked down the stretch in 6.4s., holding a lead against Singer's great closing rush. John MacDonald of Yale was third. Bowman last won this championship four years ago.

Lee Sentman, University of Illinois hurdling sensation, equaled the accepted world indoor record of 8.6s. in capturing the 70-yard high-hurdles crown. Making his New York debut, he climaxed a dazzling series of recent timber-topping exploits to dethrone Monty Wells, Boston A.A. veteran, who finished second in the final, a yard back.

Switzerland's great Olympic veteran, Dr. Paul Martin, won the national 1000-yard championship. He finished three yards ahead of Ray Conger of the Illinois A.C., the defending title-holder.

Martin swept to the fore a lap and a half from home after dogging the slender Conger who had set the pace from the start, outlasted his old rival in the drive for the tape and set a new record for this championship meet of 2:12 6-10s. James Kelly of Georgetown was third and Charles Thompson of New York, fourth.

Bob Orlovich, former joint holder of the Big Ten half-mile title with his teammate, Harold White, finished last behind George Bullwinkle of City College of New York. White did not compete although he had been entered.

STURDY RETAINS TITLE

In a great pole-vaulting duel with Tommy Warne of Northwestern University, Fred Sturdy, former Yale ace now competing for the Los Angeles A. C., won the event after both had cleared 13ft. 9in. Sturdy thus retained his title.

On a second attempt at the same height to break the tie, Sturdy succeeded and Warne failed, placing second. Verne McDermott, University of Illinois, won third place on a vault off after tying with Bill Cone of Yale at 13ft. McDermott's final effort was 13ft. 2in.

Phil Edwards, negro internationalist, clung to his 600-yard title, beating out Eddie Roll, Newark A.C.; Eddie Blake, Boston A.A., and Fred Pumphrey, New York University, in that order in 1m. 13.6s.

The 300-yard championship went to John Lewis, Detroit City College negro, who was a member of the last Olympic team, after Charley Engle of Yale, the defending title-holder, had been eliminated in a semifinal. Lewis won in 32.2s. with Sherwood Smith of Yale second, and Richard Griffith, New York A.C., third.

McCLUSKEY WINNER

Joe McCluskey, 18-year-old Fordham University freshman from South Manchester, Ct., ascended the championship heights in the two-mile run in sensational style.

McCluskey, who already holds the national junior indoor two-mile and the intercollegiate freshman cross-country titles, sprinted throughout the closing quarter-mile to win by 100 feet from Orson Beaman, old Cornell athlete now running for the New York A.C. Harold Manning of the University of Wichita, national outdoor one-mile champion, was third. McCluskey finished in 9m. 30.8s.

Anton Burk of the Illinois Athletic Club won the running high jump championship with a leap of 6ft. 2in., while George Spitz, Flushing (N. Y.) high school star, finished third, although clearing 6ft. 3in.

Spitz made the best jump of the evening, on a jump-off after tying at 6ft. with Jim Stafford, one-armed athlete from Syracuse, and Walter O'Connor of Columbia.

O'Connor, a joint holder of the eastern intercollegiate title, took second, being the only one of the three to clear 6ft. on the attempt to break the tie.

WERNER KEEPS CROWN

Bill Werner of New York kept his standing broad jump crown and New York University placed its varsity and freshman teams, respectively, first and second, ahead of the Boston Athletic Association, and the Illinois Athletic Club in the one and seven-eighths miles medley relay, won in 7m. 40s.

Panthers Seek Six More Games

California Christian College has lined up a schedule of twenty-three baseball games, and is looking for six more games to be played during May. Coach Ralph Welch's Panther nine has already defeated the teams of U.S.C. Dentals (6-2,) Compton Junior College (9-3,) L. A. Junior College (2-1, 8-1,) and dropped but one game to Occidental (5-4.)

Schedule follows:

March 17—Caltech, there.

All local games will be played on the campus, 766 North Vermont avenue.

Mortensen Ill from Old Hurt

An old football injury, aggravated by a new strain, is handicapping Jesse Mortensen, track captain and javelin hurling star at the University of Southern California. Mortensen injured his right shoulder in football scrimmage last fall, but during the basketball season, during which he was a leading factor in Southern California's winning of the Coast Conference championship, the injury appeared to have almost healed.

However, in the recent interclass meet, Mortensen uncorked a heave of 195 feet on his first throw and tore a ligament in the sore shoulder. According to Trainer Neal Miller, it is expected that he will be in shape for the Stanford meet here April 12, next, and possibly for the California meet at Berkeley, the 29th inst., but it is believed that his present lack of practice will keep him from reaching his real form for some time.

WEIGHT LIFTERS IN QUEST OF RECORDS

Los Angeles Athletic Club weight lifters will seek new world and American records when they hold a tournament in the club weight-lifting rooms at 6:30 o'clock this evening.

Commissioner Jere Kingsbury has announced a varied program of events consisting of attempts for new marks as well as contests between the different club strong men.

The following will compete: Philip Greco, Frank McCann, Mario Cerretani, Nathan McCann, Leonard Welte, Maurice Aroff, Sam Ormont, Jere Kingsbury and Otto Laube.

SAGEHENS GO TO SAN DIEGO

Pomona Track Team Due to Invade South

CLAREMONT, March 18.—After an enforced lay-off of almost a week, Coach Robert E. Strehle and his Sagehen track team started work again this afternoon. Strehle let his men off rather easy today as most of them were a bit stiff after the long siege of inaction that Jupiter E. Pluvius forced on the boys.

Last Saturday's meet with Redlands and Whittier, which was postponed, will in all probability be held soon after the first of April. Coach Strehle stated today that he saw no possibility of sandwiching in a date before that time.

The Sagehen team journeys south this week to engage the San Diego State outfit in a dual meet which gives every indication of being one of the most exciting to be held in the Southland this year. The two teams are very evenly matched with a slight edge in favor of the athletes from the borderland. Coach Peterson of the Aztecs has a powerful outfit this year, which is largely made up of sophomores, who, as freshmen last year, ran off with the Southern Conference frosh meet by a goodly margin.

The Sagehens will be severely handicapped Saturday by the loss of Henry Cobb, star quarter-miler, who left for the East last Sunday. Cobb will be gone for about ten days. Without Cobb, the Pomona men haven't the slightest chance of annexing the relay and it is not in the least improbable that the meet may resolve itself down to the last event. San Diego is capable of putting a mighty fast relay quartet on the track.

A great deal depends on the performance of Harvey Bear and Ernie Stromsen, two Pomona men, who have been laid up with sickness for some time. If these two men can perform up to their usual standard the Sagehens have a very good chance of annexing the honors.

Santa Monica Trips Venice

In a very closely contested meet which was featured by some excellent times and distances, the Santa Monica track and field team nosed out the Venice tracksters by the score of 61½ to 51½, in a meet held yesterday on the Gondoliers' cinderpath.

The Venice B and C teams easily downed the visitors by the scores of 67½ to 36½ and 53 to 24, respectively.

BROWN GETS SPOT AT MAIN STREET

Ray Brown has replaced Mickey Shea as the opponent of Sandy Garrison Casanova in next Saturday night's main event at the Main-street Athletic Club, Carlo Curtis announced yesterday. Brown is a Texan who claims to have punched the middleweight situation full of holes in the Lone Star State. Dave Rodriguez, new Mexican welterweight, who has kayoed two opponents at the Main-street club, recently, faces Ted Thompson in the semi-wind-up next Saturday night. Four other bouts will complete the thirty-round program.

JOHNNY DOEG WINS AT FLORIDA NETS

ST. AUGUSTINE (Fla.) March 18. (AP)—John Doeg, Santa Monica, Cal., advanced today into the semi-finals of the Southeastern tennis championship, defeating Kenneth Stewart, Jacksonville, 6-1, 6-1.

Tomorrow Doeg will meet Emmett Pare, national clay court singles champion, in the semifinal match. Pare today eliminated Lorimer Blitch, former Florida State title-holder, 6-1; 6-0.

Golf Needs Simplifying

BY SOL METZGER

Golf needs simplifying. Details have too often clouded the main issue. To this end it is often wise to return to the methods of the old masters. There is Vardon, for example, whose record will always stand the test of time unless the future stars out-Jones Bobby himself.

Harry's idea of the golf swing is simple. It's an arm swing entirely, an arm swing that automatically whips the clubhead on through and out toward the hole.

Details, such as the pivot, footwork, wrists cocking and so on take care of themselves according to this fine old player. So we'll take his method as a pattern these next few weeks and look into it in the hope that many of the secrets of this perplexing problem of lowering one's score will become more clear.

Putting is half the game. Good putters score low. Sol Metzger has prepared an illustrated leaflet on "The Art of Putting," which he will gladly send any reader free of charge. Address Sol Metzger, in care of The Times, and inclose self-addressed, stamped envelope.

CHARLES FAIRBANKS TO SIZE BRITISH OPEN

Charles Fairbanks of the Midwick Country Club will join H. P. Perrin and Frank Stevens, Jr., in a pilgrimage to Europe this spring for the British open and amateur championships. Fairbanks is one of the Southland's up-and-coming young golfers. Under the coaching of Fred Morrison, Midwick pro, Fairbanks has been improving at a rapid pace, and is now playing to a 6 handicap.

SEAVALL PROMOTED AT CALIFORNIA CLUB

Eric Seavall has been named assistant professional at the California Country Club. The announcement was made yesterday by Tom Stevens, club pro. Seavall succeeds George Clark, who recently accepted the position of professional at the Hillcrest Country Club of Kansas City.

Young Seavall, who is only 23 years of age, came out from the Midwest in 1928 to play through the open tournaments and decided to make his home here.

Seavall was associated with Stevens at Interlachen, home club of Jimmy Johnston, national amateur champion.

Until his appointment as assistant pro, Seavall has held the position of caddiemaster at California.

DOWELL WINS SWEEPSTAKES AT CALIFORNIA

B. F. Dowell won the seven-day sweepstakes recently completed at the California Country Club with a score of 83-24-64. Hugh Sampson reports that a field of more than eighty played in the event.

JOE DUNDEE KAYOED BY TED GOODRICH

ATLANTA (Ga.) March 18. (AP)—Ted Goodrich, young Atlanta welterweight, tonight scored a technical knockout over Joe Dundee of Baltimore, former world's welterweight champion, in the second round of a scheduled ten-round bout.

The former champion was out on his feet after taking terrific punishment, which saw him down for two long counts before the referee stopped the contest and awarded the verdict to Goodrich.

PETER JACKSON WINNER

FRESNO, March 18. (AP)—Young Peter Jackson of Los Angeles won a ten-round decision from Kid Ponce of Los Angeles while Dynamite Jackson, Los Angeles negro heavyweight, scored a technical knockout over Dewey Massey of Sacramento in the pair of main events on the Sun-Maid Club card here tonight.

OXY NINE PLAYS BANKERS

Coach Bill Anderson's Oxy sluggers face the California Bank nine this afternoon on the Tiger diamond in a return game. Oxy won the first encounter, 6-2, and with De Hoog on the mound are favored to repeat with another victory.

GARLAND TAKES TO PRESIDE

Olympic Games Head Has Work to Do

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 18. (Exclusive)—Mr. and Mrs. William Garland of Los Angeles, who have been in Washington for several days, left for New York last night and expect to leave there for Los Angeles next Friday. Timothy Garland, chairman of the Olympic Games commission for the Los Angeles, had a long conference with President Hoover and explained to him in detail the work now under way to entertain the athletes of the world in Southern California that year.

He explained how the city of Los Angeles was building a stadium larger and the plans for the yachting and other events now being arranged. He said that President Hoover had invited all countries representing the Olympic games to which they would go to Berlin next year to arrange for the largest possible attendance of foreign athletes and officials in any of the Olympic games and expects that all steamship and railroads will co-operate to the fullest extent with those officially connected with the games to meet the lowest possible rates for transportation for the participants. Mr. Garland said that of the 1,500 athletes who would be determined at the Olympic games that he expects a number of world interest in the 100-meter dash and the Games.

This afternoon President Hoover and Mrs. Hoover had as their guests at luncheon former Justice Joseph McKenna and Mrs. McKenna, Mrs. Bledsoe, Mrs. Bledsoe's daughter. They arrived here a few Mickey Riley, diving champion, and Coach Fred Cady of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, will leave tonight for Cambridge, Mass., where Riley has been invited to perform in an exhibition event that will officially open Harvard's new $250,000 indoor swimming pool the 26th inst. After this affair, Riley will trek to Chicago where he will compete in the annual men's indoor championships, under the colors of the S. C. Trojan frosh. He will be joined by Buster Crabbe, who will swim unattached, and Johnny Riley and Dutch Smith, L.A.A.C. divers.

Select Jaysee Track Team to Tackle Bears

ONTARIO, March 18.—Twenty-five athletes from Southern California junior colleges were chosen by tryouts at Chaffey yesterday afternoon to meet the University of California track team at Berkeley this Saturday.

Two unofficial conference marks were made by Jefferson and Von Brayman of the Compton jaysee squad. At 12ft. 11in. Jefferson won the pole vault, while his team-mate took the javelin at 172ft. 11in. Neither mark will be officially recognized as the meet was only a tryout and not a regular affair.

Glendale qualified Treharne in the 100 and 220. Christmas, 440; Gardner, 880; Moody, high jump; Beatty, broad jump; Gilman, high hurdles.

Long Beach will send Barnes for sprints, Ballou, broad jump; Forbes, weights; Hayden, 440.

Placsek, 440; Sorrensen, weights; Ashcraft, two mile, and Ellwitz, low hurdles, will represent Los Angeles jaysee.

Fullerton sends Delvy in both sprints and Massey in the 880. Minch in the mile, Bateman in discus, Von Brayman in the javelin.

Jefferson in the pole vault, and Crawford in the high hurdles qualified from Compton.

Pasadena's lone entry will be Abersold, who won the two-mile. Wood for the quarter-mile and Ferguson for the broad jump will be from Riverside. Donahue of Santa Ana, will run the mile.

At the inter-gymnastic meet held by the cadets of the Black-Foxe Military Institute in their gymnasium last night, Benton Van Dien won first place in ten out of eleven events, running up a score of 50 points.

HUNTINGTON BEACH OVAL MEET SCENE

Prep Tracksters Gather Saturday for Southern Counties Event

The ninth annual southern counties track meet will be held Saturday afternoon at Huntington Beach. This has been a regular event for high schools south of Los Angeles for the past eight years. The meet has grown in size and achievement until it is now second only to the Southern California meet held annually in Los Angeles.

The following schools have all ready mailed in entry blanks, Santa Ana, Chaffey Union, Redlands, Oceanside, Hemet, Excelsior, Harvard Military Academy, Los Angeles, Orange, Brea, Anaheim, Tustin, Garden Grove, Elsinore and Huntington Beach. Entries are expected from at least a half-dozen other Southern California preps, including San Diego, Southern California and State champions.

One of the features of this year's meet will be the meeting of Capt. Jimmie Wilson of San Diego, if he enters, and Capt. Alvin Koenig of Huntington Beach. Wilson is State champion in both the 100 and 220. Koenig "took" Wilson in both races at the southern counties meet last year, running the 100 in 9 4-5s. and the 220 in 22s. flat. Koenig has been "hot" in all his races so far this year, and is out to repeat his last year's performance.

The meet is to be held on the Huntington Beach High School athletic field and the first event is 1 o'clock sharp.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By Paul Lowry

ALL-TIME THORPE

WHAT'S become of Jim Thorpe, the greatest all-American football player and the hero of the Olympic Games in 1912?

Jim answered the question himself when he walked into the sports sanctum the other night.

"I'm working with the paint crew for the Standard Oil at Hawthorne," he said. "Yep, had to go to work at most anything. Can't keep the wife and the kids in food on ancient glory."

Thorpe was at Del Monte during the national amateur golf championship last summer, and was promised a job in the north—some sort of a ranger proposition at $75 per month.

"Wonder what they think a married man can live on," observed the famous Carlisle Indian. I came south and took some odd jobs in the pictures. They weren't steady, so I grabbed for real work. And I'm getting hard as a rock on this job.

"I'm 42, but I can still play football, and I'll be 'raring to go when the pro season opens next fall."

Although football gained him greatest fame (Pop Warner rates Thorpe as the outstanding player of the ages) Jim probably received more notoriety over his victories in the pentathlon and decathlon in the Olympic Games of 1912 than anything else.

After being hailed as a king abroad he was stripped of his medals and his cups by the A.A.U. on return home because he had played semiprofessional baseball.

At Stockholm he had demonstrated his superiority in no uncertain terms. He captured the pentathlon by winning first in the broad jump, discus, 200-meter dash, 1500-meter run and third in the javelin. He won the decathlon by finishing first in the shot, high jump, 110-meter hurdles, discus and the 1500-meter run; second in the 100-meter dash; third in the javelin and 400-meter run; third in the pole and fourth in the broad.

Truly, the world's greatest competitive athlete.

CAMPBELL AND EMANUEL

WELL, what do you think of this one?

Armand Emanuel to beat Jimmy Maloney of Boston and Frankie Campbell to knock over some respectable heavyweight with the winners meeting at Wrigley Field in a big open-air match.

This is the program as outlined by Charles (Pop) Emanuel, father-manager of Armand, and he'd like to know the general opinion about the line-up.

Armand Emanuel lost by a technical knockout to Maloney in Boston recently—his last bout before returning to the Coast. Armand's father insists it was a foul punch that laid his boy low, that he spent twenty-four hours in the hospital as a result.

Pop Emanuel believes Maloney would be a hot shot here. He might be because he's a heavyweight—not because of his record. He's one of those up-and-down heavyweights—mostly down. He was stopped by Jack Sharkey, Tom Heeney, Johnny Risko and George Godfrey in early rounds.

He reversed the decision over Heeney and won in ten rounds last year, but that is about the only bright spot on his record in 1929.

Maloney received $10,000 for boxing Moise Bouquillon of France in one of the preliminaries to the Sharkey-Scott fight at Miami, and wants $7500 guarantee for an appearance here.

Pop Emanuel says his boy would like nothing better than to beat Maloney locally and then take on Frankie Campbell.

According to Pop the Campbell punch means nothing to Armand—nor does Pop's former friendship for Tom Maloney, who handles Campbell at the current writing. Last year Campbell was a first lieutenant in the Emanuel camp. But business is business and the Emanuels and Campbell have come to the parting of the ways. So 'tis said.

A LONG TRAIL

THEY'RE talking up a bout between Jackie Fields and Jimmy McLarnin for the welterweight championship at New York this summer.

This is only the start. There'll be plenty of arguments before this bout is ever signed and sealed.

McLarnin is the drawing card, and his manager, Pop Foster, will want just as much money for Jimmy as the champion receives.

That will bring a bitter rejoinder by Rooney. And the arguments ing will start from there.

And then there will be a reminder by Pop that his boy Jimmy once flattened Fields in a Los Angeles ring.

That will bring a bitter rejoinder by Rooney. An dthe arguments will start all over again. It will be a hot time for all concerned.

"MODIFIED MURDER"

"I SEE where Carnera is matched with Trafton, the fellow who beat beat 'Whataman' Shires," writes Monroe Ponedil. "How about a bout between 'the great one' and Carnera. It's certainly too bad he retired, as the gate receipts would probably be nothing to 'sneeze' at.

"P.S.—The new name for the manly art of self-defense, (is the 'manly art of modified murder.'"

Eagle Rock Is Meet Winner

The Eagle Rock track and field athletes scored a 66-to-38 victory over the Owensmouth runners yesterday, in a meet held on the winners' oval. Times and distances were very poor due to the soggy track and pits. O'Neal of Eagle Rock captured first place in the 100, 220 and broad jump, to score 15 points toward his team's total.

Owensmouth won the B meet by the close score of 48½ to 46½, and the C meet by a margin of 45 to 32.

CLUBITE, SHELL PUCKMEN TANGLE

Claiming that he has changed the style of attack used by his Arrowhead Valley Club pucksters and that the team will completely bewilder the defense of the Shell Oilers, Dave Patrick yesterday predicted a victory for his team in tomorrow night's game at the Palaisade Glace.

Bell Runners in Track Win

The Bell High School track and field team won a four-cornered meet from Washington, Narbonne and Banning, yesterday on the Banning oval. The scores were Bell, 56; Washington, 39½; Banning, 20; Narbonne 11½.

Narbonne won the B-team meet with 35 points, Bell finished a close second with 32½, followed by Washington with 19½. Banning scored 4 points in taking fourth place.

The summary:

TRAPSHOOT SCHEDULED

A trapshoot sponsored by the Los Angeles chapter of the League of America will be held Sunday, March 23, in Tujunga Canyon. Practically all the chapters in Southern California have announced their intentions of entering the shoot. The local team will be composed of Maj. R. Slater, Capt. A. H. Hardy, E. Henes, B. Lassiter and Miss E. Adams. Capt. Hardy will give an exhibition of expert shooting as a special event.

JUNIOR OLYMPIC MEETS BILLED

Invitational Affair Saturday at El Monte

Last Year's Champions Show at Glendale

Vane Baker's Injured Arm Healing Rapidly

BY BRAVEN DYER

This promises to be rather a busy week in Junior Olympic Games circles what with two meets slated for the week-end and informal competition being engaged in by all contestants throughout Southern California.

El Monte is holding an invitational meet Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, the affair being staged by El Monte coaches in collaboration with George Phelps, student executive, who is putting in a lot of hard work on the program. Phelps reports that approximately 200 boys from nearby schools will take part in the morning's schedule.

At the same hour Saturday Glendale will be the scene of an exhibition meet featuring three of last year's champions, namely Bob San Jose, Fernando Ramos and Jerry Deal. The event is being staged with the expectation of stimulating interest among Glendale youngsters who have not had much experience in Junior Olympic Games competition.

Due to an injured arm, Vane Baker, fourth of the champions, will be unable to appear. Vane broke his right wrist several weeks ago, but the injured member is coming along nicely, according to Dr. Rough, official physician for the Junior Olympic Games.

Antonio Arriola, student executive for Rockwood school of Calexico, writes in that forty youngsters are hard at work on five Junior Olympic Games events. "When the hotter weather comes the boys will make some pretty good marks," was Antonio's closing word.

Shandon, in San Luis Obispo county, will be heard from again this year, in the estimation of Hollis Brown, student executive. Last year this town produced young Tucker, who was junior champion of north San Luis Obispo county. The year before Faye Ramsey won similar honors in the senior division.

June Reynolds student executive for La Crescenta, reports that youngsters of his school are training diligently, not only in active physical exercise, but also in the matter of diet, which is an important factor in all branches of athletics.

"One of my boys is shooting 100 baskets a day," states young Reynolds.

Boys of James A. Foshay Junior High School are working out three days weekly, according to word from Saburo Tami, student executive. Coach Morgan spends these nights training the seventy-five youngsters enrolled and great things are expected of the squad.

Boys who take part in the Junior Olympic Games get sound training which stands them in good stead later on. Fernando Ramos, Southern California senior champion last year, is now a member of the Jefferson High School track team. Ramos is broad jumping close to 21ft. and also runs a fast lap on the Jeff relay team.

OXY NINE WINS FROM PASADENA JAYSEES

Coach Bill Anderson's Occidental College baseball team added another victory to their list yesterday by beating the Pasadena Junior College nine, 9-7. The game was played at Patterson Field. Al DeHoag, the Tigers' star southpaw, allowed the Jaysee hitters eight hits, while he was getting three hits out of four trips to the platter himself. One of DeHoag's blows was good for three bases.

Nathan, also of the Tigers, connected for three blows, while Sawyer of Pasadena also got three singles.

UNION, GILMORE ICE TEAMS PLAY

Waging ice warfare to a finish, the Union Oil Pirates and Gilmore Lions will meet in the second game of their Southern California amateur ice hockey league championship play-off at the Winter Garden Ice Palace tonight. Living up to their reputation for being a Gilmore nemesis, the speedy hard-checking Unions sneaked over a 3-to-2 victory in the opening game last week and took the lead in the race to decide which team is to represent this section in the North American amateur championship series to be played with the Vancouver Ballards here next month.

CITRUS NINE LOSES

South Pasadena baseball nine took a 11-3 decision over the Citrus Union horsehiders yesterday afternoon at Citrus. Wetzel of the Tigers, pitched a good game, allowing the losers only four hits.

SCHULTZ JOINS L.A.A.C. NINE

Dick Schultz, former U. S. C. pitcher, has joined the L. A. A. C. ball team and will hurl for the Mercuries against the Bank of Italy nine at the Union Pacific field Saturday.

Race Starter Hurt in Fall

Fred Wagner, dean of auto racing starters, faced danger on all the leading speedways of the country and came out without a scratch, but last week on his Covina ranch he fell from a tree and broke two ribs. This bit of news was being discussed in local auto racing circles yesterday when it was feared that "Wag" would not be on hand next Sunday to start the fourteen speed kings on their way in the 100-lap spring inaugural race at the American Legion Speedway.

However, Wagner reported to local A.A.A. officials that he has had the injured ribs bandaged tightly and will be back at his old flag-waving duties this week.
